PREFACE.

The twenty-fourth number of the METROPOLITAN CATHOLIC ALMANAC AND LAITY'S DIRECTORY is here presented to the public, with the usual information respecting the actual state of the Church in this country. Reports on this subject were received from all the dioceses of the Union, except three: in regard to these, the publishers had no alternative but to reprint the statements of preceding years. Information communicated too late for insertion in the proper place, has been noted in the Corrections and Additions.

The publishers respectfully call attention to the following observations:

1. It is of the utmost importance that all the reports should be communicated about the same time, say from 1st to 15th of October. Without this, the object of the Almanac, which is to exhibit an accurate account of the state of the Church at the time of its publication, cannot be attained. For this purpose, it is necessary that the work should pass rapidly through the press, and consequently that all the matter of its contents should be in hand. If the printing of the work were commenced at the above mentioned date, it could be issued about the middle of November, in time for distribution throughout the country before the commencement of the year. The publishers incur a considerable expense in the preparation of the work, and on account of the very low price at which it is sold, have to rely upon its extensive circulation in order to indemnify themselves for their investment in the undertaking. This circulation, however, is necessarily limited and attended with loss, unless the Almanac be published before the 1st of December. The reception of the reports in due time would enable them to accomplish more successfully the objects of the work, and also to issue a much larger edition for the more general information of the Catholic public in the United States. It will be observed, in glancing at the contents of the Almanac, that they are not presented in that regular order which is desirable; that is, the information regarding the different dioceses, is not furnished under the heads of the ecclesiastical provinces to which they belong. This arises from the inconvenience just mentioned, that the reports of the dioceses not being all in hand when the Almanac is put to press, those are necessarily printed first that have been first received. The delay in the publication of the work consequent upon that in the transmission of the reports, shuts out also much information, of a highly interesting character.

2. One of the most important parts of the Almanac is that which exhibits the names and addresses of the Rev. clergy, as serious inconveniences may arise from errors in this particular. Aware of this, the publishers have made every effort to present a correct catalogue; but, with the imperfect and often illegible statements received, they cannot flatter themselves that it is free from inaccuracy. The Rev. clergy, whose names or addresses are not correctly given, are respectfully requested to notify the publishers during the current year.

3. Various statistical tables, that would be very interesting to the public, have been omitted so far, in consequence of the imperfection of the reports. A more particular attention is requested in distinguishing places which have a church and those which have none; in stating the titles of the churches; the number of students in seminaries and colleges, the number of parochial schools in the diocess, and the number of pupils, the names of deceased clergymen and religious.

4. The subject of the Catholic population has also its share of interest, and might be satisfactorily disposed of, were the necessary data for an estimate communicated to the publishers of the Almanac. It is hoped that the observations on this point, page 309, will be found worthy of consideration.

The publishers tender their acknowledgments to the Most Rev. and Rt. Rev. Bishops and to the Rev. Clergy and others, for their assistance in the compilation of the Almanac, and respectfully request a continuance of their aid in the preparation of future numbers of the work.

CELESTIAL PHENOMENA.

ECLIPSES IN THE YEAR 1856.

There will be two Eclipses of the Sun, and two of the Moon, this year, the latter visible.

I. A total Eclipse of the Sun, April 5th, invisible.

II. A partial Eclipse of the Moon, April 20th, visible early in the morning. Magnitude, 8.544 digits on the northern limb. See the Table below.

III. An annular Eclipse of the Sun, Sept. 28th, invisible.

IV. A partial Eclipse of the Moon, October 13th, in the evening, visible. Magnitude, 11.976 digits on the southern limb. See the Table below. The beginning of the last Eclipse will not be visible in the United States, and the Moon will rise with the Eclipse upon it, at about 5 o'clock 15 m., being eclipsed about 3½ digits at that time.

NOTE. This table is arranged in order of longitude, and those places whose difference of longitude does not exceed one minute of time, are united. The end of the Eclipse of April 20th will occur, in most of the States, after the Moon sets, which will be about 5 o'clock 16 minutes in the morning. The Moon will set eclipsed, east of Pittsburg and Charleston.

RISING AND SETTING OF THE PLANETS.

These are not sensibly affected by the longitudes of places, but are very materially influenced by latitudes. When the hour is less than 6, it is in the morning; when greater than 6, it is in the evening.

COMMANDMENTS.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

1. "I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt not have strange gods before me. Thou shalt not make to thyself a graven thing, nor the likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, nor of those things that are in the waters under the earth. Thou shalt not adore them, nor serve them."
2. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."
3. "Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day."
4. "Honor thy father and thy mother."
5. "Thou shalt not kill."
6. "Thou shalt not commit adultery."
7. "Thou shalt not steal."
8. "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."
9. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife."
10. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's goods."

COMMANDMENTS OF THE CHURCH.

1. The Catholic church commands her children, on Sundays and holydays of obligation, to be present at the holy sacrifice of mass, to rest from servile works on those days, and to keep them holy.
2. She commands them to abstain from flesh on all days of fasting and abstinence; and on fast days to eat but one meal.
3. She commands them to confess their sins to their pastor at least once a year.
4. She commands them to receive the blessed sacrament at least once a year, and that at Easter, or during the paschal time.
5. To contribute to the support of their pastor.
6. Not to marry within the fourth degree of kindred, nor privately without witnesses; nor to solemnize marriage at certain prohibited times.

N. B. 1. The fourth council of Lateran, Can. 21, ordains that "every one of the faithful, of both sexes, after they come to the years of discretion, shall in private faithfully confess all their sins, at least once a year, to their own pastor; and take care to fulfil, to the best of their power, the penance enjoined them; receiving reverently, at least at Easter, the sacrament of the eucharist, unless perhaps by the counsel of their own pastor, for some reasonable cause, they judge proper to abstain from it for a time: otherwise let them be excluded out of the church whilst living; and when they die, be deprived of Christian burial."

2. The time for the performance of the Easter-duty, may be extended within the United States, from the first Sunday of Lent to Trinity Sunday, both inclusively.

3. The solemnizing of marriage, that is, the celebration of the rite during the mass pro sponso et sponsa, or with a display of festivity, is prohibited from the first Sunday of Advent till after Epiphany, and from the beginning of Lent till after Low Sunday.

FASTING DAYS.

Friday in Advent. Every day in Lent, Sundays excepted. The Ember Days (see below.) The Vigil of Whitsunday or Pentecost, of the Assumption, of All-Saints, and of Christmas.

N. B. 1. When a fasting day falls upon a Sunday, it is kept on the Saturday preceding that Sunday. To fast, consists in abstaining from flesh-meat, and eating but one full meal in the day, not before 12 o'clock, M. Besides this, a collation, or about the one-fourth of a meal, is allowed in the evening. All who have completed their 21st year are obliged to observe the fasts of the church, unless exempted for some legitimate cause.

2. In some of the western diocesses the Friday of the Ember days is the only Friday in Advent on which there is an obligation to fast.

3. It has been directed by the sacred Congregation de Propaganda Fide, that the feast of SS. Peter and Paul be solemnly celebrated in the United States, on the Sunday immediately after the 29th of June, and it is the wish of the Sacred Congregation that the Rt. Rev. Bishops exhort the faithful under their charge, to keep fast on the Saturday preceding that solemn celebration.

DAYS OF ABSTINENCE.

All Fridays and Saturdays, except those Saturdays which fall between the 25th of Dec. and the 2d of Feb., inclusively,* and all the Sundays in Lent. When Christmas falls on a Friday, abstinence is not of precept.

* Abstinence on Saturday has been dispensed with, for the faithful of the U. States, for the space of twenty years, from the year 1840, except when a fast falls on that day.

EMBER DAYS.

Spring—Feb.	13, 15, 16.	Autumn—September	17, 19, 20.
Summer—May	14, 16, 17.	Winter—December	17, 19, 20.

The ember-days are the Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, which occur 1st, in winter, immediately after the 3d Sunday of Advent; 2d, in the spring, immediately after the 1st Sunday in Lent; 3d, in the summer, during Whitsun-week; 4th, in the autumn, immediately after the 10th of September. They are days of fasting and are of great antiquity in the church. The object of their observance is, to consecrate to God the four seasons of the year, by penance; to obtain his blessing on the fruits of the earth, and to beg of him worthy ministers of the church. The ordination of clergymen generally takes place, in Catholic countries, on the ember-days.

HOLYDAYS OF OBLIGATION.

The Circumcision of our Lord—The Epiphany—The Annunciation of the B. Virgin Mary—The Ascension of our Lord—Corpus Christi—The Assumption of the B. Virgin Mary—All Saints—Nativity of our Lord or Christmas.

N. B. 1. Sundays and the feasts which fall on them, are not included in this enumeration.

2. In some of the Western Diocesses the Circumcision, Epiphany, Annunciation, and Corpus Christi, are not holydays of obligation.

3. The sanctification of Sundays and other holydays of obligation consists, 1st, in abstaining from servile work, from all commerce and manual labor, which is not necessary for the worship of God and the support of life; 2d, in returning to God by penance, cleansing our conscience, receiving the Sacraments, and performing other duties of religion. Among these duties, that of assisting at the holy sacrifice of Mass is the principal, and is binding under pain of mortal sin, unless sickness or some other important reason dispense us from this obligation. Though a person may be said to obey to the letter the precept of the church, by hearing Mass, it is certainly a great abuse to restrict to this point only, the whole sanctification which the law of God prescribes. To be satisfied with assisting at low Mass, without performing any other act of religion, as many Christians do, is to go against the spirit of the Church in that particular commandment, to disobey other commandments she has imposed, and not to satisfy the commandments of God.

LITURGICAL INSTRUCTION.

Explanation of the Ornaments and Ceremonies used in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

All the external rites used in the celebration of the holy mysteries are intended for the instruction of the faithful. The chief design of these rites is to commemorate and to represent the passion and death of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. This is plainly to be observed in the altar and its ornaments, as also in the vestments which are worn by the priest.

As to the color of the ornaments with which the priest celebrates the holy mysteries, the White is used on the festivals of our Lord, of the B. Virgin Mary, and of all the saints who are not martyrs.

The Red is used on Pentecost, on the finding and Exaltation of the Cross, and on the Feasts of the Apostles and Martyrs.

The Purple or Violet, which is the penitential color, is used on all the Sundays and Ferias of Advent, and during the whole of the penitential time from Septuagesima Sunday till Easter; as also on all Vigils, Ember Days, and Rogation Days, when the office is of them.

The Green is used on all Sundays and Ferias from Trinity Sunday to Advent exclusively, and from the octave of the Epiphany to Septuagesima Sunday exclusively, when the office is of the Sunday; but in the Paschal time the White is used.

The Black is used on Good Friday, and in Masses of Requiem for the dead; which may be said on any day that is not a Sunday or a double, except from Palm Sunday to Low Sunday, and during the Octaves of Christmas, of the Epiphany, of Pentecost, and of Corpus Christi.

EXPLANATION OF THE CALENDAR.

Ap signifies Apostle—App Apostles—M Martyr—MM Martyrs—P Pope—B Bishop—C Confessor—D Doctor—Ab Abbot—V Virgin—Wid Widow—SS Saints—D M Days of the Month—D W Days of the Week—† marks the days of indulgence—hym. ch. means the change in the hymn Iste Confessor.

The prayers and portions of the Holy Scriptures of which the Mass is composed, are in part the same, and partly different every day. Those fixed are contained in the Ordinary of the Mass, at the beginning of the Missal. The parts changeable or proper are—the Introits, Collects, Gradual, Tracts, Epistles, Gospel, Offertories, Secrets, Communion, and Post-communions—form the subsequent contents of the book. As the Prefaces are not so frequently subject to change, they follow each other in regular succession in the Ordinary of the Mass.

If a double fall on a Sunday, then the Mass of the double is said instead of that of the Sunday, unless it be a privileged Sunday, such as the first Sunday of Advent or Lent, Passion, Palm, Easter, Pentecost, and Trinity Sundays, which are never superseded. The Sundays of the second class, which cannot be superseded except by doubles of the first class, are the second, third, and fourth of Advent, Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquagesima; as also the second, third, and fourth of Lent. It must, however, be remarked that the gospels of Sundays thus superseded by doubles are never omitted, but are recited at the end of the mass, instead of St. John's gospel; and also that a commemoration of the Sunday, by its proper collect, secret, and post-communion, is always made immediately after the collect, &c., of the festival.

As it sometimes happens that a double is transferred to some future vacant day, on account of the octave of some festival of higher rank intervening, then the difficulty of finding out the day on which such transferred festival is celebrated, as well as the other principal difficulties regarding the service, may be easily removed by consulting the following DIRECTORY, as a guide to the morning as well as the evening service of the church:

1. The office of every day is either double, semi-double, simple, or of the feria.

Of doubles (so called because the anthems are repeated entire, both before and after the psalms at Vespers) some are of the first class, marked thus in the calendar: doub. 1st cl.; others of the second class, and are marked thus: doub. 2d cl.; others are greater doubles, marked gr. doub.; others common doubles, marked doub., or d.

2. Doubles are kept on the day marked in the calendar, unless they fall on some Sunday of the first or second class, some privileged feria, or with certain octaves which take the place of the festivals; in which case they are transferred to the first day not marked either as a double or a semi-double.

Doub. 1st cl. denotes a great solemnity; doub. 2d cl. a lesser solemnity; greater double marks the feast to be of higher rite than a common double; double is the common and most general rank of saints; semi-double is less than a double; simple shows the feast to be of the lowest rite; fer., or feria day, is a week day having no feast; great fer. are weeks in Lent, Advent, &c.; Vig. vigil, is the eve of a great solemnity.

The Sundays of the 1st class which take place of all doubles are—

The first Sunday of Advent, first Sunday of Lent, Passion, Palm, Easter, Low, Whit and Trinity Sundays.

The Sundays of the second class which take place, also, of all doubles except those of the first class, and of which, in that case, a commemoration is made at mass and in both vespers, are the second, third, and fourth of Advent; septuagesima, sexagesima, and quinquagesima, the second, third, and fourth of Lent.

The ferias, which enjoy the same privileges as Sundays of the first class, are Ash-Wednesday, All Holy Week, Whitsun Eve, the whole octaves of Easter and Whitsuntide.

In like manner within the octave of Epiphany, no feast less than a first class can be kept.

On all other Sundays of the year, if a double occur, it is kept with a commemoration of the Sunday at Mass, and at Vespers also, except the following day be a feast of the first class.

3. A semi-double (so called because only a part of the anthem is said before each psalm at vespers) is marked in the calendar thus, semid., and occurring on any Sunday whatsoever, is put off to the first vacant day; that is, the first day on which there is neither double nor semi-double marked in the calendar. The same is to be observed of all semi-doubles occurring within the octave of Corpus Christi.

4. Simples have no mark in the calendar, and are never transferred; but if they fall on Sunday, oron any other day when the office cannot be said of them, a commemoration is made of the first vespers, and at mass; unless it be a feast of the first class, (on which no notice is taken of simples,) or of the second class, in which case a commemoration of them is made in the Lauds, and at a low private mass only.

5. The following ferias, called greater ferias, take place of all simples of which there is only a commemoration made at mass, viz: the ferias of Advent and of Lent, the Ember Days, and Tuesdays in Rogation Week. A commemoration is also made of the ferias of Advent, Lent, at vespers and mass, whatever feast happens; but of the Ember Days and Tuesday in Rogation Week, only at mass.

6. If a vigil happen within the octave, then the vigil, with a commemoration of the octave, unless there be a double or a semi-double feast that day, in which case the mass is of the feast, with a commemoration of the octave and of the vigil. But if a vigil occur on a feast of the first class, there is no commemoration made of it.

If a festival that has a vigil, fall on a Monday, the mass of the vigil is said on the foregoing Saturday, except the vigil of Christmas and of the Epiphany.

If a vigil happen in Advent, the mass is of the vigil, with a commemoration of the feria, except the vigil of Christmas.

If a vigil happen in Lent, or on an ember day, the mass is of the feria, with a commemoration of the vigil.

In the paschal time there is no office of vigil, except that of Ascension Eve, which, however, is no fast.

7. When several festivals have been translated from their proper days, they are afterwards to be kept in this order: first, those that are doubles, and then those that are semi-doubles; and among the doubles or semidoubles, those whose proper days first occurred are to be kept first.

8. Coll. or Collect, signifies the oration or prayer. Upon all doubles one collect, secret or post-communion, only, is said; except they fall on a Sunday, or within the same octave, or upon some vigil, or in the time of Lent or Advent, or except it occurs with some simple; in all such cases, two collects, &c., are said; one of the double, the other of the Sunday, octave, &c.

Upon Sundays, and all semidoubles, are said three collects, secrets or post-communions; excepting Sundays which occur within an octave, on which are said two collects, &c., one of the Sunday, the other of the octave.

The second and third collects, secrets, and post-communions, to be said on Sundays and semidoubles in the different seasons of the year, are specified in their proper places.

Upon semidoubles occurring within octaves, or on vigils, &c., the second collect, secret, and post-communion, are a commemoration of the octave or vigil; and the third of the B. V. M., but within the octaves of the Blessed Virgin, the third is of the Holy Ghost.

On semidoubles in Advent, the second collect, secret, and post-communion, are the collect, &c., of the foregoing Sunday; the third of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Upon simples and ferias three collects, &c., are said; but if the priest please he may say five or seven, to be taken out of the divers prayers in the common.

9. When the bishop of a diocess appoints a collect to be said at mass, it is to be placed after the collects of the day, and cannot be substituted for the collect which is marked ad lib. This prayer prescribed by the bishop, is said at all masses, except that of the first class, and convertual and high mass of second class; at low mass of 2 cl. it may be said or omitted. It is omitted also on Christmas eve, vigil of Pentecost, Palm Sunday, Holy Thursday, and Holy Saturday.

10. Upon week days which have no proper office, nor any saint's day occurring thereon, the mass is of the foregoing Sundays.

11. Upon days within octaves, when no proper mass is assigned, the mass is said as on the feast, with three collects, &c. N. B.—The days within octaves are kept as semidoubles only.

12. The collect of the B. V. M., within octaves on vigils and on semidoubles within paschal time, is found in the votive mass of the Blessed Virgin Mary, from Advent to Christmas the collect of the B. V. M. is read in the mass of first Sunday of Advent, from Christmas to Candlemas the collect of the Blessed Virgin, as in the mass of the Circumcision.

13. The collects for Church and Pope are seen in the mass of the first Sunday of Advent, one of them is only recited at the choice of the priest, generally they are said in turn, when mentioned in the Directory. The collect of the Pope is said on the anniversary days of his creation and coronation; the creation here signifies his election to the sovereign Pontificate.

14. On the anniversary day of the consecration of the bishop, the collect for his installation is said at mass by the clergy of the diocess. If the bishop be translated from another diocess, the collect is said on the anniversary of his translation, that is, the date of the pope's letter of translation. The collect of the bishop is the same as that of the pope, except that the names of the prelate and of the diocess are mentioned.

15. The words ad lib. signify that one is at liberty to recite any of the occasional collects or prayers, found towards the end of the missal.

16. The gospels assigned on Sundays are never omitted. Wherefore if a double be kept on a Sunday, at the end of mass is read the gospel of the Sunday, instead of that of St. John ; and the same is observed when a double or semidouble is kept on any day in Lent, or on a vigil or ember-day.

17. The Gloria in excelsis is said at Mass, whenever the Te Deum has been said after Matins ; except at Mass on Holy Thursday and Holy Saturday, when the Gloria is said though the Te Deum is omitted in the office. The Gloria is omitted in Masses for the dead, in votive Masses, even during the Paschal time or an octave, except in the Mass de B. Maria in Sabbato, or de Angelis, or when the votive Mass is said for an important object or some public affair of the Church, and without the purple vestments.

18. Low Masses votive or of requiem for the dead, cannot be celebrated on Sunday or on a double feast. They are also prohibited from the vigil of Christmas to the octave-day of the Epiphany inclusively, and on Ash-Wednesday ; also, from Palm-Sunday to Low-Sunday inclusively ; moreover, from the Vigil of Pentecost to Trinity Sunday included, and during the octave of Corpus Christi.

19. High Masses of requiem for the dead, where the body is not present, are forbidden on double feasts ; but where the body is present and unburied, they may be celebrated on Sundays (provided the parochial Mass be not omitted) and on doubles, even of the first clsss, which are not festivals of obligation. But these Masses, even when the body is present, are prohibited on the Nativity, Epiphany, and Ascension of our Lord, Easter-day, Pentecost, Corpus Christi, Assumption of the B. V. Mary, All-Saints, and the three days before Easter ; also, on the feast of the principal patron, that of the titular saint, and such festivals as are celebrated with much solemnity.

20. The offices of the Sacred Passion, which are marked for the different Fridays of Lent are ad libitum : that is, they may be recited by those who wish, but there is no obligation to do so. The same is to be said of the office of the M. Blessed Sacrament on Thursdays, and that of the Conception of the B. V. Mary on Saturday, during the year. But if any one of these offices be omitted, the office occurring on the day according to the rubrics, should be recited.

21. In the office of the B. V. Mary and during the octave, the hymns conclude with the strophe, Jesu tibi sit gloria, Qui natus es, &c.; and in the Respons. at Prime, is said Qui natus es, &c., unless otherwise marked. Also, from the first vespers of Christmas to the first vespers of Epiphany, on the feast of the Holy Name of Jesus, and during the octave of Corpus Christi. The same is observed in the office of the Blessed Sacrament on Thursdays, and that of the B. V. Mary on Saturdays, from Complin of the preceding day, (if even a commemoration of these offices be made) until None inclusively.

NOTICE OF THE REV. ANTHONY KOHLMANN, S. J.*

Father Anthony Kohlmann was one of those clergymen, who during the first quarter of the present century were most distinguished by their zeal and labors for the glory of God and the salvation of souls in the American portion of the church of Christ. He was born on the 13th of July, 1771, at Kaysersberg, near Colmar, in France, where he went through a course of classical study. Though prevented for some time, by the political troubles of that period, from following his decided inclination for the ecclesiastical state, he at length succeeded in his wishes, and was raised to the priesthood after having finished his theological course at the celebrated college of Friburg in Switzerland. Immediately after his ordination, in the spring of 1796, he became a member of the Society of the Sacred Heart, at Gogingen. This was an association of clergymen that had been commenced in 1794, in Belgium, by the abbès Tournely and de Broglie, with a view to revive under another name the spirit and labors of the company of Jesus, the supression of which had excited a profound regret throughout the Catholic world. Driven from Belgium by the revolutionary storm, the Fathers of the Sacred Heart wandered in different directions until they finally settled at Hagenbrunn, in Austria, in the spring of 1797. A few months after, and without any knowledge of what was transpiring at Hagenbrunn, another society having precisely the same object in view was organized at Rome, under the direction of an ecclesiastic named Paccanari, and was known as the Society of the Faith of Jesus. The following year, Paccanari having heard of the Society of the Sacred Heart, opened a negotiation for the union of the two associations, which took place at Hagenbrunn on the 18th of April, 1799, he being the recognized superior. Under his direction the members of the society employed themselves in different parts of Europe, in Germany, France, Italy, Holland, preaching the word of God, instructing youth, and serving the hospitals.

Uniting talents of a high order and extensive acquirements with a tender piety and ardent zeal, Father Kohlmann soon gave evidence of the eminent usefulness which would distinguish him in the various duties of his profession. In the spring of 1799, when Hagenbrunn and its vicinity were ravaged by a terrible epidemic, he devoted himself without reserve to the relief of the suffering inhabitants, and by his heroic efforts to serve them obtained the honorable name of Martyr of Charity. He was soon after appointed, with some of his brethren, to exercise the same ministry of mercy in the north of Italy, which was then a prey to all the horrors of war. It would be difficult to describe, or even to imagine the sufferings which the missionaries had to endure in the discharge of their functions. The hospitals were conducted without any regard to the comfort of the sick. Disgusting filthiness, a foul atmosphere, and swarms of vermin, were the characteristics of these institutions. The patients stretched upon miserable pallets, were so crowded together that it was scarcely possible to approach them to afford any relief. In many instances they were scattered pele-mele on the floor, with nothing but an arm-full of half rotten straw to lie on. To hear their confessions under these circumstances, it was well if the missionary could find a sufficient space to kneel or to lie down by his penitent, in order to protect the secrecy of the sacrament. These physical evils however, were but a feeble image of the spiritual miseries that prevailed in these establishments. At a distance from their country, their relatives and friends, the sick soldiers had every need of religious consolation : but in many cases, they did not desire it or they sought it in vain. At Pavia, where four thousand patients were collected in the four hospitals, there were only two priests to administer the sacraments. The sick consisted of persons of every nation and every language : there were Germans, Hungarians, Bohemians, Poles, French, Italians, Flemish, while Catholics were mingled with Lutherans, Calvinists, Anabaptists, and schismatical Greeks. These difficulties, far from damping the zeal of the missionaries, only tended to inflame it. From four o'clock in the morning till nine at night, they were incessantly engaged in the service of the sick, with the exception of the time allotted to their spiritual exercises, and for five or six hours at a stretch they heard confessions, often in a standing posture, though inclining to the penitent, to avoid being covered with vermin. The fatigue which they underwent during the day, and the stings they received from the numerous insects in the hospitals, scarcely permitted them to enjoy at night the necessary repose to recruit themselves for the continuance of their arduous labor. They had the consolation however to see their efforts crowned with the most brilliant success. During the two years passed in these works of mercy, the great majority of the soldiers received the sacraments, and many hundred Protestants were brought back to the bosom of the Church. Upwards of forty were reclaimed by Father Kohlmann during the two months that closed the mission.

From Italy he went to Dilingen in Bavaria, to preside over a seminary, and thence to Berlin, where a college had been opened for the education of youth: but the latter establishment having been discontinued, he passed over to England, and afterwards to Amsterdam, where he took charge of a collegiate institution. Divine Providence however was preparing for the exercise of his talents and zeal, another field more secure from the troubles which then agitated almost every part of Europe. Owing to the non-publication in Russia of the bull of Clement XIV., suppressing the Company of Jesus, and in virtue of a sanction granted by a competent ecclesiastical authority, the members of the society in that empire maintained their statu quo; but upon the accession of the Czar Paul I., and at his solicitation, the sovereign Pontiff issued a brief, dated March 7, 1801, confirming the existence of the Society of Jesus in Russia. In 1804, it was also re-established in the kingdom of Naples, and the general of the society was authorized to admit members, subject to his jurisdiction, in any country where the civil power was not opposed to it. The intelligence of these concessions was a source of unbounded joy to the surviving members of the former Company of Jesus, who regarded these events as favorable auguries of the general restoration of the society. The ex-Jesuits in the United States, shared in the common hope, and upon an application made by bishop Carroll, in his own name, and that of his brethren, to the Father general in Russia, he received full powers, towards the close of 1804, to organize the society within his jurisdiction. In virtue of this authorization, he appointed Rev. Robert Molyneux, superior, on the 22d February, 1806, and a novitiate was opened at Georgetown, D. C., on the 10th of October of the same year, under the direction of Father Francis Neale.* To aid the renascent company in the United States, and to place the academy at Georgetown on a more solid footing, several members of the society were sent hither from Russia, and among them Father Kohlmann. Availing himself of the opportunity afforded him in Russia of becoming a Jesuit, which had always been the ardent desire of his heart, he entered the Novitiate at Duneburg in June, 1805, where he soon distinguished himself by the solidity of his virtue. Such was his rapid progress in Christian perfection, that after the first year of probation his superiors considered him qualified for the missions of America. He arrived in Baltimore, in company with Father Epinette, on the 3d of November, 1806, both highly recommended to bishop Carroll by their superior-general, as "regular, docile, obedient, and every way deserving religious." Father Kohlmann was destined for the chair of philosophy, and his companion for that of theology, in the institution at Georgetown. The language of the general Berzozowski, on sending these gentlemen to aid in the reconstruction of the society in this country, will perhaps be read with interest by their successors in that illustrious body: "Sancti angeli custodes præcedant et comitentur has societatis primitias! Filii sanctorum sumus: non erimus degeneres a spiritu et actionibus patrum."*

Father Kohlmann did not prove himself unequal to these holy and sublime aspirations. During the nearly eighteen years of his residence in the United States he never ceased to labor for the glory of God and the salvation of souls, with a zeal worthy of the apostolic age. Conspicuous as a missionary, as a superior, as a professor, as a controversialist, he was not less remarkable for the uprightness of his character and his affable and insinuating manners which won for him the esteem of all who knew him. A few months after his arrival in America, having been appointed by bishop Carroll to visit, as a missionary, the Catholic congregations of Pennsylvania, he directed his steps first to Philadelphia, where the people of Holy Trinity church had just emerged from the scandals of an open resistance to ecclesiastical authority. Of this parish he remarks: "Truly with desolation has this congregation been made desolate, having so long supported ravening wolves, in the clothing of sheep; hirelings who fed themselves, without sparing the flock: who came only to destroy, and to fatten upon the innocent blood of so many souls."† However strong this language, it can scarcely be considered too forcible, when we reflect that the dreadful consequences of that early schism have extended to the very times in which we live. We cannot give a better idea of the active zeal and apostolic spirit which Father Kohlmann displayed at this time, than by quoting his own words from a report of his labors to Dr. Carroll.‡

"I remained upwards of two weeks in Philadelphia, and every day I explained the Christian doctrine in English and German, to the people and children assembled in the church. Before leaving, I admitted about twenty-six girls and boys to their first communion, which was witnessed with a sensible effect by the congregation. The grown people are as ignorant of their religion as the children, and it is easy to imagine how they live. I instructed them as well as my limited time would permit. Almost all the confessions I heard, were general, or at least for three, six, or ten years back. From Philadelphia I went to Haycock, where I observed the same mode of proceeding. In the congregation here, as at Goshenhopen and Reading, I preached twice every day, at 9 and 11 o'clock, and after mass I explained the catechism. Such children as could be duly prepared, were admitted to their first communion. I passed a week in each of the above-mentioned places, where the reception of the sacraments is much neglected. At Lancaster, where I enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Risdel, I preached daily for four days, in English and German, as in the other missions; then made an excursion to Coleman's Furnace, and on my return I spent two days and a half at Elizabethtown, where I performed the same missionary duty. I baptized in this place and at Lancaster about forty persons. The good people showed me everywhere the utmost kindness: the greater part received the sacraments. The children, as far as practicable, were prepared for their first communion. I exhorted the schoolmasters to instruct the children in the catechism, and made an arrangement for some one to perform this duty on Sunday when the priest would be absent. At Little York I preached partly in English and partly in German, and heard some confessions. Leaving that place I went to Conewago, where I remained two days and a half. On Sunday I addressed a very numerous congregation who were much grieved to hear that I was to stay so short a time among them. It is difficult to express in what esteem the Rev. Mr. Debarth is held by the people of Lancaster, Elizabethtown, and Conewago. This flock is truly the paradise of Pennsylvania, and the flower of the German congregations. On Sundays and holydays the service does not end commonly before two o'clock, on account of the great number of confessions, in which you scarcely find a sufficient matter for absolution. I distributed about two hundred chaplets, and the same number of catechisms, with some medals. It would be well if pastors would adopt this excellent means of promoting piety among the people."

Though it was designed that Father Kohlmann should commence the following year, at the academy of Georgetown, a course of philosophy, which had not yet been taught there, bishop Carroll deemed it more important to employ him in the holy ministry, which at that time was sadly in want of zealous and pious clergymen. He accordingly appointed him pastor at New York, at the same time naming Father Benedict Fenwick his assistant. They had occupied this post only a few months, when Father Kohlmann wrote to the bishop, December 29, 1808: "The whole day from early in the morning to the evening is occupied either in hearing confessions till 11 o'clock, or calls for the sick, superintendence over the common schools, instructions, collecting money for the poor, or the embellishing of the church, &c. We have got at present seventeen scholars." These scholars belonged to an academy for boys established by Father Kohlmann, called the New York Literary Institution, which did much good. The following year it had fifty pupils. He was equally solicitous to provide the means of a liberal education for young persons of the sex. For this purpose a colony of Ursuline nuns from Cork arrived in New York on the 7th of April, 1812, of whom Father Kohlmann says: "They are pious, docile, replenished with the spirit of their institute, and polished in their manners." Though these good ladies seemed to be well qualified for the object in view, their establishment did not continue beyond a few years.

In the course of his ministry in New York, Father Kohlmann had occasion to witness one of the most awful scenes that the last moments of a hardened infidel can exhibit. It was the death-bed of Tom Paine, in 1809. He visited the atheist in company with Father Fenwick who had been sent for: but being the older clergyman he introduced to the sick man the subject of religion, when suddenly the latter interrupted him; "That's enough, sir; my mind is made up on that subject. I look upon the whole of the Christian scheme to be a tissue of absurdities and lies, and Jesus Christ to be nothing more than a cunning knave and impostor." Father Kohlmann, in continuing his remarks, was only answered with the most horrid blasphemies, till at length he was compelled to desist. His companion then attempted to speak, and observed to Paine that they had come to see him with no other view than to do him good. Hereupon the monster seemed to relax a little, supposing that the gentlemen had visited him in the capacity of physicians; but he said that his case had been pronounced hopeless, and he had nothing to expect but a speedy dissolution. When Father Fenwick replied, that the object of their coming was to make an offer of their ministry for the good of his immortal soul, which was "in danger of being forever cast off by the Almighty," Paine was roused into a fury. "Begone," said he, "and trouble me no more. I was in peace till you came." "We know better than that," replied Father Kohlmann, "there can be no peace for the wicked, God has said it." "Away with you, and your God too; leave the room instantly," exclaimed the unhappy man: who soon after appeared at the bar of divine justice. "I never before or since," says Father Fenwick, "beheld a more hardened wretch."*

About this time, the Catholics of New York were expecting with eagerness the arrival of the Rt. Rev. Dr. Concanen, who had been consecrated first bishop of that see, at Rome, in 1808; but, while waiting at Naples for an opportunity to embark for the United States, he died there, having previously authorized Archbishop Carroll to appoint a vicar-general to act in his place at New York. It was no doubt in consequence of this arrangement that Father Kohlmann exercised this office during his residence in that diocess. When the intelligence of the bishop's death had reached this country, a solemn funeral service for the repose of his soul took place in St. Peter's church, New York. Speaking of this ceremony, Father Kohlmann says: "I was happy to see our trustees willing to spare no expense on that occasion, in order to render the ceremony more interesting, and to impress both Catholics and dissenters with a sense of that high veneration that is due to episcopacy. Accordingly, a circumstanciated account of the death of R. R. D. Concanen and the day appointed for his funeral service were announced in the papers. The sanctuary, the whole altar, all the curtains were in black; the bier elegantly fixed, covered and surrounded with all the badges of episcopal dignity, such as the mitre, crosier, &c.; a high mass with deacon and subdeacon, accompanied with musical instruments, celebrated; and a funeral sermon on the episcopal dignity delivered by Rev. Mr. Fenwick, to an audience so numerous as has scarce ever been seen before in any church.....I am informed that no solemnity performed in our church made ever so blessed an impression on all those who were present, as that of the said funeral service."* It is believed, on good authority, that efforts were made to induce Father Kohlmann to accept the mitre, as successor to Dr. Concanen.

More than two years after this, he became an actor in a very remarkable event, which resulted in a public expression of regard for the ministry of a Catholic priest, and in determining an important principle of law. "Restitution had been made to a man named James Keating, through the Rev. Father Kohlmann, of certain goods which had been stolen from him.† Keating had previously made a complaint against one Philips and his wife, as having received the goods thus stolen, and they were indicted for a misdemeanor before the justices of the peace. Keating having afterwards stated that the goods had been restored to him through the instrumentality of Father Kohlmann, the latter was cited before the court, and required to give evidence in regard to the person or persons from whom he had received them. This he refused to do, on the ground that no court could require a priest to give evidence in regard to matters known to him only under he seal of confession. Upon the case being sent to the grand jury, Father Kohlmann was subpœnaed to attend before them, and appeared in obedience to the process, but, in respectful terms, again declined answering. On the trial which ensued, Father Kohlmann was again cited to appear as a witness in the case. Having been asked certain questions, he entreated that he might be excused, and offered his reasons to the court. With consent of counsel the question was put off for some time,* and finally brought on for argument on Tuesday, the 8th of June, 1813, before a court composed of the Hon. De Witt Clinton, mayor of the city; the Hon. Josiah Ogden Hoffman, recorder; and Isaac S. Douglass, and Richard Cunningham, Esqs., sitting aldermen. The Hon. Richard Riker, afterwards for so many years recorder of the city, and Counsellor Sampson, volunteered their services in behalf of Father Kohlmann. Mr. Riker argued the case at considerable length, and with great ability. He showed that certain contrary decisions—especially that of Sir Michael Smith, Master of the Rolls in Ireland, who decided that Rev. Mr. Gahan could not plead his profession as a reason for refusing to give evidence in the celebrated case of Lord Dunboyne—were contrary to usage, and made rather from prejudice against the Catholic religion than from any sound reasons. He showed that, under the Constitution of this State, which allowed the fullest toleration to religion, every principle of any religious denomination was protected which did not "lead to licentiousness, or to practices inconsistent with the peace and safety of the State." Counsellor Sampson followed on the same side, and in a speech of great eloquence urged the broad protection of the Constitution, as a sufficient and ample reason for not obliging a priest to give evidence in matters known to him only through the confessional.

"The decision was given by De Witt Clinton at some length. Having shown that, according to the doctrine and practice of the Catholic Church, a priest, who should reveal what he had heard in the confessional, would become infamous and degraded in the eyes of Catholics; and as no one could be called upon to give evidence which would expose him to infamy, he declared that the only way was to excuse a priest from answering in such cases.† He also developed the constitutional ground, and urged that religious toleration would be a mere mockery if it did not protect all equally. The decision of the court was unanimous.

"'We speak of this question,' says Mr. Clinton, 'not in a theological

*The district attorney, Mr. Gardinier, had determined to enter a nolle prosequi in the case, but the Board of Trustees of St. Peter's Church requested that it might be brought on, in order that the point should be determined. Mr. Gardinier behaved in the whole affair with great fairness, and seems to have been disposed to let the matter pass, rather than excite dissension and religious animosity.

†"The witness in this case evidently believes that his answering in this case would expose him to punishment in a future state, and it must be conceded by all that it would expose him to privations and disgrace in this world. If he tells the truth, he violates his ecclesiastical oath; if he prevaricates, he violates his judicial oath. The only course is for the Court to declare that he shall not testify or act at all."—Decision, p. 102, 103.

sense, but in its legal and constitutional bearings. Although we differ from the witness and his brethren in our religious creed, yet we have no reason to question the purity of their motives, or to impeach their good conduct as citizens. They are protected by the laws and constitution of this country, in the full and free exercise of their religion, and this court can never countenance or authorize the application of insult to their faith, or of torture to their consciences.' "*

In the same volume which contained a report of this trial, was published a treatise by Father Kohlmann, entitled "A true exposition of the doctrine of the Catholic Church, touching the sacrament of penance, with the grounds on which this doctrine is founded." It fills one hundred and twenty-four pages 8vo., and formed a very appropriate and not less instructive explanation, at that time, of a subject in regard to which there always exists the grossest misconception among the adversaries of the Catholic Church. This work of the learned Jesuit is distinguished for its methodical arrangement and solidity of argument, and is unquestionably the best vindication of the sacrament of penance that has ever appeared in English on this side of the Atlantic, and perhaps in Europe. After presenting a general notion of the sacraments, the author proceeds to state what the sacrament of penance is according to the teaching of the church. He then produces the passages of Scripture which prove it to be of divine institution, and shows how these passages were interpreted by the early fathers of the church and the councils both general and particular. This argument is followed by that drawn from the universal practice of the Christian church in all ages, and the whole reasoning is confirmed by the opinions and belief of many of the reformers themselves. To have written such a work amidst the multiplied duties of the ministry, is an honorable evidence of the learning and zeal of Father Kohlmann, and of his ability as a controversial writer.

Full of solicitude to meet the wants of the flock committed to his

* "The principle of this decision was afterwards embodied in a statute. "No minister of the Gospel, or priest of any denomination whatsoever, shall be allowed to disclose any confessions made to him in his professional character, in the course of discipline enjoined by the rules or practice of such denomination."—Rev. Stat. of the State of New-York, Part III., ch. vii., art. 8, sec. 72: Passed as part of the Rev. Stat. December 10, 1828, and signed by N. Pitcher, Lieut. Gov.; Governor Clinton having died in February of that year.

"The whole case was reported by Counsellor Sampson, under this title: "The Catholic Question in America: Whether a Roman Catholic Clergyman be in any case compellable to disclose the secrets of auricular confession; decided at the Court of General Sessions, in the City of New York; reported by William Sampson, Esq., one of the counsel in the case. New-York, printed by Edward Gillespie, No. 24 William-street, 1813."

care, he proved himself equal to every emergency. To his active efforts are the Catholics of New York mainly indebted for the erection of the beautiful cathedral in Mulberry street, which was the second Catholic church built in that city. It was dedicated to the worship of God on the 4th of May, 1815, by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Cheverus, bishop of Boston, who also preached on the occasion. Possessing in a high degree the talent of persuasion, Father Kohlmann easily moved those whom he addressed to the performance of good works. It was impossible to resist the force and unction of his words, and hence he seldom or never appealed in vain to the liberality or charity of the faithful.

The same year, 1815, he left New York to take charge of the novitiate of the Jesuits at Whitemarsh, Maryland, where he was employed until 1817, when upon the resignation of Father Grassi, he was called upon to succeed him in the responsible station of superior of the Jesuit mission in the United States. The following letter which he wrote on that occasion to the Very Rev. Ambrose Marēschal, afterwards archbishop of Baltimore, will show how his humility shrank from the honors which were forced upon him by his sterling qualities.

"Very Rev. Sir: I have the honor (although with regret) to inform you, that it has pleased divine providence to transfer the burthen of the superiorship of this mission of the society from the shoulders of Rev. F. Grassi, unto mine. This sad intelligence was remitted to me by the Rt. Rev. D. Dubourg, on the 7th instant, in a letter written to me by R. R. F. G., dated 27th April last, at Polosk. I am obliged to submit to this disposition, altho' I be under the firm impression, that I shall be freed again from the above office as soon as R. R. F. G. shall have received my letters. For the short space I expect to be in the above post, it shall be highly gratifying to me to second, after every manner congenial to our holy vocation, the zeal of our ecclesiastical superiors, this being the direct end of our H. Institute to be the auxiliaries of the ordinaries in whose diocesses we exist."

During the few years that he had the superior charge of the mission, and indeed to the end of his life, Father Kohlmann never ceased to illustrate in his actions the sentiments expressed in this letter. Whether engaged in the holy ministry, or as superior of his order in the United States, he always endeavored to act in concert with the chief pastors of the diocesses in which the Jesuits were employed, and to adopt such measures as would most contribute to the glory of God and the salvation of souls. While in the office of superior he also, from 1818 to 1820, filled the post of rector of Georgetown College. In 1821 he exchanged the superiorship of the mission for that of Washington Seminary, a literary institution which was then commencing, and over which he presided for three years. His zeal, ever active and untiring, rendered him as solicitous and indefatigable for the honor of religion in general as for the welfare of the particular institutions more immediately under his care. About the year 1820, a strong effort was made by Mr. Jared Sparks, the minister of the Unitarian church in Baltimore, to vindicate the peculiar doctrines of his sect, and to bring them more prominently before the public. To this object was directed the periodical publication, entitled the "Unitarian Miscellany and Christian Monitor," in which he displayed considerably more talent and scholarship than sound philosophy and theological learning. Father Kohlmann could not remain an idle spectator of such attempts to overthrow the very foundations of christianity. He at once set to work, and in a succession of pamphlets, thirteen in number, he reviewed the whole subject with a depth of learning, a vigor of argument, and a perspicuity and ornament of style, which are rarely combined in treatises of a doctrinal or dogmatical character. After refuting the fundamental principle of Unitarianism, that we cannot reasonably believe what is above the sphere of human reason, he proceeds to prove the doctrine of original sin, the trinity of persons in the Godhead, and especially the divinity of Christ. His writings on these topics, as they issued periodically from the press, were eagerly sought after, and in a short time three editions were exhausted. The third edition appeared in 1821 and 1822, in two volumes octavo, embracing five hundred and sixty pages, and entitled, "Unitarianism philosophically and theologically examined in a series of periodical numbers: comprising a complete refutation of the leading principles of the Unitarian system." The work was subsequently published in Europe. As a text-book or reference for the student of divinity, it possesses great merit.

Amid the varied labors of Father Kohlmann in the defence of religious truth, and the promotion of virtue and piety among those under his charge, he had the consolation of seeing the true faith attested by a most extraordinary interposition of divine power. At this time Prince Hohenlohe was creating quite a sensation in Europe, by the wonderful cures that were attributed to the efficacy of his prayers. When Father Kohlmann was informed that these effects were obtained by a special homage rendered to our divine Saviour, he at once expressed his belief in their reality, and was most earnest in advising a sick lady of Washington city, whom he had assisted by his ministry, to have recourse to the prayers of Prince Hohenlohe. This person was Mrs. Ann Mattingly, a widow, sister of the Hon. Thomas Carbery, mayor of the city. In 1817 she experienced some painful sensations in the left side, which gradually became concentrated in the lower part of the left breast, where a hard and deep-seated tumor appeared, which caused her the most intense suffering. She frequently vomited quantities of grumous blood and highly offensive matter, threatening suffocation, and accompanied with cramps in the stomach, breast and limbs. These discharges were often followed by syncope. In 1823, a hard and incessant cough supervened, with spitting of blood, chills and fever, and hœmatemeses which threatened immediate death. From her long recumbent posture, her shoulders and loins had become ulcerated. Her attending physician, on o 'the most eminent in Washington city, repeatedly declared that "her case was out of the reach of medicine." In fact, her friends had often recited near her the prayers for the agonizing, convinced that her last hour had arrived. During all this time Mrs. Mattingly evinced the most admirable patience and resignation to the will of God, and hourly expected her departure from this world. But, at the suggestion of Father Kohlmann, she in conjunction with some of her friends commenced on the 1st of March a novena, or nine days' devotion, in honor of the holy name of Jesus, according to the directions given by Prince Hohenlohe. During this novena her symptoms became more violent and alarming than ever, and on the 9th of the month, at night, it was thought that her dissolution was at hand. But, the next day between 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning, immediately after having received the holy communion from the Rev. Father Dubuisson, she sat up, and clasping her hands exclaimed with equal faith and humility : "Lord Jesus, what have I done to merit so great a favor!" To the astonishment and even terror of her friends, she asked for her stockings, drew them on, and leaving her bed went into the adjoining room where the blessed sacrament had been deposited, and poured forth her heart to God in the liveliest transports of joy and thanksgiving. She was entirely restored to health : her tumor had disappeared, the ulcers of her back had healed, without leaving even so much as a scar of the ravages lately inflicted upon her body.

This wonderful fact, so consoling to the members of the Catholic church, was duly attested on the 24th of March, not only by the deposition of the lady herself before a justice of the peace, but by that of numerous other persons, among whom was the postmaster general ; also five physicians, three of them Protestants, and eleven ladies friends of the family, five of whom were Protestants and two of whom afterwards embraced the Catholic faith. Upon the spread of the intelligence that Mrs. Mattingly had been cured, hundreds of persons visited her house, and upwards of thirty Protestants were led by this extraordinary fact to seek admission into the Catholic church. The part which Father Kohlmann had in this remarkable occurrence, may be still better appreciated from the following circumstances. Mrs. Mattingly, in a conversation with a respectable clergyman, acknowledged that she attributed the restoration of her health as much to the prayers of Father Kohlmann, as to those of Prince Hohenlohe. It is also certain, that being in Washington city the evening before the event took place, he found her at the point of death, yet seemed to be sanguine as to her miraculous recovery on the following day. Captain Carbery having expressed to him on that evening his regret that the application to Prince Hohenlohe had been deferred so long, his sister Mrs. Mattingly being in the very last extremity, Father Kohlmann replied: "No, Captain, your sister will be well to-morrow. God has permitted her to be reduced to the lowest possible state, in order to render the miracle more striking!"* After an examination of the evidence relating to this fact, the Most Rev. Archbishop Maréschal published a pastoral letter on the subject, in which he states that in consequence of the indubitable character of the testimony, he approves of its publication, as an occasion and motive to thank the Divine Goodness, and to excite Christian souls to renewed fervor and fidelity in the service of God.

In 1824, Leo XII. having restored the Roman college† to the Jesuits, Father Kohlmann was one of the professors summoned from the different provinces to open the classes. Leaving the mission in America, he again crossed the Atlantic to resume his invaluable labors in the old world. He taught theology in the Roman college during five years, and it was no mean compliment to his talents and acquirements, to have been selected, in company with the most able members of the order, to render that seat of literature and science worthy of its ancient glory. He was also charged with the various employments embraced in the administration of the college. From this establishment he was called to the professed house of the Gesū, where he applied himself altogether to the duties of the sacred ministry. Among the numerous conversions to which he contributed while at this post, was that of the Rev. Father Theiner of the oratory of St. Philip Neri, who has since acquired a considerable notoriety by his life of Clement XIV. and other publications. He relates himself the particulars of his conversion in the introduction to the first volume of his Histoire des Institutions d'éducation ecclésiastique. Under the care of a truly Catholic mother, he had passed his youth in the practice of religion. But his frequent intercourse with the Protestants of Germany had the effect of shaking his faith. He became an infidel, and a prey to doubts and perplexities which left him no peace of mind. To divert his thoughts he entered upon a scientific journey, and after visiting Austria, England, Holland and France, he arrived in Italy in 1833. During the course of his travels he was seriously impressed with the immense difference between the spirit of Protestantism and that of Catholicity: but at Rome this favorable change in his ideas was to be completed. Having heard from one of his friends, of the merits of Father Kohlmann, he conceived a great desire to form his acquaintance. It required however no small degree of resolution to overcome his prejudices. He would go to the Father's residence, and walk up and down for two hours before the door, and then go away. At length, summoning all his courage, he entered the house; but as he stepped along the corridor leading to Father Kohlmann's room, such was the agitation he experienced that it seemed to him he was marching to execution. A moment's interview however dispelled all his fears, and he was at once convinced that the Jesuit Fathers are occupied solely with the business of that great Master whose name they so worthily bear. The result of Theiner's visits to the Gesū, was his firm conviction of Catholic truth and his reconciliation with God by the reception of the sacraments.

Many other conversions were effected by the zeal and charity of Father Kohlmann. His life was but a constant labor for the salvation of souls. A great portion of his time was spent in the confessional, and such was the kind and amiable manner in which he received those who had recourse to his ministry, that he seemed to have no other occupation than to wait upon those who applied to him. Besides these duties, however, he was employed as consultor of two important congregations at Rome, those of ecclesiastical affairs and of bishops and regulars. His appointment to these functions was an unequivocal mark of the confidence reposed in him by the Sovereign Pontiff. Leo XII. greatly esteemed him, and placed his own library at his service. It was even rumored that the pope had an idea of investing him with the purple. Having been charged by his holiness with the task of revising the acts of a council which had been held in Transylvania, he performed this duty with a promptness and ability which won for him a distinguished approbation. Gregory XVI. also honored the good Father with his esteem, and numbered him among the qualificators of the congregation of the Holy Office.

Though possessing the regard and confidence of the great, and even of the popes themselves, Father Kohlmann was always a model of simplicity and humility. He was particularly kind and affectionate towards the lay-brothers of his order, whom he cherished as his children, and who on their part venerated and loved him as a father. A life thus passed in union with God and in the labors of the apostleship, could not but be crowned with a death precious in the sight of the Lord. Father Kohlmann had experienced for several years a steady diminution of his strength: but he did not in the least relax his efforts to promote the welfare of his flock. During the spring of 1836, his fatiguing duties brought on an inflammation of the chest, which however did not prevent the zealous pastor from attending as usual at the confessional, until completely overpowered by the disease he was obliged to take to his bed. His symptoms becoming more alarming, he received the rites of the church with the most lively faith, and expired after three days' sickness, at the age of sixty-five years. In his last moments he breathed the same spirit of ardent love for God which had animated him during his life, and such was the veneration which he had inspired among the faithful, that many pious persons eagerly sought and obtained certain objects which had belonged to him, and cherished them with a regard similar to that which is paid to the relics of the saints.

These indications are left to the decision of their confessor, whose recommendation will be required for their reception.

It is respectfully recommended to the Rev. Clergy to make application by letter or otherwise to the President of St. Charles's College, before presenting the candidate for admission.

LITERARY INSTITUTIONS FOR YOUNG MEN.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE, D. C.

In the year 1785, several gentleman—the principal of whom was the Rev. John Carroll, afterwards the first Archbishop of Baltimore, formed a design of building "An Academy at Georgetown, Potowmack River, Maryland." In 1789 the first house was built; in 1792 the schools commenced, and in 1798 we find it "The College of Georgetown, Potomac River, State of Maryland." In May, 1815, Congress raised it to the rank of an University.

In May, 1851, "The Medical Department of Georgetown College" was opened in Washington city, D. C.

The College is situated on the northern bank of the Potomac, and commands a full view of Georgetown, Washington, the Potomac, and a great part of the District of Columbia. Its situation is peculiarly healthy.

The academic year commences on the first Monday of September, and ends about the middle of July. The collegiate course of studies occupies, generally, seven years, inclusive of the preparatory classes, which last three years, unless the proficiency of the student authorize an abbreviation of the term.

Some changes were lately effected in the internal arrangement of the College, by which a large number of boarders can be accommodated, and a separation has been made of the very young students from the seniors. The necessity and advantages of such an arrangement must be evident to every person who has the least experience in the education of youth. Distinct dormitories, play-ground and study hall have been assigned to the younger boys, and persons appointed to superintend their studies, who will give them such attention as their tender age requires.

The course of Philosophy will be in future extended to two years for such as may wish to pursue the study of Ethics, together with the fundamental principles of civil, political, and international law. The higher branches of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, will also be continued, together with practical instruction in Astronomy in the College Observatory, thus affording the lover of this delightful science advantages not to be found in many institutions of the country.

Very Rev. Charles H. Stonestreet, S. J., Provincial.
Rev. Bernard A. Maguire, S. J., President.
" Daniel Lynch, S. J., Vice Pres. and Prof. of Poetry and History.
" George Fenwick, S. J., Prof. of Rhetoric.
" Alphonsus Charlier, S. J., Minister.
" James Clarke, S. J., Treasurer and Prof. of Mathematics.
" Benedict Sestini, S. J., Prof. of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy.

" Francis X. Knackstedt, S. J., Prof. of Hebrew.
" Joseph Ardia, S. J., Prof. of Logic and Metaphysics.

Besides these, there are six assistant professors of Languages and Mathematics; and six assistant prefects of discipline; twelve scholastics studying theology, and twenty-nine lay-brothers.

To insure success in their new undertaking, the Directors of the College of Loyola secured the services of Professors of known ability, and of many years experience. The buildings are very spacious, well distributed, and afford every comfort to the inmates. The extensive and tastefully improved grounds, traversed by a creek, give ample scope to the pupils for exercise. INSTITUTIONS.

CONVENT OF THE SISTERS OF OUR LADY OF MERCY,

Savannah, Ga.

In this establishment are seven professed nuns, one novice, and one postulant, who observe the rule of St. Vincent of Paul. Attached to it is a Boarding and Day School for young ladies, containing about one hundred and twenty pupils, as also An Orphan Asylum for Boys, established in Savannah, in Jan'y, 1855, with twenty-five orphans.

An Orphan Asylum for Girls, which maintains this year thirty orphans; besides

A Free Day School, averaging about one hundred pupils. The Institution has been in existence now several years in the city, and was originally a branch of the house founded in Charleston by the late Rt. Rev. Dr. England, of illustrious memory. Its introduction into Savannah is the happy work of Rev. J. F. O'Neill, Sr., who is also its Director. Sister Mary Vincent Mahoney is Mother Superior. There is also

A Day School for Boys, attached to the Church of St. John the Baptist, averaging about one hundred children. This likewise is the fruit of Father O Neill's zeal.

The Society of Our Lady Help of Christians, is of late institution. It is under the management of ladies, who do a great deal of good, visiting the sick, relieving the poor, and consoling the afflicted.

The Confraternity of the Rosary of the B. V. M. has a large number of members. They follow the method of the "living rosary."

The Confraternity of St. John the Baptist has been formed for the prevention of intemperance. Members take the pledge of total abstinence, and recite daily one Pater and Ave, besides the invocation to the patron "St. John the Baptist pray for us." Number, about one hundred.

The members of the Orphan Society pay a small sum monthly for the support of the inmates of the Orphan Asylum.

The Society of St. Vincent of Paul has for its object the providing of means for the support of candidates for the priesthood. Each member contributes twenty-five cents monthly. The existence of the five foregoing societies is due to the piety of the late lamented Bishop Gartland.

AUGUSTA.

An Affiliation of the House of Our Lady of Mercy in Savannah, was formed in Augusta in December, 1853. by V. Rev. John Barry, V. G., and is now in successful operation, under the same V. Rev. gentleman, as Director, and Sister Mary Ignatius, as Superior. Besides a Boarding and Day School for Pensioners, the Sisters conduct another for poor female children free of charge. The Orphan Asylum is a solid brick building, large in dimensions, and well adapted in its internal arrangements to promote the comforts of its inmates. Its blessings are already appreciated by the little orphans, who find shelter within its walls, and by the poor generally, whose children find it both an asylum of education and holiness. There are already some fifty poor children frequenting the school.

The Sisters also visit the sick, and the same ought to have been said in its own place, of the Sisters of the parent house in Savannah.

Schools of Christian Doctrine, or Sunday Schools, as also day schools, are attached to most of the churches of the diocess. The day schools, however, are generally but in their infancy, and are supported with difficulty.

Under the direction of the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. This institution, established in the city of Monroe in the year 1845, with the approbation, and under the patronage of the Right Rev. P. P. Lefevere, Bishop administrator of the Diocess of Detroit, is situated in the most beautiful and healthy part of the city, on the opposite side of the Catholic church.

This institute combines every advantage that can be derived from a literary institute for young ladies of America. Having been engaged for many years past in the instruction of youth these ladies have constantly justified the confidence of parents who entrusted their children to their care.

The plan of education, together with the benefit of christian instruction, unites every advantage that can be derived from a punctual and conscientious care bestowed on the pupils in every branch of science suitable to their sex; and from the uninterrupted attention which is given to form the manners and principles of the young ladies, and to train them up in habits of order, neatness and industry. The diet is good, wholesome and abundant; spacious grounds afford the pupils the facility of pleasant walks and useful bodily exercises. Their health is the object of constant solicitude. In sickness they are affectionately attended to, and never are they left a moment beyond the reach of inspection. The number of sisters in the house is 12, three of whom are novices. INSTITUTIONS.

UNIVERSITY OF ST. MARY OF THE LAKE, AND DIOCESAN SEMINARY.

Chicago, Illinois.

The annual session for studies in this institution, which is incorporated with University privileges, commences on the first Monday in September, and closes with the end of June.

The course of studies for which the best masters are provided, embraces Reading, Writing, History, Geography, Elocution, Rhetoric, Arithmetic, Book-keeping, Astronomy, Philosophy and Mathematics, with the Greek, Latin, German and French languages. As the science of salvation is a paramount object of study, which should always accompany the pursuit of secular knowledge, no means are omitted in this college to form the youthful mind to veneration for religion, and to instil into it the virtues by which God is to be served.

The influence of religion will be felt pervading every department of knowledge with which the understanding is to be filled, as also every department of discipline, by which the heart is to be formed and devoted to virtue.

Order, regularity, strict attention to propriety in dress, deportment and manners, these are not only prescribed to the pupils, but also judiciously inculcated, through the constant attendance of one of the clergymen of the establishment.

The students form one family with the president, professors and tutors.

Terms, per annum—to be paid half-yearly in advance.

INSTITUTIONS.

The Diocess having but recently been established, and being still without a Bishop, no Catholic establishments have as yet been formed in the Southern portion of the State. There is, however, an ample field and fine prospect for several literary and charitable institutions, which will no doubt spring up in various parts.

Four Sisters of St. Joseph, a branch of the Mother-house at Carondelet, Mo., have resumed the female school at Cahokia.

Flourishing male and female schools are attached to the churches of St. Lawrence and St. Boniface in Quincy; and several other, chiefly German, schools are in operation throughout the new diocess.

VILLA NOVA COLLEGE,

Delaware County, Pa.

This Institution, under the direction of the Fathers of the Order of St. Augustin, incorporated 1848, with the privileges of a University, is situated in a most healthy and beautiful part of Delaware county, ten miles from Philadelphia; and being located between the Lancaster Turnpike and Columbia Railroad, both of which pass through its extensive grounds, it is at all times easy of access. The building contains many large and commodious class-rooms; a spacious study hall, sixty feet by fifty, and fifteen feet high; two well ventilated dormitories, play rooms, wash room, &c.

A new building erected during the past year contains various improvements, amongst which are an infirmary and dining room.

YOUNG LADIES' ACADEMY,

Rochester, N. Y.

Conducted by Ladies of the Sacred Heart.

Buffalo Hospital, under the direction of the Daughters of Charity. This truly Christian institution is now in a very prosperous condition. Aware of its importance to a large city, its founders have spared neither cost nor labor to make it as useful as possible for all who may stand in need of such assistance. Within the past year, an addition was built to the original one, and the interior has undergone much improvement. The private rooms are neatly fitted out, and the general apartments of the sick are well arranged.

St. Joseph's Male Orphan Asylum, Buffalo, under the direction of Rev. J. M. Early. There are at present nearly 90 orphans in the house, and a great many have obtained good places during the year.

St. Patrick's Female Orphan Asylum, at Rochester, under the care of the Daughters of Charity. The number of orphans now in the house is about 80, averaging from five to fifteen years of age. During the past year many have obtained a home from adopted parents, and many others have been taken by their relatives and friends. The same Sisters also conduct a Select and Free School, in which a large number are taught those branches suited for their station in society. The number of Sisters in the Asylum is six. Sister Felicia, Sr. Servant.

St. Vincent's Female Orphan Asylum, at Buffalo, under the direction of eight Daughters of Charity. Sixty-five orphans at present find a home in this establishment, and these, together with a large number who came and went as soon as proper places could be procured for them, show what a vast amount of good these sisters are silently accomplishing. Sister Robertine Lanahan, Sr. Servant.

St. Vincent's Select School, at Buffalo, embracing all the branches usually taught in a female academy, under the care of the Daughters of Charity. Number of pupils about 60. The same sisters conduct the free school attached to St. Patrick's Church, in which 300 children receive instruction.

St. Mary's Female Orphan Asylum, attached to the congregation of St. Mary's Church, under the care of the Sisters of Notre-Dame. Many poor orphans that must otherwise have gone to destruction, have been well taken care of by these good sisters. Number of orphans about 50.

St. Joseph's Free School for Boys, attached to the Cathedral, and under the immediate inspection of the clergymen there stationed, numbering about 200 scholars.

St. Mary's Free School, Male and Female, under the superintendence of the Redemptorist Fathers, who have built an elegant and commodious house for that purpose. Number of pupils over 1,000. The female school is conducted by the Sisters of Notre-Dame, who also conduct the female school of St. Joseph's, Rochester.

St. Bridget's School, Male and Female, with apartments and teachers for each. Number of pupils about 200.

St. Vincent's School, attached to the church of St. Vincent, numbers about 150 pupils.

The Sisters of St. Bridget conduct schools in Rochester and Buffalo.

St. Joseph's Sunday School, taught by a society specially organized for that purpose, is doing a vast amount of good, by affording religious instruction each Sunday to over 1,000 children. About the same number attend St. Mary's Sunday School.

Besides the above mentioned schools, which comprise only Buffalo, parish schools are attached to almost all the principal churches of the diocess, each containing from 100 to 300 children. Sunday Schools are also taught each Sunday in all the churches, either by the pastor or competent persons appointed by him.

The Society of St. Vincent of Paul, whose duty is to collect and distribute the alms of the faithful, relieve a very large number of destitute poor, who are unable to provide for themselves and families. Much suffering has been allayed during the past winter, by the bounty of the donors and the charitable care of the Society, and many prayers ascend to heaven for both.

Societies of the Scapular, Rosary, the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and the Immaculate Heart of Mary, the Consolers of Mary for the decoration of the Altar, the Christian Sodality for the instruction of youth, Association for the propagation of the Faith, and many others are established in Buffalo and most of the principal churches in the diocess. The ladies of the Scapular Society at the Cathedral have a large circulating library for the use of its members.

The Sisters of "Our Lady of Charity for Refuge," established for the reclaiming of poor, lost, abandoned women, and for the preservation of young women, who, by any of the thousand accidents of life, may be in danger of losing their chastity. Mother Mary of St. Jerome, Superior.

Rev. A. Trevis, Director and Prof. of Moral Theology.

The course of the Preparatory Seminary, which is attached to the Theological Seminary, is suspended for the present, until the building, now in the way of erection, be completed.

CISTERCIAN MONASTERY OF OUR BLESSED LADY OF LA TRAPPE,

New Melleray, near Dubuque, Iowa.

This community is a filiation from the Abbey of Mount Melleray, county of Waterford, Ireland. In the early spring of 1849, two members of the above Monastery landed at New York, and after much toil and useless efforts to find a place suited to the establishment of a new Cistercian Monastery, they directed their footsteps to the "Far West." They were kindly received by the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Dubuque, who gave them 420 acres partly improved land with house, water privilege, mineral ground, timber, and stone quarry, and also pecuniary aid. They have now 1,600 acres of land. There are at present 47 members in the community, some of whom devote both their time and talents to the education of youth. Amongst the members of this community there are thirteen choir members, of whom seven are priests, thirty-two professed lay-brothers and two novices.

Very Rev. Clement Smyth, Prior.
Rev. James O'Gorman, Sub-Prior.
" Bernard McCaffery, Master of Novices.
" Palladius Cosgrove, Sacristan.
" Francis Walsh, Master of the Choir.
" Patrick Mohan.
" John Robers, a Novice.
Brother M. Bernard, Procurator.

BROTHERS OF CHRISTIAN INSTRUCTION.

The Brothers of Christian Instruction of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary, established at Dubuque in 1851, by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Loras, have been generously provided by him with a fine brick building three stories high, and capable of accommodating comfortably from 15 to 20 brothers. They have under their charge above 200 pupils, divided into three classes, for a greater improvement. Their schools are built with the same materials as their dwelling house, having a fine play-ground in front of it and behind.

NOVITIATE.

Five miles from Dubuque they own a farm of 251 acres of land, called New Paradise, where they have their novitiate. It is located in one of the best positions all around for the purpose, affording all the conveniences for such an establishment—very healthy, extremely retired from the tumult of the world, with plenty of timber for all purposes, and well supplied with pure spring water—close by Mount St. Bernard Seminary, where they go every day to mass. They are preparing the materials to make new additions to the buildings now in use. The manual labors are performed by seven brothers; they have also there a school for the children about the place. There are sixteen brothers, or novices, in both establishments. Postulants desiring to consecrate themselves to God in that Institute, may be received, by applying to Brother David, Director—having a good certificate from their own pastor. The brothers derive their support from their pay schools, where the children are numerous enough to afford them a living; if not, the deficiency is supplied by the Rt. Rev. Bishop or pastor of the place. The brothers of Dubuque are a branch of those established by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Portier, of Mobile, in his diocess in 1845, and also in the State of Mississippi.

ST. JOSEPH'S FEMALE ACADEMY,

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY,

St. Paul, Minnesota.

There are four students of theology in the Seminary attached to the Bishop's house ; four other students are preparing for the holy ministry in other diocesses.

BROTHERS OF THE HOLY FAMILY,

St. Paul, Minnesota.

Four Brothers of the Society of the Holy Family (a religious institution approved by the Church) arrived ten months ago in St. Paul, not only to take charge of the boys' school, but also to establish a novitiate of their order, which is calculated to produce a great deal of good, particularly in new missions ; as according to their institutions, a single member may be sent alone, with a clergyman, in the capacity of teacher, sacristan, chorister, and catechist. A priest, member of this society, is expected to organize this novitiate, and form some subjects to the religious life, and make them fit members of the institute.

A numerous school for boys under the superintendence of V. Rev. A. Ravoux, is kept in spacious and elegant rooms of the lower story of the Bishop's house.

SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH,

St. Paul, Minnesota.

Their house, (a brick building,) situated in a fine and healthy location on the highest point of the bank of the Mississippi, between the lower and upper town, affords spacious room for more than one hundred day-scholars and a good number of boarders.

The branches taught in this institution are the same usually taught in other academies of the Union. Besides reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar and geography, plain sewing and all kinds of needle-work, they give lessons of sacred and profane history, elements of astronomy, chemistry, botany, literature, music, vocal and instrumental.

The terms for boarders, (always six months in advance,) are $100 per annum, with small extra charges, when the parents or tutors do not take the expenses of washing, mending, music, &c.

For further information apply to Mother Seraphine, Superior of the community, who, with her assistant, will exert herself for the proper instruction and training of her pupils.

SISTERS OF THE PROPAGATION OF THE FAITH,
Pimbina, Minnesota.

These Sisters, seven in number, conduct an English, French and Indian school, and by their knowledge of the languages used by the different tribes, they are particularly qualified for the instruction of persons of their own sex and of children. They have 100 pupils in their schools. They receive boarders at the rate of $30 for six months. These sisters intend, as soon as circumstances permit, to extend their charitable labors to the sick.

An hospital, at St. Paul, all of stone, three stories and a half high, besides the basement, 75 feet by 34, in a fine location, on a large block given for the most part by Mr. H. Price, is completed. It affords room enough in its different divisions, for a Novitiate for the Sisters; for an orphan asylum, and many patients.

Temperance Society and Benevolent Society.

Most of the members of the society of the Living Rosary, and of the Archconfraternity of the Sacred Heart of Mary, have formed a charitable confraternity for the relief of the poor and of the sick, the religious instruction of children, and the decent support of the sanctuary.

BENEDICTINE NUNNERY,

St. Mary's, Elk County.

These Religious are from the celebrated convent of St. Walburga, in Eichstadt, kingdom of Bavaria. They devote themselves to the education of their sex, hitherto of the girls of the parish school, but they will shortly open an academy for imparting the higher graces and accomplishments of female education, for which they are singularly well qualified. Sister Benedicta Reipp is the Mother Superior, with 5 professed Sisters, and 16 novices.

Remark.—The St. Marystown is a large settlement, exclusively Catholic, and affords most powerful attractions to German Catholics especially, who desire the advantages of society for themselves and schools for their children. The Sunbury and Erie Railroad, now in process of construction, passes through it, and will have the effect of opening to market the almost inexhaustible mines of coal and iron, which will soon make these lands sought after for speculation as well as settlement.

The northern portions of Potter and McKean counties from their proximity to the New York and Erie Railroad offer inducements equally great to the Irish emigrant, since two or three settlements (as at Newell Creek and Genesee) are already formed, where the Irish Catholic element preponderates, with the advantage of churches and schools.

CONGREGATION OF THE HOLY CROSS,

Notre-Dame, St. Joseph's County, Indiana.

This congregation consists of three distinct branches, having the same end, nearly the same rules, the same vows of obedience, poverty and chastity, the same interests and government, viz:

1st. The "Priests of the Holy Cross," consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Their constitutions are similar to those of St. Ignatius of Loyola; they devote themselves to missions and to education, in which they are assisted by the Brothers. Number of professed in this diocess, 8; novices 10.

2d. The Brothers consecrated to the Most Holy Heart of St. Joseph. Their institution is very similar, both as to its character and end, to that of the Christian Brothers, and they follow the same plan of instruction. They have been instituted chiefly to teach the poor and destitute, but they are also employed as assistant teachers and prefects at the college of the congregation, as directors of orphan asylums and manual labor schools, and to discharge the manual offices connected with a college and a farm. The most suitable age for admission is from fifteen to thirty-five, and the qualifications are, a blameless character, sound constitution, a true piety, pure morals, a firm and conciliating temper, and a great desire of sanctifying themselves in the line of obedience. When Brothers are sent on a mission, there must be at least two, each of whom must receive a salary of $150, per annum, unless the school is on their own account. Their novitiate is of one year, but they cannot make their perpetual vows before they are 21 years of age. Number of professed, 31 ; novices, 16 ; postulants, 9 ; number of boys in the manual labor school at Notre-Dame, 56.

3d. The "Sisters of the Holy Cross," consecrated to the Sorrowful and Immaculate Heart of Mary, form the third branch of the congregation, and unite the different vocations of the Ursulines and the Sisters of Charity, having charge of academies for the finished education of female youth, as well as of schools for the poor, manual labor schools, asylums and hospitals. Their novitiate is at St. Mary's, St. Joseph's county, Indiana, about two miles from Notre-Dame. This is also the site of their principal academy, and of the "Manual Labor School of the Immaculate Conception," founded for young girls between the ages of 12 and 18. Terms of admittance into either the male or female labor school, $50. They are then provided for until of age, and instructed in a useful trade and the ordinary branches of a common school education. Number of professed sisters, 33 ; novices, 38 ; postulants, 25. Number of girls in the manual labor school, 25.

PREPARATORY SEMINARY OF ST. THOMAS,

Near Bardstown, Ky.

The object of this institution, conducted by clergymen of the diocess of Louisville, is to afford to such youths as feel inclined for the ecclesiastical state, an opportunity to ascertain and pursue their vocation. The Most Rev. Archbishop and the Rt. Rev. Bishops of the Province of Cincinnati, when assembled in council in May last, adopted it as the Preparatory Seminary for the whole province. It is therefore under their special patronage; and the rules, plan of instruction, &c., are subject to their approbation.

The course of studies is a full classical one, embracing Latin, Greek, English, German, French, (with all the branches connected therewith,) Mathematics, and the elements of Natural Sciences. It is divided into six years—the Mathematics and Natural Sciences being reserved for the last. But students who may be desired by their Bishop to confine themselves to some of the branches taught, or who may possess endowments enabling them to advance faster than the generality, have every facility to finish in a shorter time. The object of the institution renders it unnecessary to say anything of the care that will always be given to religious instruction and to training in Church ceremonies and singing.

There is but one session of ten months, beginning on the first Monday of September.

Terms.—Board, tuition in all the branches, washing, mending, books and stationery.....$ 85 00

The above, with clothing furnished..... 115 00

Payments to be made invariably half-yearly in advance.

For their own benefit and that of the Orphan Asylum, with which the Seminary is connected, the students will be employed one or two hours in teaching or otherwise in the institution.

Applicants are received from any part of the Union. In all cases a recommendation from their Bishop or their immediate Pastor is required.

For further particulars, the public are referred to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Louisville, to the Most Rev. Archbishop of Cincinnati, and the other prelates of the province.

This institution, lately established, is conducted by the Oblates of Mary, under the patronage of the Rt. Rev. J. M. Odin, Bishop of the diocess, in the new, large and well located brick building erected for that purpose.

The building stands on the College block, at the east end of the city. Its location being the most elevated part of the Island, is healthy, remote from the business part of the town, and favorable to study. It also commands an extensive view of the Gulf, from which it is distant only some hundred yards. The extent of the grounds, the continual sea breeze, the delicious walks on the beach, the capacity, the comfort, and even the elegance of the rooms destined for the pupils, and the spacious dormitories, will render it in point of salubrity, all that can be desired.

The system of government will be mild and paternal, yet firm in enforcing a strict observance of the discipline. The pupils will always be under the immediate control and the strictest supervision of the professors, and will form but one family with them. The most particular attention will be paid to the morality and health of the children. A peculiar care will be taken of the younger pupils. Children of every denomination will be received; yet, for the sake of good order, every one will be obliged to attend the public service on Sundays.

Letters of recommendation will be required of those who come from other colleges.

One session of ten months will constitute the collegiate year, which will open on the first of October, and close on the first of August, by a public distribution of premiums.

Every three months bulletins will be sent to parents or guardians, informing them of the progress, deportment and health of their children or wards.

SEMINARY OF ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST.

The exercises of the Seminary are temporarily suspended, and the students have been placed in other seminaries. Two are studying in Rome, two in France, and one in Baltimore.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE,

Columbia, S. C.

This institution, undertaken with the sanction of the Rt. Rev. Bishop, and already so favorably known to the public, is situated in the most healthy town of the Southern States, and affords young men all the advantages of a sound and moral education. Respectable children of every denomination are received, without distinction, and the strictest attention paid to their moral and physical well-being; their Professors being not only the directors of their studies, but also the companions of their recreations.

Accessions have been made to the Mathematical and Scientific Departments, which greatly facilitates these studies. There are at present over one hundred pupils, from seven years upwards in the College; and ample provisions have been made for the accommodation of as many others. Thoroughly domestic in character,—all publications or tendencies, hostile to our Southern interests, are rigidly excluded.

The various departments of a Classical, Scientific and English Education are already filled by able and competent Professors. Students will be received at all times; on entering, each will be examined and placed in the classes for which his previous attainments qualify him.

The educational system is the same which is pursued in many of the leading colleges in Europe and in the United States. It embraces three courses:

1. The Preparatory, lasting usually one year, and comprising Reading, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Grammar, Modern Geography, and the elements of such branches as are afterwards to be pursued.

2. The Commercial, which lasts three years, and comprises the elements of Philosophy, of Geometry and Algebra, Book-keeping, History, the English and French languages.

3. The Classical, which lasts six years, and comprises Literature, Ancient Geography, the higher branches of Mathematics, Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Logic, Metaphysics, Ethics, the Greek and Latin languages.

The scholastic year commences on the third Monday in September, and ends on the third Monday of July, by a public examination and exhibition.

Having recently been incorporated as a College, by statute of December, 1853, we are authorized to confer Degrees, and do such other acts as a College rightfully may do in its corporate capacity.

The liberal patronage extended to the institution is the surest warrant of the fidelity with which our engagements have been fulfilled; and the subscribers again renew them with much pleasure to their kind patrons.

Remark.—The diocess is blessed with good schools at Little Rock and Fort Smith, but stands in great need of a few zealous clergymen. In the allocation of alms to the different missions for 1854, it is charged with receiving 8,196 francs, when the sum received was only 2,400 francs. Had the Bishop the means within his reach he would have long since established a convent of Our Lady of Mercy at Helena, on the banks of the Mississippi.

INSTITUTIONS.

Ecclesiactical Students.—The Bishop does not continue his theological seminary, but has, at this moment, in various ecclesiastical institutions, twenty-two young men, studying for the priestly state.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER'S CONVENT OF SISTERS OF MERCY,

Providence, R. I.

Sister Mary Francis Xavier Warde, Mother Superior.

The Sisters of this Order devote themselves to instruction, especially the religious instruction of both children and adults, to the service of the poor and sick, both at their own houses and in hospitals, and to the protection of young women of good character. The Mother-house and novitiate are in Broad street, Providence. There are in this community 17 professed choir sisters, 14 novices, 4 postulants, and 17 lay-sisters.

Young Ladies' Academy—Conducted by the Sisters of Mercy. This academy is attached to the Mother-house, where all the branches essential to a refined education are taught.

St. Mary's R. C. Orphan Asylum.—The sisters have opened in a house connected with their Convent, the above institution, in which there are fifty-three orphans. Much good has already been accomplished by this institution.

Cathedral Female Free School.—The Sisters of Mercy have charge of this school, in which they teach daily 300 children.

St. Patrick's Female Free School.—The Sisters of Mercy are in charge of this school, and teach in it daily 200 children.

St. Joseph's Female Free School.—The Sisters of Mercy are in charge of this school; though only in its commencement it is very numerously attended.

ST. CATHARINE'S CONVENT,

New Haven.

The Sisters of Mercy in this city have an orphan asylum, and are in charge of St. Mary's Free School, attended by 240 little girls. They have also an academy at their residence. Sister M. Josephine Lombard, Local Superior. This academy is in a flourishing condition.

The Sisters in New Haven have also the charge of St. Patrick's Female Free School, where they teach 300 little children.

ST. MARY'S CONVENT,

Hartford.

The Sisters of Mercy in this city keep an orphan asylum and teach in the free school about 200 little girls. They have also an academy at their residence. Sister M. Paula Lombard, Local Superior.

ST. MARIA'S OF THE ISLE,

Newport.

The Sisters of Mercy in this city have charge of the Female Free School, attended by 160 children. This institution is only in its commencement. Sister M. Gertrude Bradley, Local Superior.

BOYS' SCHOOLS.

Cathedral Free School for Boys.—This school is taught by an accomplished teacher, aided by an assistant, and is under the supervision of a clergyman of the Cathedral. There are 300 boys in daily attendance.

St. Patrick's Free School for Boys.—There are in daily attendance in this school, about 200 boys. In that of St. Joseph's there are about 150.

There are male and female free schools in Hartford, Norwich, New London, New Haven, Bridgeport, Birmingham, Newport and Pautucket, and all in a most flourishing condition, and fully equal to the best State schools. It is to be hoped, that in a little time every congregation in the diocess will have its school. If we wish to save the rising generation to religion and God, we will, even at a sacrifice, give them a thorough Catholic education; nothing short of this will protect youth against error, and save them to religion.

Sunday Schools exist in all the congregations in the diocess, and are fairly attended.

As the majority of our children are daily occupied in the factories, the pastors will endeavor to have them attend the Sunday School.

Religious Societies.—The Purgatorian Society organized at the Cathedral, is in a most flourishing condition. Its object is continuous prayer for the souls of the faithful departed. It is eminently religious, and gives much edification. The holy father has most kindly extended the indulgence and privilege of the parent society in Dublin to the society in this diocess.

The Scapular and Rosary societies are organized in almost all the congregations of the diocess, and are in a prosperous condition.

INSTITUTIONS.

CONVENT OF OUR LADY OF LIGHT,

Santa Fe.

Under the direction of the "Sisters of Loretto."

This institution was opened January 1, 1853. Sister Magdalen Hayden, Mother Superior. This academy has already a good number of boarders and day-scholars. Young ladies are taught all the branches which constitute a good education, with music, English, Spanish and French languages.

A preparatory school is kept by Padre Trujillo for young men who wish to enter the holy ministry.

The wild Indians (infidels) in this territory are estimated at 25,000, and several tribes have expressed their desire of being instructed in the Catholic faith, but unfortunately the number of clergymen is not sufficient to attend to these pressing wants.

OBITUARY.

"It is a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead; that they may be loosed from their sins."—2 Machab.

CLERICAL.

December 7.—At St. Bridget's church, New York, Rev. Philip O'Reilly, O. S. D. Deceased was a missionary in the States of New York and New Jersey for nearly forty years.

December 7.—At New Orleans, Rev. George Blackney, S. J., in the 37th year of his age. Born in the county Carlow, Ireland, he entered the Society of Jesus at Rome in 1839, and after the study of philosophy and theology, was ordained at Lyons in 1847. After a brief visit to his native land, he was sent to the American mission, where he labored chiefly in the pastoral charge of the church of the Holy Name of Jesus, in New Orleans.

January 9.—At Brownsville, Texas, Rev. B. Duperray, aged 26 years. A native of France, he had been in the United States but a few years.

January 24.—At New York, of consumption, Rev. Francis Newton Hurley, of the Diocess of Albany, and Pastor of the united parishes of Coxsackie and Coeymans on one side, and Valatie and New Lebanon Springs on the other side of the Hudson river, in the 34th year of his age. Deceased contracted the sickness which terminated his mortal career in the faithful discharge of his onerous and arduous duty, being led to undertake what was beyond his strength through love and zeal for our holy religion. As a priest and patriot he had no superior, as a writer and public speaker few if any have surpassed him, as his speeches and letters in the Dublin Nation will prove to any person who read that journal in 1848, at which period deceased officiated as priest in Kerry, Ireland, his native diocess, where his memory will be ever cherished with the fondest remembrance, for his unflinching and disinterested advocacy of the rights of the poor, in the time of their greatest need—the famine of forty-eight—as well as for his untiring zeal, charity and exertions in soothing the dying pillow of the destitute, starving and plague-stricken Christian. His pastoral duty in the above named parishes was discharged with an equal devotedness and fervor, which endeared him to the hearts of all his parishioners, by whom his death will be long lamented. His many amiable qualities and christian virtues so endeared him to his brother priests as to cause them to regret sincerely his demise in the prime of life, from the scene of his labors. During the short period of four years, his mission in this country, he has left behind him as monuments of his untiring zeal and exertions, three beautiful churches erected solely through his endeavors.

February 19.—At St. Louis, Rev. John B. Smedts, aged 54 years. A native of Belgium, he came to this country in 1821, and was recently employed in the St. Louis University.

March 9.—At Charleston, S. C., the Rt. Rev. Ignatius Aloysius Reynolds, second Bishop of that See, in the 57th year of his age. Bishop Reynolds was born near Bardstown, Kentucky, on the 22d of August, 1798. His parents, who were distinguished for their piety, bestowed the utmost attention on his education, and by word and example trained his youthful mind to piety and virtue. At an early age he formed the generous resolution of consecrating himself to the service of God, in the holy ministry, and entered the Episcopal Seminary of Kentucky. He afterwards pursued and completed his theological studies at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, where he was ordained priest. Shortly after his return to Kentucky, he was nominated Professor in St. Joseph's College, and was subsequently appointed to preside over that institution. In 1844 he was selected to fill the vacant See of Charleston. On the 19th of March he was consecrated at the Cathedral of Cincinnati, and proceeded without delay to take charge of his diocess. During the eleven years of his Episcopate he labored with untiring zeal to promote the cause of religion. Among the acts of his administration, may be mentioned the publication of Bishop England's writings, and the erection of the beautiful Cathedral in the city of Charleston. He watched with solicitude over the Catholic institutions, and strove earnestly and anxiously to encourage their growth, and to extend the sphere of their usefulness. His parental kindness, courtesy and generosity, endeared him to his clergy; his urbanity and gentle, yet dignified demeanor towards all, won for him the respect, not only of Catholics, but even of those who belonged not to his spiritual jurisdiction. In him the poor, the afflicted and the distressed found a father, a consoler and a friend. The virtues which had so distinguished him during thirty years of a laborious ministry, shone more conspicuously as his life drew to a close. The patience and resignation with which he bore his suffering, especially during the last and painful stages of his disease—the congestion of the lungs—elicited the admiration of all who approached him.

March 23.—At Louisville, Ky., Rev. Francis X. D'Hope, S. J., director of St. Aloysius Free School, in that city, aged 42 years.

March 27.—At St. Louis, Mo., Mr. James Galvin, a scholastic of the Society of Jesus, aged 22 years.

February 1.—At Troy, N. Y., of apoplexy, Rev. Nicholas Petit, S. J., in the 66th year of his age. He was a native of St. Domingo, whence his mother, a widow, was obliged to fly, together with her children, to escape the horrors of the revolution in that island. She first came to Baltimore, in Maryland, where she taught school, and after a few years went to the South of France. Her son Nicholas having completed his studies was ordained priest, and upon the restoration of the Society of Jesus, was enrolled among its members in 1816. He was soon associated with Father Guyon in those celebrated missions which revived the spirit of faith among the Catholics of France. Father Petit was a man of great piety and zeal, and had a particular tact for organizing processions and other religious celebrations. Sent to the U. States in 1835, he was employed in the diocess of Louisville until the year 1846, when he was transferred to that of N. York. He labored for some time at the churches of the Holy Name of Jesus and St. Vincent of Paul in that city, and lastly in Troy, where he closed his useful career.

April 19.—At East Boston, Mass., Rev. William Wiley. Born at New York of Protestant parents, and cast from his infancy upon the charity of the world, by his own determination of character he overcame the greatest obstacles in order to embrace the Catholic faith. This he did at the age of 16 years, and was confirmed in 1820 by the Rt. Rev. John Cheverus, first Bishop of Boston. Raised to the sublime dignity of the priesthood in 1827, he labored successfully in Boston, Salem, Taunton and Providence, and every where left behind him the reputation of a zealous and disinterested laborer in the vineyard of the Lord. He had been only three years in charge of the congregation of E. Boston, but his many virtues had already gained such a place in the esteem and affections of his flock, that his name will long be remembered with affectionate regret. He died at the age of 51 years, after a long and painful illness, which he endured with heroic patience and resignation.

May 31.—At St. Louis, Missouri, Rev. Emmanuel Costa, S. J., aged 40 years.

June 14.—At Carrolltown, Cambria county, Pa., Rev. Ildephonsus Boeld, O. S. B., prior of the Benedictine community, and pastor of the church at that place. A native of Munich, Bavaria, he studied in the University of that city; and after his arrival in this country he entered the order of St. Benedict, and was ordained priest in 1851. As he was returning on horseback from Loretto to Carrolltown, his horse fell, and injured him so severely that it was necessary to place him in the nearest house, where he expired two days after, regretted by all his brethren.

July 4.—At Philadelphia, Rev. Patrick Corry, aged about 40 years. He emigrated to this country when quite a youth, and shortly after his arrival entered the seminary of Mount St. Mary's, near Emmitsburg. After his ordination, Mr. Corry remained at the Mountain engaged in the laborious occupation of training youth in the path of science. Recently he entered on the mission, and was for some time attached to St. Patrick's Church, Philadelphia, where he died, after a short illness.

August 9.—At St. Louis, Mo., Rev. Eugene Plantaz, S. J., of yellow fever. He had been for some time a professor in St. Charles College, at Grand Coteau, La.

August 20.—At Baton Rouge, La., Rev. J. Adams, S. J., of yellow fever, in his 39th year. Born near Bardstown, Ky., he was educated at St. Joseph's College, in that place, and at St. Mary's, Baltimore, after which he labored for several years as a priest in Kentucky. In 1848 he entered the Society of Jesus, and about the same time, being removed South, was made Vice-President of Spring Hill College, near Mobile, in which capacity he was employed with much usefulness and distinction for six years. He was recently connected with the college in New Orleans. Having gone to Baton Rouge to address the students of the collegiate institution in that city, he was immediately carried off by the prevailing epidemic. He was an accomplished scholar and effective preacher, and was universally beloved for his social and Christian virtues.

September 4.—At Eastport, Maine, Rev. Kenneth A. Kennedy, S. J. Born in the city of New York, on the 21st of April, 1818. Father Kennedy received his classical and religious education at Georgetown College, and entered the Novitiate of the Society of Jesus in 1834. The years of his scholasticate were spent in study, in teaching, or in the occupation of prefect at Georgetown College. Evincing a great acuteness of mind and an especial capacity for scientific investigation, he was, after ordination, appointed to the chair of Mathematics and the Natural Sciences at the College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, Massachusetts. There he remained, with a slight interruption, until the destruction of that College by fire. He then, by the direction of his Superior, cheerfully hastened to the laborious missions of Maine, where he was employed until his death. The termination of his earthly career was preceded by a brief illness of three days' duration, during which the pains of disease and the terrors of approaching dissolution were mitigated by all the comforts of religion, and his soul prepared for its passage from its mortal tenement by the sacraments of the Church. "The last words he uttered," writes his bosom friend and co-laborer, were: "my Jesus, I hope in thee!" With this assistance, and this hope, he departed to receive the reward merited by his sacrifice for Christ, and by labors performed in His cause. He was buried at Pleasant Point, in the chapel of the Indians, to whom he had ministered with peculiar zeal and affection, and who, whilst they guard his mortal remains, preserve, too, the undying memory of his many virtues.

September 29.—Killed on the occasion of the disastrous railroad accident, near Burlington, New Jersey, Hugh Rush, a scholastic of the Society of Jesus. Mr. Rush was born at Omagh, Ireland, September 22nd, 1834. Feeling himself called to the service of God in the Society of Jesus, he did not hesitate to undertake, at a tender age and unprotected, a long journey from home for the purpose of entering the novitiate at Frederick. His career among his religious brethren was too short to afford many facts worthy of record, but was long enough to leave for their instruction the remembrance of his edifying example. Whilst the suddenness of his death gives him a peculiar claim to the prayers of his brethren of the faith, the innocence of his youth, and the fact that he had just completed his annual retreat, afford them a well-grounded hope that, though death came unexpectedly, it did not find him unprepared.

October 9.—At Portsmouth, Va., of yellow fever, Rev. Francis Devlin, aged about 40 years. From the moment that the yellow fever appeared at Portsmouth, he was indefatigable in his exertions, not only to carry spiritual aid to the victims, but also to relieve their corporal necessities. Night and day he was found at the bedside of the fevered and dying, fulfilling the duty of nurse while discharging the office of minister of religion. He made their beds, cleaned their rooms and brought from his own dwelling soups and drinks for their use. At length he was stricken down himself by the awful pestilence; but as soon as his strength permitted he was again at the bedside of the dying, and by his exertions in assisting to bury the remains of a poor man, he suffered a relapse under which he sank, the victim of his charity and zeal.

October 12.—At Vicksburg, Mississippi, Rev. Réné Toussaint Courjault, aged 47 years.

October 11.—At Lowell, Massachusetts, of pneumonia, Rev. Timothy O'Brien, aged 64 years. Born in Tipperary, Ireland, he came to this country in 1816, and was a student, first at Georgetown College, and then at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, which he entered in 1818, and where, after the completion of his theological course, he was ordained priest, in August, 1819. For a short time he exercised the holy ministry at St. Patrick's church, Baltimore, but he was chiefly employed in the missions of Baltimore and Harford counties, which embraced also at that time Doughoregan Manor, the seat of the venerable Charles Carroll, of Carrollton. By the efforts of Mr. O'Brien a church was erected at Long Green. The Catholics in these different localities remember his zeal, and still speak of him with affectionate regard. In 183— he was appointed to the pastorship of the church in Richmond, then under the administration of the Archbishop of Baltimore. From that period to 1851, he was untiring in his exertions to promote the interests of the flock that had been confided to his care. He expended a considerable sum for the improvement of the church-edifices, and established on a permanent footing the school and orphan asylum under the care of the Daughters of Charity. Four years ago he joined his brother, the Rev. John O'Brien, in the pastoral care of St. Patrick's church, Lowell, and since that time, by their united exertions, they erected one of the finest Catholic churches in the Union. The establishment of an academy and free-school for girls, under the care of the Sisters of Notre Dame, was the fruit of the personal exertions and sacrifices of the Rev. Father Timothy. Even on his death-bed he was occupied with the wants of the Catholic children of Lowell, and only regretted that his life was not spared to realize the plans suggested by his zeal for the glory of God and the salvation of souls. His name will long be held in grateful and affectionate remembrance by the Catholics of Lowell.

October 13.—At the college of All Hallows, Ireland, John McCloskey, a young man of talent and piety who was destined for the Diocess of Richmond, Virginia.

November 2.—At Louisville, Ky., of typhoid, Rev. Charles J. Boeswald, pastor of the German church of the Immaculate Conception in that city, in his 36th year. A native of Bavaria, he came to this country in 1843, and was ordained priest the same year by the late Bishop Flaget. He exercised the holy ministry first at Newport, Ky., and for the last nine years at Louisville, where he erected the church of which he was pastor, and was chiefly instrumental in establishing an asylum for German orphan boys. As a clergyman he was distinguished for his talents, piety and zeal. At the time of his death he held the office of Chancellor and Secretary of the diocess.

November 13.—At Natchez, Miss., the Rev. James Oliver Vandevelde, aged about 60 years. He was born in Belgium, of a family high in official influence and social position, the honor and advantages of which he cheerfully renounced in order to labor in the vineyard of Christ. Having entered the Society of Jesus, he came to this country, more than forty years ago, and was employed first at Georgetown College and afterwards in the missions of the West. For many years he labored among the Indian tribes of Missouri Territory. He also filled several important posts in the society to which he belonged, being at one time President of the University of St. Louis, and at another, Superior of the Vice-Province of Missouri. In 1848 he was appointed to the Episcopal See of Chicago, which had become vacant by the death of Bishop Quarter, and during the thirteen years of his administration he displayed great zeal in promoting the interests of the flock confided to his care. The same zeal characterized the brief period of his connection with the diocess of Natchez, to which he was transferred in 1853. The cause of his death was a fall, by which he fractured one of his legs in two places. This brought on a fever which assumed a yellow type, and put an end to his useful career. Bishop Van de Velde was a man of handsome abilities and very affable manners.

——— At New Orleans, Louisiana, Rev. E. Henriot, pastor of St. Bartholomew's church at Algiers, in that city.

——— At Grand Coteau, Louisiana, Rev. Vital Giles, S. J.

——— At ——, Rev.——Morachini, C. M.

This summary exhibits the statistics of each diocess and of each ecclesiastical province. The total of clergymen here varies, from that of the alphabetical list, owing to several not having been reported on active duty.

From the summary here presented, and preceding statements, it follows that in the United States there are 7 archbishops, 33 bishops, 1761 priests, and 1910 churches, distributed among 41 diocesses and 2 apostolic vicariates, and showing for the past year an increase of 1 bishop, 57 priests, and 86 churches. During the year 2 bishops and 21 priests departed this life, 1 was elevated to the episcopacy, and besides these, about 115 whose names appeared on the catalogue of 1855, are not reported for 1856: whence it appears, that the total accession of priests during the year was nearly 200.

The figures of population in the table are those returned by the Most Rev. and Rt. Rev. Bishops: but as they are not complete, we forbear any hypothetical estimate of the total number of Catholics in the United States, in regard to which there exists so vast a difference of opinion. The subject, however, is one of great interest, and we respectfully suggest that the intrinsic difficulties which it presents, are by no means insurmountable. The ratios of births and deaths to the number of living in the United States, have been very accurately determined, as presented in the last census of the country, and might serve as the basis of a satisfactory estimate of the Catholic population. It is well known, that among Catholics few, if any, neglect to have their children baptized, and that they have these baptisms performed, and their dead buried, within their own church, and consequently the baptisms and interments would be accurate exponents of the births and deaths. The only desirable information therefore for ascertaining the number of Catholics in the United States, is the number of baptisms or interments which have taken place among them in any given year, for instance, from August 1, 1855, to August 1, 1856. The question is, how are we to obtain this information. The only feasible plan that we can suggest, is the following. As all the Rev. clergy, in cure of souls, keep a register of baptisms and burials, it will be very easy for them to forward to the bishops, at their request, by them to be transmitted to the publishers of the Almanac, the number that will have occurred from August 1st, 1855, to August 1st, of the present year. If this be done, or, if at the request of the bishops, those figures of baptisms or interments be communicated directly to the publishers of the Almanac before the 1st of September, the Catholic population of the United States can be furnished, with a reliable accuracy, in the following number of the work.

* In this column is given the number of ecclesiastical students and candidates, both secular and regular.

† This column exhibits the number of distinct establishments in which members of female religious orders and congregations reside, for works of charity or instruction.

ECCLESIASTICAL AFFAIRS.

The Immaculate Conception of the B. V. M. declared a Dogma of Faith.

In an Allocution of the Sovereign Pontiff, Pius IX., delivered in the Secret Consistory held December 1st, 1854, he said:

"You are fully aware how great piety and devotion throughout the Catholic world towards the Immaculate Conception of the mother of God has daily increased, and with what zeal the Church and our predecessors have gloried in fostering and promoting this piety and devotion, and defending this doctrine, and with what repeated and earnest prayers not only Catholic bishops, but also the most distinguished personages, have besought the Apostolic See to define the Immaculate Conception of the mother of God as a dogma of Catholic faith.

"As petitions of this kind were addressed to our predecessors of happy memory, Gregory XVI., and also to ourselves, we have, from the beginning of our pontificate, bestowed our care and thoughts on this matter with the closest application. But desirous of using all deliberation in an affair of so much moment, as you truly know, we appointed a special congregation, composed of several of your distinguished body, as well as members of the secular and regular clergy thoroughly versed in theological learning, to weigh this subject with the most studious attention, and make known their sentiments to us. Afterwards we also sent an encyclical letter, given at Gaeta, February 2, 1849, to all the prelates of the Catholic world, that they should inform us by their letters what was the belief of their own clergy and the faithful concerning the Immaculate Conception of the mother of God, and chiefly what the bishops themselves thought of this subject, or what they desired in relation to it.

"When to the great joy of our heart we learned, both by the testimonies of the aforesaid special congregation and the answers of almost all the bishops, as well as the desires of the same theologians, this definition was most earnestly demanded, we commanded a draft of an Apostolic letter to be made and to be communicated to you. Wherefore, after all these measures, we to-day, while humbly imploring the aid of divine light, desire to know most freely your sentiments also on this most important subject. Does it please you, therefore, that we should issue a dogmatic definition of the Immaculate Conception of the most blessed Virgin Mary?"

The votes of all having been given, the Pontiff continued:

"Venerable Brethren, we are truly affected with great joy since we observe your votes correspond to our desires. We therefore name the eighth day of this month of December, on which the feast of the Immaculate Conception is celebrated by the Universal Church, for issuing and publishing this decree, and we will do it with solemn rite and ceremony in our Patriarchal Vatican Basilica. But in the mean time do not cease to beg of God, that under His favor and inspiration we may happily accomplish this important affair to the glory of His divine name, to the honor and praise of the most blessed Virgin, as well as the exaltation of the Catholic faith, and the advancement of the Christian religion."

The morning of the 8th was as bright and serene as a day in spring, and Rome, proverbial for its boundless devotion to Mary, was in motion at early dawn, and on all sides manifested its joy. Its citizens of all classes, together with a great concourse of strangers, assembled from all parts, directing their steps to the Vatican. All were eager to assist at the solemn ceremony, and to hear from the lips of the common Father of the faithful what they should henceforth hold as a dogma of faith regarding the Immaculate Conception of Mary.

About half-past eight, all the Cardinals, Archbishops and Bishops, arrayed in their pontifical robes, assembled at the Sixtine Chapel. This august assembly was composed not only of the Cardinals and Prelates who usually reside in Rome, but of Cardinals, Archbishops and Bishops from all parts of the world. The number congregated on this occasion consisted of 53 cardinals, 42 archbishops, 98 bishops and 3 bishops-elect, making in all 196 prelates. On the arrival of the Sovereign Pontiff the procession formed and moved, chaunting the Litany of the Saints, to the Basilica of the Vatican, where his Holiness celebrated pontifical mass. After the chaunting of the gospel, which was done successively in Latin and Greek, His Eminence Cardinal Macchi, in quality of dean of the Sacred College, accompanied by the deans, archbishops and bishops present, together with the Archbishop of the Greek rite and the Archbishop of the Armenian rite, presented himself at the foot of the throne and addressed the Sovereign Pontiff in these words :

"The Catholic Church, Most Holy Father, has ardently desired and long earnestly entreated that your supreme and infallible judgment may give a decision on the Immaculate Conception of the Most Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of God, which will be to her an increase of praise, glory and veneration. In the name of the Sacred College of Cardinals—of the bishops of the Catholic world, and of all the faithful, we request humbly and earnestly that the universal wish of the Church be fulfilled on this solemnity of the Conception of the Most Blessed Virgin. Therefore, while the august sacrifice of the altar is offered up in this temple, consecrated to the Prince of the Apostles, and in the midst of this solemn assemblage of the Sacred College, and of the bishops of the people, deign, most Holy Father, to raise your apostolic voice, and pronounce that dogmatic decree of the Immaculate Conception of Mary, which will be a cause of joy in Heaven and of most lively jubilation on earth."

To these words the Pontiff replied that he received with pleasure the prayer of the Sacred College, the prelates and the faithful, but intimated that before granting it, it was necessary to invoke the assistance of the Holy Ghost. Immediately the Veni Creator was entoned. After the chaunting of the hymn, his Holiness, in the midst of profound silence, read the decree with a clear voice, but with deep emotion. The decree solemnly defines : That it is a dogma of faith, that the Blessed Virgin Mary, from the first moment of her Conception, by a privilege and special grace of God, in virtue of the merits of Jesus Christ, Saviour of mankind, was preserved intact from every stain of original sin.

After the reading of the decree, the Cardinal Dean returned to the foot of the throne, thanked his Holiness for having, by his apostolic authority defined the dogma of the Immaculate Conception, and besought him to publish the Bull relative to this dogmatic definition. The apostolic prothonotaries then presented themselves, and the promoter of the faith, Mgr. Frattini, requested that the preparation of this solemn act should be undertaken. His Holiness gave his assent, and the dean of the prothonotaries announced that it should be done.

Immediately the cannon of the castle of St. Angelo proclaimed to the city the promulgation of the decree. The bells from every tower in Rome sent forth joyous peals, and the citizens to manifest their joy ornamented their windows and balconies with tapestry and hangings. On the evening of this great solemnity Rome presented a magnificent spectacle. Every house, from the palaces of the wealthy to the dwellings of the poor, shone with light. From the dome of St. Peter's, and from the palace of the capitol, which were also brilliantly illuminated, bands of music sent forth the most enchanting strains. His Holiness presented the Cardinals and prelates, present on this occasion, with gold medals of the Immaculate Conception. The gold from which they were made was sent as an offering to the Pontiff, from the Benedictines in Australia.

On the same day, December 8, apostolic letters were issued, in which the Sovereign Pontiff, after reviewing the tradition of the Catholic Church concerning the Immaculate Conception, adds:

"Wherefore, after we had unceasingly, in humility and fasting, offered Our own prayers and the public prayers of the Church to God the Father, through His Son, that He would deign to direct and confirm Our mind by the power of the Holy Ghost, and having implored the aid of the entire Heavenly Host, and invoked the Paraclete with sighs, and He thus inspiring, to the honor of the Holy and undivided Trinity, to the glory and adornment of the Virgin Mother of God, to the exaltation of the Catholic Faith and the increase of the Catholic religion, by the authority of Jesus Christ Our Lord, of the Blessed Apostles, Peter and Paul, We declare, pronounce, and define that the doctrine which holds that the Blessed Virgin Mary, at the first instance of her conception, by a singular privilege and grace of the Omnipotent God, in virtue of the merits of Jesus Christ, the Saviour of mankind, was preserved immaculate from all stain of original sin, has been revealed by God, and therefore should firmly and constantly be believed by all the faithful. Wherefore if any shall dare—which God avert—to think otherwise than as it has been defined by Us, let them know and understand that they are condemned by their own judgment, that they have suffered shipwreck of the faith, and have revolted from the unity of the Church; and besides by their own act, they subject themselves to the penalties justly established if what they think they should dare to signify by word, writing or any other outward means.

"Our mouth is filled with joy and Our tongue with exultation, and We return, and shall ever return, the most humble and the greatest thanks to Jesus Christ Our Lord, because through His singular beneficence He has granted to us, though unworthy, to offer and decree this honor, glory and praise to His Most Holy Mother. We rely, moreover, with most certain hope and confidence that this Most Blessed Virgin, who, all fair and immaculate, has bruised the poisonous head of the most malignant serpent, and brought salvation to the world, who is the praise of the Prophets and the Apostles, the honor of the Martyrs, and the crown and joy of all the Saints—who is the safest Refuge and most faithful Helper of all who are in danger, and the most powerful Mediatrix and Conciliatrix in the whole world, with Her Only-Begotten Son, and the most illustrious Glory, Ornament, and most firm Defence of the Holy Church, who has destroyed all heresies, and snatched from the greatest calamities of all kinds the faithful peoples and nations, and deliver Us from so many threatening dangers, will effect, by Her most powerful patronage that, all difficulties being removed, and all errors dissipated, Our Holy Mother the Catholic Church may flourish daily more and more throughout all nations and countries, and may reign from sea to sea and to the ends of the earth, and may enjoy all peace, tranquillity and liberty; that the sinful may obtain pardon, the sick healing, the weak strength of heart, the afflicted consolation, and that all who are in error, their spiritual blindness being dissipated, may return to the path of truth and justice, and may become one flock and one shepherd.

"Let all the children of the Catholic Church most dear to Us hear these Our words, and, with a more ardent zeal of piety, religion, and love, proceed to honor, invoke and pray to the Most Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of God, conceived without original sin; and let them fly with entire confidence to this most sweet Mother of Mercy and Grace in all dangers, difficulties, doubts and fears. For nothing is to be feared, and nothing is to be despaired of under Her guidance, under Her auspices, under Her favor, under Her protection, who, bearing towards us a Mother's love, and taking up the work of our salvation, is solicitous for the whole human race, and, appointed by God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, and exalted above all the choirs of Angels, and orders of Saints, standing at the Right Hand of the Only-Begotten Son, Jesus Christ Our Lord, intercedes most powerfully, and obtains what she asks, and cannot fail."

Allocution of Pius IX.

On the 9th of December, in secret consistory, the Holy Father pronounced an allocution encouraging the prelates to renewed zeal and firmness in the discharge of their duty, and in combating the fatal errors opposed to revealed truth. He mentions particularly the race of impious radicals, the violators of the rights of the church, rationalists, and too liberal Catholics. The following words have a special application in this country:

"Therefore, the authority of the Church once rejected, the field is widely opened to the most difficult and abstract questions, and human reason, too confident in the infirmity of its strength, falls into the most shameful errors, which We have neither time nor wish to recall here; you know them too well, and you have seen how fatal they have been to the interests of religion and of society. Wherefore it is necessary to show to those men who exalt beyond measure the strength of human reason that they put themselves in direct opposition to these true words of the Doctor of the Gentiles:—"If any one believes himself to be something, whereas he is nothing, he deceives himself." It is necessary to make them see all the arrogance there is in scrutinizing the mysteries that God in His infinite goodness has deigned to reveal to us, and in pretending to penetrate and comprehend them by the human mind, so feeble and so broken, the strength of which they greatly over-estimate, and which we should, according to the word of the same Apostle, hold captive in the obedience of the faith.

"These partisans, or rather worshippers of human reason, who take it, as it were, for an infallible mistress—who promise themselves to find under its auspices all kinds of happiness—have, no doubt, forgotten what grave and terrible injury human nature received from the fault of our first parents—an injury which has darkened its intellect, and inclined its will to evil. Owing to this cause, the most celebrated philosophers of antiquity, all of them writing admirably on many subjects, have contaminated their teaching with the gravest errors ; and hence that continual combat, which We experience ourselves, and which makes the Apostle say : 'I feel in my members a law which revolts against the law of my spirit.'

"It is then unquestionable that, by the original sin propagated in all the children of Adam, the light of reason has decreased, and mankind is miserably fallen from the former state of justice and innocence. This being so, who can believe reason sufficient to attain the truth? In the midst of so many perils, and in such great debility of our strength, who can deny that he needs the aid of religion and divine grace to preserve him from stumbling and falling in the way of salvation? This assistance God, in His goodness, gives abundantly to those who ask it by humble prayers ; for it is written : 'God resists the proud, and gives grace to the humble.'

"Wherefore, turning towards his Father, Christ our Lord affirmed that the sublime mysteries of the truth are not discovered to the prudent and the wise of this world, who pride themselves upon their genius and their learning, and who refuse to render obedience to the Faith ; but that they are revealed to humble and simple men who place their help and their repose in the oracles of the divine faith. It is necessary that you inculcate this salutary teaching in the souls of those who exaggerate the strength of human reason to the extent of presuming by it to scrutinize and explain even mysteries, an undertaking the folly of which nothing can surpass. Do you endeavor to withdraw them from such great perversity of mind, by making them understand that the authority of the divine faith is the most beautiful gift made by the Providence of God to men ; that it is like the torch in the darkness, and the guide which conducts to life ; that it is, in fine, absolutely necessary for salvation, for, "without faith it is impossible to please God, and he who will not believe will be condemned."

"We have learned with grief that another error, not less melancholy, is introduced into certain parts of the Catholic world, and has taken possession of the souls of many Catholics. Carried away with a hope for the eternal salvation of all those who are out of the true Church of Christ, they do not cease to demand with solicitude what shall be the fate and the condition after death of men who are not submissive to the Catholic faith. Seduced by vain reasonings they make to these questions replies conformably to that perverse doctrine. Far from Us, Venerable Brethren, to lay claim to put limits to the Divine mercy, which is infinite! Far from us to scrutinize the counsels and mysterious judgments of God, unfathomable depth where human thoughts cannot penetrate!

"But it belongs to the duty of Our Apostolic office to excite your Episcopal solicitude and vigilance to make all possible efforts to remove from the minds of men the opinion, as impious as it is fatal, according to which people can find in any religion the way of eternal salvation. Employ all the resources of yonr minds and of your learning to demonstrate to the people committed to your care that the dogmas of the Catholic faith are in no respect contrary to the divine mercy and justice. Faith orders Us to hold that out of the Apostolic Roman Church no person can be saved, that it is the only ark of salvation, and that whoever will not enter therein shall perish in the waters of the deluge.

"On the other hand it is necessary to hold for certain that ignorance of the true religion, if that ignorance be invincible, is not a fault in the eyes of God. But who will presume to arrogate to himself the right to mark the limits of such an ignorance, holding in account the various conditions of peoples, of countries, of minds, and of the infinite multiplicity of human things? When delivered from the bonds of the body, we shall see God as He is, we will comprehend perfectly by what admirable and indissoluble bond the divine mercy and the divine justice are united; but as long as we are upon the earth, bent under the weight of this mortal mass which overloads the soul, let us hold firmly that which the Catholic doctrine teaches us, that there is only one God, one Faith, one Baptism; to seek to penetrate further is not permitted.

"However, as charity demands, let us pour out before God incessant prayers, in order that, from all parts, all the nations may be converted to Christ; let us labor, as much as it is in us, for the common salvation of men. The arms of the Lord are not shortened, and the gifts of the heavenly grace are never wanting to those who sincerely wish for them, and who beg for the assistance of that light. These truths should be deeply engraved on the minds of the Faithful, that they may not suffer themselves to be corrupted by false doctrines, the object of which is to propagate indifference in matters of religion, an indifference that we see growing up, and spreading itself on all sides, to the loss of souls."

Consecration of St. Paul's extra muros.

The consecration of St. Paul's Church, extra muros, took place on the 10th of December. The ceremony commenced at half past eight o'clock, and was not terminated till two. The Holy Father himself performed the ceremony and delivered a homily. Forty-nine Cardinals and one hundred and forty Archbishops and Bishops were present. This church was built to replace that which had been destroyed by fire in 1823, and which was of great antiquity. Its restoration was commenced by Leo XII, continued by Pius VIII and Gregory XVI, and brought to a happy completion by the reigning Pontiff. At the request of the Benedictine fathers, who are the guardians of this magnificent basilica, the Holy Father has ordered that a commemoration of the event be made on the eighteenth of November, in the Roman Martyrology and the Breviary.

*First Provincial Council of New York.

The first provincial council of New York was opened on Sunday the 1st of October, 1854, and closed on the following Sunday. The prelates in attendance were, the Most Rev. John Hughes, Archbishop of New York, presiding; the Rt. Rev. John McCloskey, Bishop of Albany; Rt. Rev. John B. Fitzpatrick, of Boston; Rt. Rev. John Timon, of Buffalo; Rt. Rev. Bernard O'Reilly, of Hartford; Rt. Rev. John Loughlin, of Brooklyn; Rt. Rev. James R. Bayley, of Newark; Rt. Rev. Louis de Gœsbriand, of Burlington.

Among the instructions addressed to the clergy and laity, as contained in the pastoral letter of the Council, the Bishops say:

"The persecution of the sword, except in remote and barbarous nations, has come to an end. But there is another persecution. It is of petty sovereigns or rulers in some countries, and of popular prejudice in others. To this latter, dearly beloved brethren, God has in his Providence permitted you to be exposed. And yet, clinging, through the medium of your pastors, to that everlasting rock on which Christ built his Church, and against which the gates of hell shall never prevail, you have nothing to fear. We live in a country in which the rights of conscience are publicly and authoritatively recognized. Our fellow-citizens, though not of our religious communion, are yet deeply inbued with this principle of our government and institutions. Prejudice, indeed, may from time to time break forth against us in form more or less violent. But there is, we may reasonably hope and believe, a residuum of sound and just judgment in the minds of the American people, which will prompt and sustain them to preserve and carry out the just and wholesome equality of our laws and constitution. Should any portion of the community assail you, as if you were unworthy to be members of this free and enlightened republican government, let your refutation of their calumnies be less in writings and in words, than in deeds and actions. Your first duty is supreme loyalty to God and your holy faith. Your second, subordinate, but in its own sphere equally supreme, loyalty to your country, in all her vicissitudes of prosperity or of adversity, if God should so permit her to be tried. Next to your country, in this secondary order, your families, your kindred, your neighbors, your friends and enemies, your countrymen and all mankind. Be obedient to the laws. Let pastors be zealous that no one professing the Catholic name shall bring disgrace upon the Church by disorderly conduct or contempt for the laws of the land, every violation of which involves an attempt, so far as it goes, to overthrow and uproot society from its foundations."

*Though this council was not held since the publication of the last Number of the Almanac, we mention it in order to complete the record of provincial synods, and to refer to the important subjects of its pastoral letter.

Eighth Provincial Council of Baltimore.

This council commenced its proceedings on Sunday, the 6th of May, 1855, and closed them on the following Sunday. The prelates who composed it, were: the Most Rev. Francis Patrick Kenrick, Archbishop of Baltimore, presiding; the Rt. Rev. Richard Vincent Whelan, of Wheeling; the Rt. Rev. Michael O'Connor, of Pittsburg; Rt. Rev. John McGill, of Richmond; Rt. Rev. John Nepomucen Neumann, of Philadelphia; Rt. Rev. Josue M. Young, of Erie, with the Very Rev. John Barry, administrator of the diocess of Savannah and Very Rev. Patrick N. Lynch, administrator of Charleston. The pastoral address to the clergy and laity regards chiefly the dogma of the Immaculate Conception. It concludes with the following exhortation:

"Beloved brethren of the laity, we embrace you all with paternal affection, and entreat you to walk circumspectly, for the days are evil. You know what manner of precepts we have given you in the name of the Lord Jesus. For this is the will of God your sanctification. Be peaceable, sober, just and faithful in the performance of all duties towards all mankind. Practice patience, forbearance, charity towards all. In the exercise of your rights as free citizens, remember your responsibility to God, and act as freemen, but not as having liberty as a cloak for malice, but as the servants of God. Respect and obey the constituted authorities, for all power is from God, and they that resist, resist the ordinances of God, and purchase for themselves damnation. To the General and State Governments you owe allegiance in all that regards the civil order: the authorities of the Church challenge your obedience in the things of salvation. We have no need of pressing this distinction which you fully understand, and constantly observe. You know that we have uniformly taught you both publicly and privately, to perform all the duties of good citizens, and that we have never exacted of you, as we ourselves have never made even to the highest ecclesiastical authority, any engagements inconsistent with the duties we owe to the country and its laws. On every opportune occasion we have avowed these principles, and even in our communications to the late Pontiff, we rejected as a calumny the imputation that we were in civil matters subject to his authority. Be not disturbed at the misstatements of our tenets which are daily made, or at the effort to deprive us of our civil rights, and of the confidence and esteem of our fellow citizens. Formidable as is the combination for this purpose, we do not despair that the justice and good sense of the nation will soon discover the groundless character of the suspicions thrown on the fidelity of Catholics, whose religion teaches them to respect and maintain the established order of society, under whatsoever form of government they may be placed. Brethren, let the light of your example shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father who is in heaven. Pray for the conversion and salvation of all men, for this is the will of God, who desires that all men may be saved, and may come to the knowledge of the truth."

First Provincial Council of Cincinnati.

This council was opened on Sunday, the 13th of May, 1855, and closed on the 20th of the same month. The following prelates were in attendance: the Most Rev. John B. Purcell, Archbishop of Cincinnati, presiding; the Rt. Rev. Peter Paul Lefevere, Bishop of Zela in part. and coadjutor and administrator of the diocess of Detroit; Rt. Rev. Maurice De St. Palais, Bishop of Vincennes; Rt. Rev. Amedeus Rappe, of Cleveland; Rt. Rev. Martin John Spalding, of Louisville; Rt. Rev. George A. Carrell, of Covington; Rt. Rev. Frederick Baraga, Bishop of Amyzonia in part. and Vicar Apostolic of Upper Michigan. The pastoral letter of the Bishops has the following instruction:

"The divine Founder of our holy religion has even pronounced a special beatitude for the consolation of those who patiently endure obloquy and persecution for his name sake: Blessed are you when they shall revile you and persecute you and speak all that is evil against you, untruly, for my sake: be glad and rejoice, for your reward is exceedingly great in heaven. You should then, beloved brethren, entertain no ill-will or hatred against those who ignorantly or maliciously seek to do you evil; but rather bless them that persecute you, bless and curse not; to no man rendering evil for evil, and be not overcome by evil, but overcoming evil by good. Love your enemies: do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that persecute and calumniate you; that you may be the children of your Father who is in heaven, who maketh his sun to rise upon the good and bad, and raineth upon the just and the unjust.

"The Saviour clearly foretold long beforehand what has been accordingly the lot of his faithful followers in all ages, when he said: And you shall be hated by all men for my name sake, but a hair of your head shall not perish. In your patience you shall possess your souls. Thus will you succeed, with God's blessing, in disarming your most bitter enemies, and in proving to them, rather by your actions than your words, that while theirs is a religion of hatred, ours is a religion of love; and therefore clearly the work of that God who is Love.

"To this grievous and utterly false charge of disloyalty to this free government, your best answer will be, to continue doing—what you have all along sought earnestly and sincerely to do—to discharge faithfully all your duties as citizens of the republic, rendering to Cæsar the things that belong to Cæsar, without, at the same time, forgetting to render to God the things that belong to God. The Catholic religion exists and flourishes under all forms of civil government; it is the visible kingdom of Christ, on earth, which is not of this world; it is incompatible with no well ordered form of human government, because it interferes with none. Its sphere of action is essentially different from, and infinitely higher than any merely human organization. Its ends, its means of action, its doctrines, its sacraments, and its government all belong and look to the spiritual order. It teaches man the way to heaven, and seeks to wean his affections from this earth. It wages war with the passions, and it inculcates self-denial, obedience to constituted authority, humility and charity. All that the Catholic Church asks of the world is a free passage through it, to her proper home in the heavens. She wishes her just rights to be protected; but if, in spite of her remonstrances, they be violated, she has long and thoroughly learned, in the school of the cross, the sublime lessons of practice and of firm reliance on that God who controls the destinies of mankind, and who can relieve, who will protect her in his own good time; thereby verifying his own solemn promise, that the gates of hell shall not prevail against her."

"Her voice is the same under whatever form of government her children, scattered over the face of the earth, may be found to dwell—to be obedient to the constituted authorities, and to the laws of the land which nurtures and protects them. To the lover of freedom she proposes as a model, a higher and nobler liberty—the liberty of the glory of the children of God. She proclaims to such, with her Saviour and Founder: And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free; and with the inspired apostles of the gentiles: Now the Lord is a spirit, and where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. She exhorts her children to temper freedom with the proper control of unruly passion: as free, and not as making liberty a cloak for malice, but as the servants of God. In a word, she teaches her children that while they love true liberty, they must curb passion, love law and order, and respect authority.

"We appeal to you, beloved brethren, whether these have not been the lessons which we have uniformly taught you, both in our public and official communications, and in our most private conversations; and whether we have not always instructed you that the power of the Sovereign Pontiffs, which is spiritual in its objects and in its sphere of action, cannot by possibility clash with your civil allegiance, or with the different class of duties which you owe as good citizens to the government under which you happily live."

First Provincial Council of St. Louis.

This assembly convened on Sunday, the 7th of October, and terminated its proceedings on the 14th of the same month. The following prelates were present and participated in the council: Most Rev. Peter Richard Kenrick, Archbishop of St. Louis, presiding; Right Rev. Mathias Loras, Bishop of Dubuque; Rt. Rev. Richard Pius Miles, Bishop of Nashville; Rt. Rev. John M. Henni, Bishop of Milwaukee; Right Rev. Joseph Cretin, Bishop of St. Paul; Rt. Rev. John Lamy, Bishop of Santa Fe; Rt. Rev. John B. Miége, Bishop of Messenia, in partibus, and Vicar Apostolic of the Indian Territory east of the Rocky Mountains; Rt. Rev. Anthony O'Regan, Bishop of Chicago, and Administrator of the Diocess of Quincy. Among the salutary lessons contained in the pastoral letter, are the following:

"Unwillingly do we allude to the frivolous and unworthy pretexts which are alleged by the enemies of the Church, in justification of their hostility. You are held up to the suspicion and hatred of your fellow-citizens, as persons holding doctrines and recognizing principles incompatible with your obligations as citizens of this Republic. We need not tell you, brethren, that the Church imposes on you no obligation incompatible with your allegiance to the Government under which you live; or that your religious principles are the best guarantee your country can have, that, hereafter, as ever heretofore, you will be found faithful to your duties as citizens, while you are jealous of your obligations as Christians. You know that all power is from God ; that society is constituted on a Divine basis ; that every offence against the laws of your country is an offence against God; and that, consequently, you are to obey, not only for the purpose of avoiding the punishment which the magistrate inflicts on the transgressor, but from the higher motive of conscience. Nor is this obligation weakened or frustrated of its effect, by the paramount obligation of observing the Divine Law. You know that while rendering to Cæsar what is Cæsar's, you must give to God what He necessarily demands. All who profess the Christian religion acknowledge this principle. But while others are left to the suggestions of their own individual conscience, or to the direction of some purely human tribunal, to ascertain what conscience requires, in the event of a real or apparent collision between their duties as citizens and as Christians, you have an authority to guide you, which the promises of Christ shew to be a certain means of avoiding mistake, and which, even to those who do not recognize its divine character, must, if calmly viewed, be regarded as safer than the dictates of the individual reason, and more worthy of confidence than any other tribunal on earth. Human legislators may err ; they may forbid what the law of God commands ; they may command what the law of God forbids. Whenever such a departure from truth and justice presents itself in the form of law, the Christian must remember the principle, and imitate the example of the apostles, and must obey God rather than man. The authority of the Church in regard to such matters is nothing more than the application of a principle which is admitted, as well by those who reject her authority as by her most faithful children.

"It is only by an entire misrepresentation of these principles, and by confounding things essentially different, that the enemies of the Church can represent her as hostile to the well being of society, or her children as unworthy the blessing of civil liberty. The exploded calumny of a divided allegiance, which alone, it is said, Catholics can, consistently with their principles, give the government of their country, is now seriously renewed, as if it had not already been refuted by every kind of argument, as well as by the testimony of history and experience. We are mortified to be obliged to refute a charge which argues extreme ignorance or extreme malice in those who prefer it. We owe no temporal allegiance to the Bishop of Rome. We recognize in the government under which we live the power established by God for the regulation of society, supreme in all that concerns the civil order, and always to be obeyed, whenever its requirements are not obviously opposed to the law of God.

"We feel it one of our most sacred duties to address the clergy and laity of our respective diocesses on the necessity of renewed and persevering efforts to provide for the religious education of youth. It cannot be necessary to insist on the importance of education, or to shew that education, to be productive of beneficial results, must be religious—that is, grounded on religious principles, and accompanied by the practice of religious duties. Whatever sacrifices the discharge of this duty may impose on pastors and people, should be willingly made, in view of the important end to be attained—the training of youth in the way in which they should walk, in order to be useful members of society, and to be worthy of being associated, after death, with the society of the saints in heaven. We desire to see attached to every church, schools where, under the direction of the pastor, the youthful heart may be formed to virtue, at the same time that the elements of science are acquired, and where every influence that can affect the child may be exercised for the promotion of his sincerely religious character. We are aware how great is the burden which the discharge of this duty, in our peculiar circumstances, imposes both on pastors and people, but we must remind both of the paramount character of the obligation to which we refer. Parents should remember that the education of the offspring is a duty which they do not fulfil when they procure for them merely scientific instruction; and pastors should never forget that these little ones of Christ are the objects of his tenderest love, and should, therefore, be endeared to the heart of His faithful ministers."

Abridgment of the Christian Doctrine.

By the Right Rev. Bishop Hay. 32mo.

Price—19 cents.

The name of the author of this catechism, should be sufficient to insure its introduction into all places of religious instruction. Very simple in its language, it is peculiarly adapted to the capacity of children and older persons, who have not had the advantages of education.

Answer to Faber.

An Answer to the Rev. G. S. Faber's Difficulties of Romanism. By the Right Rev. J. F. M. Trevern, Bishop of Strasbourg, late Bishop of Aire. Translated by the Rev. F. C. Husenbeth. 12mo. cloth.

Price—75 cents.

No one could better reply to the work of Mr. Faber, than the Prelate against whose first work (Discussion Amicale) "the Difficulties of Romanism" were principally directed. The attack was made by a man who, it is conceded, wields an able pen, and defends, with a peculiar appearance of ingenuousness, the cause of the Protestant religion. But he defends a bad cause: and, consequently, is detected in the artifices to which he has recourse, to throw over his undertaking the veil of plausibility.

Anima Divota, or Devout Soul.

Translated from the Italian of the Very Rev. J. B. Pagani, Provincial of the Order of Charity in England. 24mo., 339 pp.

Price—38 cents.

"This is one of the most instructive and useful books that enrich our spiritual literature. It is a series of excellent considerations and devotions relative to the Eucharist as a Sacrifice and Sacrament, and will be found by the pious Catholic to be a valuable manual in the remote preparation for Holy Communion."

Beauties of Sir Thomas More.

A Selection from his Works, as well in prose as in verse, a sequel to the "Life and Times of More." By W. J. Walter. 18mo. cloth, gilt back.

Price—75 cents.

CONTENTS.

Utopia—a Political Romance.
Apology.
Devotional Pieces.
Apothegms. Thoughts.
History of King Richard III.
Controversial Writings.
Letters.
Poetry.

Without some acquaintance with the writings of the worthy Chancellor, no adequate idea can be formed of his genius and character. As he now stands exhibited to the notice of posterity, he was selected by the English Catholics of his day as the bulwark of their cause. Such a choice is not discreditable to their judgment.

Bona Mors;

A pious association of the devout servants of our Lord Jesus Christ dying on the cross, and the most Blessed Virgin Mary, his sorrowful Mother; commonly called Bona Mors, in order to obtain a good death. 24mo. cloth.

Price—19 cents.

Bossuet's Exposition.

An Exposition of the Doctrine of the Catholic Church in Matters of Controversy. By the Right Rev. J. B. Bossuet, with copious notes by the Rev. John Fletcher, D. D. 18mo. bound in cloth.

Price—38 cents.

After a series of contestations which has continued nearly three hundred years, we might suppose, that our dissenting brethren should be tolerably acquainted with the doctrines of the Catholic Church; or, at least, be disposed to understand them. Yet, how frequently have we to lament, that the aversion which our separated brethren entertain for the Catholic doctrine, arises chiefly from erroneous notions, misconceptions, prejudice, or ignorance. The celebrated autnor of this work proves, that to the method of education may be fairly attributed those antipathies which are inculcated in the tender age of childhood; wnich are strengthened by the "wisdom" of the parent, and the "piety" of the nurse, and which are ripened to maturity into a horror of the imputed cruelties of the Catholic Church, and a detestation of its alleged superstitions.

This work of the great Bossuet, perhaps the most useful of all his writings, and which he composed for the use of a few Protestants, was at first circulated privately; but at the earnest solicitations of some friends, the Prelate reluctantly gave his consent to make it public: the first edition was received with such avidity, and produced such happy effects upon the minds of many Protestants, that in a short time it passed through several editions in almost every European language. The excellence of this volume is great indeed: clear and perspicuous, it states in a manner the most satisfactory, the nature of nearly all our controverted doctrines: correct and lucid, it shows these to be divine; familiar and easy, it is such as the most moderate capacity can understand, whilst at the same time calm, liberal, and free from every thing like asperity, it is calculated to allay the prejudices, and soften the irritability of the opponents of our Holy Religion.

Christian Perfection.

Practice of Christian Perfection, from Rodriguez and other Catholic authors. By the Rev. E. Damphoux, D. D., Rector of the Cathedral. 2d edition. 12mo., cloth.

Catholic Christian

Instructed in the Sacraments, Sacrifice, Ceremonies and Observances of the Church, by way of Question and Answer. By the Most Rev. R. Challoner.

Price—In cloth, lettered, 25 cents.

The object the Right Rev. author of this work has in view, is, to explain the doctrine and ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church; to endeavor to remove those prejudices formed through ignorance, of the real tenets of Catholics; and, to disabuse that portion of the public, who, through misrepresentation, may have formed erroneous opinions of the largest portion of the Christian world.

Catechism of the Council of Trent.

Published by command of Pope Pius V. Translated by Rev. J. Donovan, Professor, &c., Royal College, Maynooth. In one volume, 8vo., cloth.

Price—$1 00

The Roman Catechism, of which this is an English translation, was composed by decree of the Council of Trent; and the same venerable authority commands all Bishops "to take care that it be faithfully translated into the vernacular language, and expounded to the people by all pastors."

To meet the mischievous activity of the Reformers and to rear the edifice of Christian knowledge on its only secure and solid basis, the instruction of its authorized teachers; to afford the faithful a fixed standard of Christian belief, and to the Pastor a prescribed form of religious instruction; to supply a pure and perennial fountain of living waters to refresh and invigorate at once the Pastor and the flock, were amongst the important objects contemplated by the Fathers of Trent in the publication and translation of the Roman Catechism.

The world has been inundated with pernicious tracts, teeming with vituperative misrepresentations of the dogmas of the Catholic faith, and loaded with unmeasured invective against the principles of Catholic morality, and we are now furnished, by the action of the Fathers of Trent, with an antidote eminently calculated to neutralize the poison, which has been so industriously diffused, to abate prejudice, instruct ignorance, promote piety, and confirm belief, with a work containing a comprehensive summary of the dogmas of the Catholic faith, and a no less comprehensive epitome of the principles of Catholic morality.

To another, and, happily, an increasing class of the community, the present volume cannot fail to prove a useful acquisition—to those who, anxious only for truth, desire to know the real principles of Catholics could they arrive at a knowledge of them through the medium of a compendious and authoritative exposition.

To these important ends we cannot, perhaps, contribute more effectually, than by placing within the reach of all, a work explanatory of Catholic doctrine, and universally acknowledged authority in the Catholic Church.

Challoner's History.

Challoner's History of the Protestant Religion—Showing the beginning and progress of the Protestant Religion, gathered out of the best Protestant writers, by the Right Rev. R. Challoner. To which is added, the Conference of Luther with Satan, giving his reasons why the Mass should be abolished; with an introduction by the Rev. John Lingard. One volume. 18mo., cloth.

Price—25 cents.

Confidence in the Mercy of God.

Reflections on the Confidence in the Mercy of God. By the Right Rev. J. J. Languet, Bishop of Soissons. 18mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

In common enterprises, confidence is a part of the means which is employed in order to succeed; at least it animates and gives them a new vigor: fearful troops are half conquered, whilst the confidence of those soldiers that go to battle, redoubles their ardor and fortifies their courage. It is not in vain that it is written, "By hope we are saved."

Cochin on the Mass.

Instructions on the Prayers and Ceremonies of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Translated from the French of M. Cochin, and arranged for each Sunday throughout the year, by W. Jos. Walter, late of St. Edmund's College. In one volume. 12mo., cloth.

Price—75 cents.

CONTENTS.

The Preparation.	The Consecration.
The Instruction.	The Preparation for Communion.
The Oblation.	The Communion.
The Canon.	The Thanksgiving.

The object of the author in these instructions, has been to deduce such consequences as may come home more nearly to our own bosoms, such as are most conducive to edification, and best calculated to give animation to faith, and fresh fervor to devotion. He has been particularly solicitous to avoid that mystic character, which in its attempt to give a mysterious construction to every trivial circumstance, has involved the whole subject in obscurity. His instruction on the various responses and minor prayers used by the church, which are apt to be hastily passed over, and by the frequency of their repetition, become a mere succession of unmeaning words, will be found particularly happy. Our Protestant brethren, who have been accustomed from their infancy to hear the very word Mass pronounced, with indistinct feelings of horror and aversion, should read this book in the same spirit of candor in which it was written.

"These instructions appear well adapted to strengthen the faith, and animate the piety of the faithful; as well as to inspire those sentiments of veneration, gratitude and love, with which all should be penetrated who assist at the adorable sacrifice, where the Son of God himself is at once the priest and the victim."—Approbation of Sorbonne.

The estimation in which the pious author of the above works has been held, is evident from the following testimonial from the Hierarchy of Ireland.

Difficulties of Protestantism.

By the Rev. John Fletcher, D. D. One volume. 12mo. sheep.

Extract from the Dedication to the Rt. Rev. James Yorke Bramston, D. D., Catholic Bishop of London.

"The object of this work is to point out, as its title expresses, some of those innumerable difficulties, which surround, and perplex, the religion of Protestantism. To your lordship, a work of this description is addressed with peculiar propriety; because it was those very difficulties, which, first striking your good sense, whilst yet you were a Protestant, induced your prudence to view them with distrust, and ere long, to examine them with care. You did this, comparing them, at the same time, with the grounds, and character of the parent institute. I need not state what was the result. It was such as might be expected from a mind like yours,—frank, open, and sincere,—wishing to see the truth, and willing to admit it. Convinced soon of the illusive pretensions of Protestantism, you quitted the Established, and embraced the Catholic Church. Sacrificing, by the generous act, those flattering prospects of worldly honors, to which, both from your talents, your rank, and reputation, (for you were already a distinguished ornament in our temples of jurisprudence,) you were eminently entitled to aspire. Hence, therefore, the propriety of dedicating these pages to your lordship."

This little tale combines at once much theological research, a thorough knowledge of the world, an acquaintance with men, and an ability of description almost approaching to poesy.

It strikes us that it was written in answer to "Father Clement," although the name of that abusive little romance is not once mentioned—nor are the misrepresentations with which it abounds, so much as even alluded to.—Metropolitan.

Homilies on the Book of Tobias.

Homilies on the Book of Tobias, in a series of popular instructions, specially intended for Christians engaged in the concerns of the world. By the Rev. Francis Martyn. In one vol. 12mo. cloth.

Price—63 cents.

The history of the virtuous Tobias and his son, has ever appeared one of the most interesting and instructive of the Inspired Volume. It presents to us in the virtues of those holy personages, the most edifying models of fidelity, in the discharge of the ordinary duties of mankind. The obligations attached to the condition of married persons, parents, and masters of families, are, of all others, the most important, and those on which the welfare of the greater part of mankind depends. To the ignorance or neglect of these duties, may be traced the general diffusion of vice which reigns in the world.

We behold in Tobias, a model of virtue for every period of life; cautiously avoiding in his youth the snares of vice, and the company of the vicious; increasing in virtue as he advances in years; exact in the performance of his religious duties; cherishing in his heart a constant recollection of the presence of God, and making the divine will the end of all his actions; submitting with humble resignation to every appointment of Providence; attentive to the religious instruction of his child; anxious that all his family should serve God in sincerity and truth; full of charity for every neighbor; exposing himself to imminent dangers that he might fulfil the duties of brotherly love; revered and beloved by all who knew him; reaping, even in this life, the fruits of his piety, in the favor and protection of Heaven; and quitting this earthly scene full of merit, hope, and joy.

Hornihold's Discourses.

The Commandments and Sacraments Explained in fifty-two Discourses. By Right Rev. Dr. Hornihold, author of "Real Principles of Catholics." One vol. 12mo. cloth.

Price—$1 25

The learned prelate gives a full and perspicuous definition of each of the Commandments in a series of thirty-two discourses, and expatiates upon the nature, necessity, efficacy and dignity of the Sacraments received by the Catholic Church, in twenty discourses. It is the desire of the church, that all her children should receive the Commandments with a holy fear, and observe them with a perfect fidelity; such a fear is the beginning of wisdom: it places a salutary restraint upon the passions, and preserves our hearts from the contamination of vice; hence we must adore God as our supreme ruler, adhere to him by faith, hope and charity; and faithfully prepare all the duties required by religion, whether interior or exterior.

The object of this little Tale, written by one of the Religious of the "Order of our Lady of Charity of the Good Shepherd," is to make known the true nature of the Order and the workings of the Asylums under their care. Imitation of the Blessed Virgin.

In four books, neatly bound in cloth.

Price—50 cents.

The pious author exhibits to our view the mother of our God under the various circumstances of her life; he presents to us the sentiments with which she was animated, the virtues she practised, and conjures us to take her for our model. Nevertheless it is a maxim of faith, that whatever excellencies we attribute to the Blessed Virgin, on the terms we make use of to express the esteem and respect we have for her, we can regard her in no other point of view than a most pure creature; consequently, infinitely below the Almighty: depending upon him, and indebted to him for all the gifts of nature and grace she possessed in this life, and the eminent degree of glory to which she is exalted in heaven. Thus our devotion to the Blessed Virgin, like that to the other saints is a relative honor redounding effectually upon, and terminating wholly in God.

Interior Christian.

In eight books, with a Supplement, extracted from the writings of M. Bernier de Louvigny. 18mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

"The author of this work," says the reverend and learned Alban Butler, "was one of the most excellent contemplatives of the last century. To his careful training, Dr. Henry de Boudon, and many other saintly priests and missionaries, owe, under God, their sublime piety and perfection."

This work, of all others, is calculated to revive the true and primitive spirit of Catholicity, so little studied in these degenerate days. Every Catholic should endeavor to possess a copy. It will be found a priceless treasure to every one aspiring to perfection.

Indian Cottage.

An Unitarian Story. By Rev. C. C. Pise, D. D. 18mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

The above work, by the author of Father Rowland, was written in vindication of a dogma, which is not only questioned, but systematically attacked, by a denomination who style themselves "Christians." This too, is the most vital dogma of Christianity; for, if the founder of the new covenant was a mere man, the system which he established is not as sublime as that of the old. The reality is not more substantial than the figure.

The prophecies have not been fulfilled.—Christ is no greater than the prophets, less than Moses.—This will be made manifest, it is thought, to any who will peruse this little work with attention, and without prejudice.

Lenten Monitor.

The Lenten Monitor, or Moral Reflections and Devout Aspirations on the Gospel for each day, from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday. By the Rev. P. Baker. 24mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

"There are few books better adapted to Lent, than this excellent work of Baker's. In a style, at once pleasing and instructive, and with a piety which breathes in every page, he conveys to the reader the substance and pith of those portions of the sacred gospels, selected by the wisdom of the church, for every day in Lent. Most books of a spiritual nature are written in a style too dry and didactic to interest every class of readers: and, indeed, so general is this defect, that it is with difficulty that young persons can be persuaded to take up a book professedly religious. What we very much stand in need of in this country, are works of piety and morality, written in a manner which would please all, by the propriety and elegance of the composition. Did we possess such books, it would no longer be necessary, in order to acquire a style, to have recourse to productions, not merely profane, but frequently dangerous. What a delight is it not for the French reader to instruct himself not only in his religion, but in the minutest principles of perfection, by the classic writings of a Fenelon, a Bossuet, a Massilon, a Bourdaloue, a Flechier, and so many others. In Italian, too, we may learn the most refined devotion in the most elegant style. Who has not heard of a Segneri, a Bartoli, a Pinnamonti, a Liguori, &c. &c.? There are, certainly, in the English language, several spiritual works of high standing; such as Manning's Moral Entertainments, Parson's Directory, Gother, &c.; among these, the 'Monitor,' which is now under consideration, deserves not to hold the last place. The recommendation of it, by the Archbishop of Ireland, will convince the reader, that this praise is not exaggerated or unmerited. 'We highly approve,' write those respectable Prelates 'of the publication of Baker's Works, and recommend them to the perusal of the faithful, as eminently calculated to convey to persons of every station, solid and practical information, and to awaken in every breast sentiments of pure devotion. The simplicity, perspicuity, and purity of style in which the divine truths are unfolded, admirably adapt these reflections to all capacities. The Pastor will find them useful in his closet, and at the altar; and the laity will learn from them to meditate with fruit on the life and passion of the Redeemer, and dispose themselves to rise with Christ, and seek the things that are above.'"

Life and Times of Sir Thomas More.

Life and Times of Sir Thomas More. Illustrated from his own writings, and from contemporary documents. By W. Joseph Walter, late of St. Edmund's College; with a portrait and autograph of More. 18mo. cloth, gilt back.

Price—75 cents.

Sir Thomas More is one of the most prominent names in the English Catholic annals. This remarkable man claims attention under all the varied relations of the good father, the enlightened statesman, the elegant historian, and the no contemptible champion in the field of controversy.

Desirous of re-producing a faithful picture of the time, the author has taken pleasure in weaving into his narrative the many simple traits of domestic manners with which the pages of More's family biographers abound.

Lives of the Fathers of the Desert,

And of many holy men and women who dwelt in solitude. Translated from the French. Illustrated with 18 Engravings. 18mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

Christian reader, this little treatise will lead you to a knowledge of the true spirit of solitude: you will be transported to the wild recesses of the desert, or the dark caverns of the mountain, hallowed by the presence of some saintly hermit, and linger awhile in the interior of his cell, to listen to his conversation, witness his penances, and kneeling before that rude crucifix affixed to the rock as an emblem of a Saviour's love, unite with him in pious prayer. It will teach you to retire to the solitude of your own heart, and live amidst the glittering allurements of the world as if you knew them not. Darts of fire.

No subtilty of thought, nor loftiness of words, will be found in these meditations but the greatest simplicity and the plainest forms of expression. Nothing in them will perplex the understanding, but all will powerfully appeal to the heart: for while they are remarkable for the beautiful simplicity of style so peculiar to the Beatified Author, they are not less characterized by profound piety, ardent love of God, and tender devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mother of God. They are each divided into three points; each point generally includes acts of the love of God, of contrition for sin, and of supplication for final perseverance; and every last point concludes with a short prayer to the ever Blessed Mary.

To which is added, a method of devoutly hearing Mass, by Blessed Leonard a Porto Mauritio. 24mo. cloth.

Price—38 cents.

"The additions to this edition are very important; they occupy some sixty pages of additional space, and they present the translation perfect, from the original Italian, instead of being, as it was, defective, from the French copies. If there had been no more than the simple change of You to Thou, in addressing the Creator, or Redeemer, or the Blessed Virgin, it would have been a great improvement; but here is all that St. Alphonsus wrote on the advantages of, and rules for, frequent communion, with a defence of his doctrine on this subject, and a Novena for All Souls' Day. The saintly little book is a well-spring of pure devotion, and they are blest who assist in pouring out its waters."

Moral Entertainments,

On the Practical Truths of the Christian Religion. By the Rt. Rev. Robert Manning. 2 vols. 12mo.—bound in one—cloth.

Price—$1 00

The zealous author of these volumes expounds the essential and indisputable duties of a Christian life, by considerations best adapted to withdraw our hearts from sin, and all inordinate attachments to the vanities of the world. He says, "A faithful disciple will follow Christ in the imitation of his virtues, and the practice of all Christian duties. If he be poor, he will imitate the patience, humility, and poverty of Jesus Christ. If he has a family to provide for by his industry and labor, he will take for his example the painful and laborious life of his Redeemer. If he is blessed with plenty, he will imitate his goodness, charity and mercy; and stimulate himself to future exertions, by the recollection of the maxims of the gospel, that what is done to the poor is done to Christ himself, and that alms given to the poor is money deposited in their hands to purchase for him a treasure in the kingdom of heaven."

Memorial of a Christian Life.

Containing all that a soul newly converted to God ought to do, that it may attain the perfection to which it ought to aspire. By Rev. F. Lewis de Granada, O. S. D. Revised and corrected by Rev. F. J. L'Estrange, O. S. D. Published with the approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore. In one volume 18mo. 408 pp. neatly bound in cloth.

Price—50 cents.

Of all human things, there is none so noble as a perfect Christian. This volume prescribes the manner of forming one, and is, as it were, an abridgment of whatever relates to the conduct of a Christian in this life. It is divided into four parts, in the first of which our author portrays heaven and hell with the advantages that accompany virtue, and endeavors to persuade the sinner to take a strong resolution of leaving vice, and firmly applying himself to God's service. In the second part, he is taught how he must do penance and instructed in the manner of confessing himself and making a satisfaction proportionate to his offences. After confession follows Communion, and in the third part is given counsels and precepts for communicating worthily; with prayers which may be used before and after Communion. Amendment of Life, the fruit of these two sacraments is enlarged upon in the fourth part, and two rules of living well prescribed, one for those who content themselves with doing only what is necessary for their salvation, and the other for those who are more strict and spiritual.

This work is written in a plain and easy style, and is well calculated to produce an impression on the plainest mind.

Religion is the only true foundation of morality.—BURKE.

The enemies of the Catholic creed have insidiously poured forth, in religious tales, the most unfounded calumnies against their doctrines and practice. It is right to learn a lesson from their misdirected zeal, to wrest from their hands the arms by which they impugn the truth, and to combat them with their own weapons. It was in this spirit that the dialogues of Mrs. Herbert were written for the use of the poor, by a lady, whose zeal and judgment cannot be too much admired, and who has sought and found, in the holy seclusion of a conventual life, those consolations of religion which she so beautifully describes in this interesting work.

Price—$1 50

We approve of the re-publication of the Meditations, originally composed in French by Rev. J. Nouet, S. J. and recommend them as helps to devotion.

Given under our hand this 28th day of August, 1855.

As Meditation is one of the principal exercises by which the self-sacrificing traits of the Son of God can be communicated to the soul, it is superfluous to enlarge on its vast importance, the inestimable benefits of its daily practice—St. Augustin pronounces it, "the beginning and ground of all good," and the Holy Ghost fully sanctions the exalted estimate of its advantages by the eulogy he pronounces through the Psalmist, on the man who is faithful to the practice of it: "Happy is the man who meditates day and night on the law of the Lord. He shall be like a tree that is planted on the river side, which brings forth its fruit in due season."

Our author commences with the first Sunday in Advent, the beginning of the ecclesiastical year, by meditating on the Hidden Life of our Lord, in a series of practical meditations—those on the Suffering Life following them, are adapted to the Holy Season of Lent, and are devoted almost exclusively to the passion of Christ. This adaptation perfectly harmonizes with the Spirit of the Church: the mourning garb she assumes in her public ministry during that period of recollection and retreat—the affecting solemnity of her ritual—the sorrowful tones of her liturgy—all feelingly express the object on which she dwells in all the fondness of impassioned grief—the passion of her divine Spouse is never forgotten even in her most joyful festivals, but during this season it absorbs every thought and sentiment, and impels her to call on all to sympathise with her. After his resurrection, from contemplating the sorrows of his sufferings, our author passes to the joys and consolations of his Glorious and Mystical Life, and endeavors to arouse the desponding sinner by dwelling on the inestimable benefits derived from the holy Communion, and the dispositions requisite to receive it worthily. In the glorified life of our Lord, he finds continual matter to instruct and encourage us in the discharge of our active duties, whilst in his mystical life in the blessed Sacrament, he exhibits the most powerful, as well as the sweetest, of all means, for cherishing that spirit of prayer and recollection, on which the fidelity of our exterior conduct principally depends. After Pentecost, the Public Life of our Lord is presented for our meditation—the Son of Man is before us amid the labors, the contests, and the sufferings of his divine Mission. Whilst the divine beauty of our Redeemer's character discloses itself with such captivating sweetness, under every diversity of circumstance, and amid every variety of persons, in this part of the work, his example prepares us for every trial and suffering we are destined to encounter here below. Directed by such a light, we find that it is in this commerce of duty and charity, this routine of ordinary actions, that the highest and most enduring virtues are to be acquired; and contemplating all with the eye of faith, we learn to render each, however trivial or humble, meritorious of eternal life, by offering it in union with the acts and operations of the Man-God.

The examples that are here selected, are founded on facts taken from real life. The authorities are not all given, for obvious reasons that require no apology; whilst those that are given, may be safely depended upon.

Neither time nor labor has been spared to elucidate the truth. With regard to the language, sentiments, incidents, and occasional applications, the author has had in view the advantage of his young readers, by endeavoring to give the most lively interest in his power to the performance.

He has drawn stores from every mine within his reach: his object has been to breathe into the whole work an animating spirit of virtue, a high sense of honor, probity, and philanthropy: these are the powers he has pressed into his service, purposely to refine, and exalt the sentiments of the heart; to improve, and inform the understanding; and to call into activity the faculty of invention and research—the first index of latent genius—the first opening of every future exertion.

Price—$3 50

The Rev. Author places the prominent and leading facts in such order as to give to general readers a sufficient knowledge of the occurrences regarding religion; this is done in a very clear, simple and pleasing style: there is no attempt at decoration, which would be altogether out of place in a historical work; perspicuity and orderly method are the essential characteristics of the historian—and the author of this work appears to us to have fully attained it. As far as we could judge, by some paragraphs which we have read, the style is uniformly and pleasingly sustained. The Index is accurately and judiciously compiled; so that the references are simple and abundant. It is a work which ought to be generally read.—

Poor Man's Catechism;

Or, the Christian Doctrine explained, with short Admonitions. By John Mannock, O. S. B.

Price—In cloth lettered, 25 cents.

In this volume, the reverend author has given a full and lucid view of the doctrines of the church, together with short, but impressive instructions; such as the following:

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. Luke, x. 27, Matt. xxii. These are the two great commandments, or precepts of charity; in these two we fulfil the law and the prophets; and the reward is life everlasting. To love God with all your heart, is to love him truly; to love him with all your soul, is to employ all the interior powers of your soul in his service; to love him with all your strength, is to serve him with your exterior power and actions; to love him with all your mind, is to fix your mind upon him in holy contemplation, and think there is none so amiable as he. With this love we must join a holy fear; love him as your Father, fear him as your God.

The best proof of a reading people, is the publication of works among them; how gratifying then to witness, not only the appearance of so many new works from our various publishers, but the nature of the works now so frequently offered to our attention. We have just received the work whose title we place above, from Mr. F. Lucas, Jr. It is a republication, the first, we believe, on this side of the Atlantic, of a most valuable volume, from the pen of the Rev. Joseph Reeve, author of the History of the Christian Church, and also compiler of the History of the Bible. The name of the author, would, in itself, be an ample recommendation, but the intrinsic value of the work itself, should recommend it to many purchasers. In the first part, the various attributes of the Deity are explained and practically illustrated. The history and miracles of Jesus Christ are recorded in the second part, in the exposition of the principal festivals instituted in his honor, and the institution of the Eucharistic sacrifice is established and explained. The volume is filled with practical knowledge, and we wish it were in the hands of every body. It is printed on fine paper and clear type.—Cath. Herald.

Critical and Historical Review of Fox's Book of Martyrs, showing the Inaccuracies, Falsehoods and Misrepresentations in that Work of Deception. By William Eusebius Andrews. Embellished with fifty engravings. In 2 vols. 8vo. bound in one—cloth.

It was during the reign of terror and proscription in England, when the faithful historian was certain of being incarcerated in prison, if he escaped with his life; when magistrates were empowered to make domiciliary visits at any hour, in search of works favorable to the Catholic creed; when spies were encouraged to denounce those whom they suspected: it was under this system, that the infamous libel of John Fox, made its first appearance in the English language.

Fox's Book of Martyrs has contributed to excite prejudices and bigotry against the Catholic Church more, perhaps, than any other book extant. Aware of this, the enemies of the Church have spared neither pains nor expense to give it a wide circulation. Edition after edition has issued from the press, until the book has found its way into every library and every Protestant family in the land, among whom it has become a favorite manual of amusement and instruction. To counteract the poison of this book of lies, it is necessary to give the antidote as extensive a circulation as possible. We consider it the duty of every Catholic to have a copy of the "Review," to read it with care and put it into the hands of every man who will hear and profit by the truth. By this means the public will be enabled to detect the monstrous imposition palmed upon the community, and the shame and infamy of wilful and malicious falsehood will return upon those who circulate this book of misrepresentation for an authentic record of facts. We do not deny that Catholics have persecuted as well as Protestants. But if the truth must—let it be told. Let there be no exaggeration; and while we execrate the inhuman persecutor, whether Catholic or Protestant, let us not, as infidels have done, charge the crime upon Christianity in general, or upon the particular sect to which they belonged, unless it can be proved that these persecutions are produced by their religious principles and profession.

Price—38 cents.

The author of this volume was one of the most learned and eminent Italian priests, who died in 1809, after writing many celebrated works. It is divided into two parts, and consists of a series of meditations; the first part on the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and the second on the Sacred Heart of Mary, which, it is almost superfluous to tell the reader, is a necessary consequence of devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. This volume is calculated to make this beautiful devotion, which is not a novelty in the Church, still more popular, and is highly recommended to the religious.

This work is second only to the "Following of Christ." It was the constant companion of St. Francis of Sales, and contributed not a little to nourish the tender and enlightened devotion, by which that eminent saint was distinguished. The pious author of this treatise proves, that a spiritual life is founded on perfect self-denial, sincere sentiments of humility, and diffidence in ourselves on the one side; and on the other, in an entire confidence in God, a profound sense of his goodness, love, and mercy towards us. The great St. Francis de Sales assures us, he read a portion of it every day for twenty years, and always with great advantage.

The name of the truly great St. Francis gave a worth and character to this work, which no language of ours can enhance. Each chapter is devoted to the elucidation of some Christian virtue, or to the enforcement of some Christian duty. It is one of those peculiarly excellent books, of which we can never tire. It is not to buy it, read it, and then put it on the shelf. Over and over again it may be perused, and then re-perused, and always with profit and delight. A chapter or two might be studied, and made the subject of meditation for every day of life—and to those who have no director of a similar kind, we recommend that they obtain this without delay.

Think well on't; or reflections on the great truths of the Christian Religion. For every day in the month. By Rt. Rev. R. Challoner, D. D. 1 vol. 32mo. cloth.

Price—25 cents.

These reflections of that truly eminent divine, the Right Rev. Dr. Challoner, are admirably suited to persons of every denomination: the many thousands of copies which, from time to time, have issued from the press, are a sufficient proof of the esteem in which they are held by all reflecting Christians.

True Devotion.

Portraiture of True Devotion, from the French of Abbe Grou. A new translation and arrangement. By the late Rev. M. F. Wheeler. 32mo. cloth.

Price—25 cents.

Triumph of Religion;

Or, a choice Selection of Edifying Narratives, compiled from various authors, by the Rev. James Fitton. 18mo. cloth, gilt back.

Price—38 cents.

Example is everything in the formation of character; and there is no more fitting book to place in the hands of youth, whose principres are not firmly fixed, than this one, which illustrates virtue by examples drawn from history. The purity of the morals depends upon the bias too often given by vicious books when the mind is most easily impressed.

Ward's Cantos,

Or England's Reformation. A Poem, in Four Cantos, by Thomas Ward, Esq. To which are added, Publisher's Preface, and an Appendix, consisting of Notes to justify the facts related. 18mo. cloth.

Price—50 cents.

There is no other work upon so interesting a subject, which combines so much instruction with amusement. It unravels the dark deeds of the Reformation, and in the most biting satire exposes the beastly licentiousness and repacity of its chief actors.

J., translated from the Italian by a Father of the Society of Jesus, and published with the approbation of the Right Rev. Bishop of Philadelphia. 1 vol., 16mo., neatly bound in cloth, gilt back, price.....50 cents.

This is another glorious American saint, beatified by our most Holy Father, Pius IX., during the memorable council, held at Rome, in December, 1854. The work was written in Rome, and the first large edition was disposed of immediately. The present edition is revised and enlarged, and carefully translated by a Father of the Society of Jesus, and now first offered to the American reader in a neat form, and at the very low price of.....50 cents.

THE LIFE OF THE ST. ROSE OF LIMA. Edited by the Rev. Frederick William Faber, D. D., and published with the approbation of the Right Rev. Bishop of Philadelphia. 1 vol. large 18mo., neatly bound in cloth, gilt back, price only.....50 cents.

This beautiful story is translated from the French by a lady, a graduate of St. Joseph's, Emmitsburg, and has been pronounced one of the very best and most pleasing of the French Tales. The French edition was published with the approbation and under the patronage of the Archbishop of Tours, and passed through several editions in a very short time. P. O'SHEA'S NEW PUBLICATIONS.

BICKERTON, or the Immigrant's Daughter. 12mo. Cloth. 192 pages, 50 cts.

Some of the Notices of the Press—

Brownson's Review says: "It is a very well written tale adapted to the times."

The New York Truth Teller says: "We deem this a work of more than ordinary value, especially at a period when delusion and fanaticism seem to direct public opinion. It will throw much light on matters now apparently in gloom and thereby realize its author's design."

The Montreal True Witness says: "This is a story of the trials and sufferings to which the poor Irish Immigrants in the United States are exposed, agreeably told, and interspersed with several amusing sketches of live Yankees."

The Boston Pilot says: "This is an interesting story, and will be read with great interest at the present time, as it dips into the Know Nothnigs in grand style. The book is well got up by the publisher."

The New York Daily News says: "It is not only a hit at the Know Nothings but also at the Protestant religion and clergy."

THE LIFE OF THE PRINCESS BORGHESE. Translated from the German, with an introduction by the Rev. A. F. Hewett, C. SS. R. 1 vol. 18mo. Cloth. Price..... 37½ cts.

This charming narrative, with an introduction by the distinguished Father Hewett, addressed principally to the Catholic Ladies of America, and also to those persons outside the Catholic church who seek after the truth or vainly suppose it to be found elsewhere, will be read with interest not only by those for whom it is more specially intended, but also by all who can appreciate the narrative of an edifying life written in a style which combines with the chastest diction, a poetic and fervid expression.

THE LIFE OF ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISIUM. By the Rev. Titus Joslin. 1 vol. 18mo. Cloth..... 37½ cts.

This book ought to be in the hands of every good Catholic. The beautiful examples of which it is full, if read, are calculated to do immense good.

P. O'SHEA is the American agent for the London Rambler, published monthly, and which he supplies to subscribers in the United States at $5 per annum.

JOSEPHUS BOVIERI,

[Nuntiarae sigilla.] Negotiorum gestor S. sedis.

APOSTOLIC NUNCIATE

Of His Holiness Pius IX. by Divine Providence, Pope and of the Holy See of Helvetiae, Rhaetiae, and Palesianae, Constantiae, Basileae, Seduniae, Curisae and Hausannae on the States and Diocesses:

To all and each, who may see these presents, perpetual health in the Lord:—

Having had laid before us, by Messrs. Benziger Brothers in the city of New York, a catalogue of books, entitled "Prayer and Devotional Books," and having seen how very much these several works will benefit Catholic Faith and Morals, we commend them from our heart to the piety of the faithful, and we confidently hope, that the zealous Prelates of the United States will find in them a much desired aid for promoting Christian Piety and Fervor among these flocks, and that they will recommend them to the faithful as far as lies in their power.

Given from our palace at Lucern, the 14th day of October, 1853.

JOSEPH BOVIERI,
Nuncio of the Holy Apostolic See.

Deutsche Uebersetzung:

Nachdem wir den von Gebrüder Benziger in New York vorgewiesenen Katalog unter dem Titel: "Gebet und Erbauungsbücher," zu unserem grossen Seelentroste durchgelesen, und diese Bücher ohne Zweifel dem katholischen Glauben und dessen Sitten für sehr nützlich finden; so empfehlen wir dieselben nicht bloss dem Eifer der Gläubigen, sondern erwarten auch mit Zuversicht, dass die sehr eifrigen Seelenhirten der neuen Welt in diesen Büchern ein erwünschtes Hülfsmittel zur Verbreitung der Frömmigkeit und des christlichen Eifers finden, und eben desshalb nach Kräften dieselben ihren Gläubigen empfehlen werden.

This House was established in New York three years ago by Benziger Brothers and Louis Meyer, which firm has been dissolved by the death of the latter, and the business is continued by the original firm above mentioned, who beg to return their sincere thanks to the Rt. Rev. and Rev. Clergy, and the trade generally for the liberal patronage bestowed on the late firm.

They trust to merit in the United States, by the greatly increased advantages they offer, a continuance of that support which for a period of over forty years has enabled them to build up, at the Pilgrimage of our Lady of the Hermits, (Einsiedeln,) an establishment, in which over four hundred persons are daily employed in the fabrication of the various articles that are used, or tend to promote devotion in the Church.

They desire particularly to call attention to their publications, DEVOTIONAL, THEOLOGICAL and CONTROVERSIAL, being confident that they are entirely free from the errors of compilation that the Rev. Clergy are so frequently obliged to regret in the many publications that come under their notice, and in proof of this, they call attention to the very flattering recommendation from His Excellency, Monsigneur Bovieri, Apostolic Nuncio in Switzerland, given above.

Their assortment of PRAYER and DEVOTIONAL BOOKS consist of over Two Hundred different sorts, and are illustrated with engravings unequalled for variety and beauty of design and execution, bound in various styles, from the plainest to the most superior, and are sold wholesale at prices much lower than were ever offered in the United States.

THEOLOGICAL WORKS,

Being in immediate and constant intercourse with nearly all the principal publishers of Europe, they are enabled to offer a large assortment of STANDARD THEOLOGICAL WORKS in various languages, (chiefly Latin and German.)

Engravings, Beads, Crucifixes, Medals, &c.

An immense variety of ENGRAVINGS and LITHOGRAPHIES of every description, including Altar Cards, Baptismal, Confirmation, First Communion, and First Confession Cards. BEADS.—Pearl, Garnet, Cornelian, Cocoa, Ivory, Wood and Glass. Crucifixes, Medals, and Reliquaries in the greatest variety. Also, Statuary in Porcelain, Bisquit, Plastique, &c., &c.

They are adapted to all parts of the United States, and may be relied on as combining a degree of unsurpassed elegance, accuracy, and cheapness

ST. VINCENT'S MANUAL.—A new, cheap, and Revised Edition of this STANDARD PRAYER BOOK has just been published, varying in price from 50 cents to $10 per copy. The extensive sale and universal favour with which this work has been received, are gratifying evidences to the Publishers, that they have accomplished what they originally designed to make, a Standard Prayer Book, adapted to all parts of this country and Canada, which in point of cheapness, accuracy, elegance of Printing, Illustrations, and Binding, might justly be considered the best and most beautiful Catholic Prayer Book in the English Language. The Publishers take great pleasure in inviting attention to the Approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore, and the Right Rev. Bishops of the United States who composed the Seventh Provincial Council, held in Baltimore in May, 1849, and the National Council in May, 1852, recommending this Book as being the MOST COMPLETE, COMPREHENSIVE, and ACCURATE PRAYER BOOK published. The Right Rev. Bishops of Montreal and Toronto, Canada, have kindly extended their approbation to, and recommended the use of this book to be faithful of their respective dioceses.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

They desire to invite particular attention to their STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS, most of them having been compiled, or carefully revised by M. J. Kerney, A. M., a Catholic gentleman of distinguished ability, and a practical teacher of many years' experience. The others, with few exceptions, were originally published by the Metropolitan Press, under the auspices and careful supervision of the Eminent Professors of St. Mary's College, Baltimore. These considerations they trust will be sufficient to invite a careful examination from the principals and conductors of Catholic Institutions throughout the country.

They deem it unnecessary to enlarge on the advantages to be derived from this combination, as the convenience and saving of time and expense, in being able to purchase every thing at one place, will be at once apparent.

☞ ORDERS are respectfully solicited, to which the most careful and prompt attention will be given.

"Whoever has a family Bible in English should have 'Dixon's Introduction' by its side, to explain the text, to direct the reader, and to refute the historical calumnies with which many are apt to assail the Catholic version. The Publishers, in offering such a work, accurate enough for the scholar, yet clear enough for the unlearned, have supplied a void in every Catholic library, and done every Catholic parent in America a personal service." American Celt.

Audin's History of the Life, Writings, and Doctrines of Luther. A new translation by Turnbull..... 2 vols. 8vo 3 75

Extract from the Author's Preface.—"There is no writer, however small the part which he has taken in these disputes, whether on our side or on that of Luther, whose productions we have not carefully studied. In order to judge of the Reformer, we have visited one by one the vast cities of the dead where the ashes of Protestants and Catholics promiscuously lie. We have ransacked the libraries of Mayence, Erfurt, Cologne, Strasburg, Lyons, Florence, and above all, of the Vatican, where so many treasures are buried."

"One of the best historical biographies ever composed is that which the author, M. Audin, has justly designated a 'History of the Life, Writings, and Doctrines of Luther;' and a great benefit has been conferred upon English literature by the manner in which an accomplished scholar and an able linguist, like Mr. Turnbull, has performed the duties of a translator of such a work.

"Mr. Turnbull's translation is worthy of the fame acquired by Audin; and no man can sit down to its perusal without being gratified with the taste, skill, judgment, and tact exhibited in the translation of this truly valuable and important work."—Dublin Weekly Telegraph.

"Catholics cannot but feel a deep and painful interest in the origin and progress of that great religious revolt, which has caused the loss of so many millions of souls, and of which the miserable religious and social dissensions of these days are the natural and necessary result. And so those who (from whatever cause) are separated from the one true Fold, and sincerely wish to be guided into the Truth, wherever and whatever it may be, cannot fail to derive much instruction from the volume before us. How many are there who view the past with some regret, seeing, as they do, what have been the consequences of that great revolt, whilst they have not the courage to face the question in all its bearings, and boldly to trace to its origin their religious system! And yet it would appear a most natural and reasonable course, to endeavor to determine its real character, by seeing how, and under what circumstances it first arose, and who were the first teachers of the new doctrines."

The "Lives of the Saints," by the Rev. Alban Butler, being a work of acknowledged merit, full of sound instruction, and abounding in edification, originally published by the Metropolitan Press, and now republished by John Murphy & Co., I hereby approve of, and recommend it to the faithful. Given under my hand, at Baltimore, this 13th day of March, 1854.

To a work so well and so favorably known as the Lives of the Saints, it is deemed unnecessary to say any thing by way of commendation. Suffice it to state, that the present edition has been gotten up with the greatest care, under the supervision of the eminent Professors of St. Mary's College, Baltimore. It is printed on fine paper, from a good, clear, and bold type, and may justly be considered the most complete as it is unquestionably the cheapest edition published.

We shall therefore content ourselves with stating, that the main, nay, the only reasons for publishing this new edition of the Lives of the Saints are, first, to present to the Catholics of the United States the complete work of the venerable author, with all the notes and remarks which he added to the lives of the principal saints, and which contain so much useful information; and, in the second place, to put the work, in this complete form, at a price so low as to enable all, even the poorest, to procure it without inconvenience.

BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"We are much gratified in being able to announce the appearance of a new edition of this invaluable work, from the press of Messrs. Murphy & Co., of Baltimore. The novel and elegant style of execution which forms the chief characteristic of the present edition, cannot fail to excite the admiration of the most critical; and, in our opinion, places it in advance of any that has yet been issued from the American press. The binding is strong, and richly wrought in drab and gold, the paper is of a superior quality, and the print beautifully clear; while the low price at which it is offered will, we trust, contribute to ensure it a circulation equal to its merits. As regards the intrinsic value of the work, we have only to remark it is compiled from the complete editions of Butler's Lives of the Saints, with an introductory account of the life and writings of the venerable author, and bearing at the commencement a letter of approbation from the venerable Archbishop of Baltimore. In conclusion we hope that as the chief motive of the publishers was to aid the diffusion of Catholic Literature, their exertions may prove successful, and that those Catholics who are without the Lives of the Saints will avail themselves of the handsome and cheap edition to which we allude."

Halifax Catholic.

"Messrs. Murphy & Co. have favored us with their new edition of this invaluable work, in four volumes. The style in which this work is got up excels any thing we have lately seen. The price at which the publishers have placed the work will, we are satisfied, ensure them a very large sale.

Toronto Catholic Citizen.

"To the publishers we are indebted for a copy of this standard work, which will stand competition with any edition hitherto issued in this country. It is a reprint of the old Metropolitan edition, and reflects great credit on its enterprising publishers. We can honestly state it as our sincere conviction, that we have never seen a copy of the "Lives of the Saints," which, considering its price, made a better appearance.

"Our readers are aware that the above work of the Rev. Alban Butler, is indispensable in a Catholic library, as well as in the library of a Catholic. The pious deeds of the holy men who have in all ages given a lustre to the Church, by their eminent sanctity and virtues, and in regard to which, so much skeptical ignorance prevails, are subjects with which every Catholic should be familiar. The present work is in the reach of persons of the smallest means, and we hope the application for it by the Catholic public will soon exhaust many editions."

Southern Journal.

"The Rev. Alban Butler, in the mid-darkness of the last century as it lowered over Britain, composed and published in Paris, his "Lives of the Saints," the first sacred biography, in any language. Into this work he condensed all the Roman martyrologies from that attributed to St. Jerome, down to that of Benedict XIV., printed at Cologne in 1751. He also made use of nearly every thing in the ecclesiastical histories, whether national or universal, bearing on these subjects. The result of all this learning and labor is seen in the four great volumes now before us, which were never before better, if so well, printed and bound, as in Murphy's edition."

Christianity and the Church, by the Rev. C. Constantine Pise, D.D., author of "Father Rowland," "Aletheia," etc.....cap. 8vo, cloth 75

The object of this work is to trace Christianity and the Church—one and the same—from the beginning of the world; to give a brief outline of the history of religion, as it emanated from the bosom of God, was communicated to our first parents, and spread with the human race, gradually developing and becoming more bright until the "rising of the Orient from on high" imparted to it its full extension and splendor.

"This is a new fruit of the industry and zeal of the gifted author. It presents the acknowledgments of many distinguished writers of the various doctrines of the Church, and is calculated to exercise a salutary influence on the young especially, who are apt to imagine that men of genius seldom believe the mysteries of religion." Catholic Instructor.

"Mr. Olier was one of the deepest spiritual writers of the seventeenth century, or perhaps of modern times. A Protestant who would read the little work before us, which exhibits the spirit of Jesus Christ and the sentiments that belong to his followers, would no doubt consider the author a rigorist who teaches what is beyond the capabilities of human nature; for Protestantism has smoothed the way of Christian morality and adapted it to most of those weaknesses and frailties which we carry with us from our very birth. But the Catholic will find in the spiritual catechism of Mr. Olier, an admirable illustration of the spirit which his church inculcates, and a most practical method of introducing it into his various duties and actions." *U. Library Editions of Fredet's Universal Histories.

New and Improved Editions, carefully revised and corrected by the Author.

These two volumes form a COMPLETE COURSE OF HISTORY, or a continuous chain of Historical Events, from the CREATION OF THE WORLD TO THE YEAR 1854.

Ancient History: from the dispersion of the Sons of Noe, to the Battle of Actium, and change of the Roman Republic into an Empire. By Peter Fredet, D. D., Prof. of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Fourth Edition, carefully revised and enlarged.....12mo, cloth 1 25

Modern History: from the coming of Christ and the change of the Roman Republic into an Empire, to the year of our Lord 1854. By Peter Fredet, D. D., Prof. of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Tenth enlarged and improved edition, in 1 vol. 12mo, cloth, 1 25.....Lib. style, mar. edges 1 50

The publishers are happy to announce that they have just issued new, enlarged, and improved editions of the above works, in uniform style. Each volume contains upwards of five hundred pages, and may justly be considered the cheapest, most authentic, and convenient work of reference published. The two volumes form a complete connection or continuous chain of historical events from the Creation of the World to the year 1854. Every one who desires to consult reliable history, should procure these works for his library. The distinguished and wide-spread reputation of the author as a historian and Professor of History in St. Mary's College for the last twenty years, and the universal favour with which these works have been received, precludes the necessity of giving many of the numerous complimentary and flattering testimonials that have been so freely extended to them by the English and American Press.

The Dublin Tablet says: "These two volumes are plain, copious, and useful summaries of ancient and modern history, and the number of editions through which they have passed will show their popularity in the United States. We observe that in the earlier portion of ancient history the compiler generally follows the old established view of the Rollins and Boussets, and gives the popular, matter-of-fact narrative of events like the Trojan war, the history of Romulus, &c. &c. This, after all, is the best plan. Any misconceptions are easily corrected, while summaries which are constructed on the modern theories of critics, like Niebuhr, labour under a variety of disadvantages. In the first place, such theories, were they ever so ingenious, are continually changing. In Grecian history, Grote would throw aside, with utter skepticism, 'myths,' in which Thirlwall is ready to recognise some traces of fact, and probably a future historian will subject the same to some new and totally different analyses. The simplest plan, therefore, is to state just what the ancients believed of their early history, at the same time reminding them of the many disputes which exist on the subject. For young minds, also, nothing can be more injurious than a doubting, skeptical manner of teaching even secular history. The Modern History is carried down to a late period, the year 1854, and furnishes a convenient introduction to impart to the youthful reader an acquaintance with the contemporary events of Europe and America."

The London Catholic Standard says: "These two excellent manuals of history have a wide and increasing circulation in America, and are everywhere held in the highest esteem. The compiler, Dr. Fredet, has won to himself a high reputation for his great acquirements and admirable skill as a professor. His well-earned fame will suffer no diminution from the publication of these two excellent volumes. He has achieved a task of no ordinary difficulty, in compressing so much recondite matter into so small a space; in leaving untold nothing that was of note of the immense and varied annals of the world. No college, school, or library ought to be without these excellent works."

The Dublin Telegraph says: "Fredet's Histories have been adopted, as a class-book, by the Irish Catholic University; and we entertain no doubt, that they will soon supersede, even in other establishments, those miserable compilations which wilful perverters of truth have long palmed upon the public—both Catholic and Protestant—as histories, and abridgments of histories."

The Catholic Instructor says: "We hope these Histories will soon find their way, not only into every library and literary institution among us, but also into every private family, in order that those who have read history through false mediums may have the truth before them, whenever they wish to search for it; and that the young may learn the past from pure and uncorrupted sources."

The Catholic Sentinel says: "These beautiful treatises are quite deserving of the patronage which they obtain. If there be any thing unknown to our all-learned generation, it is history. And if such a history as Dr. Fredet's is, could become universally used in our schools, colleges, and private families, some people who think they know every thing, would know a great deal more; and could far easier pass through respectable society. They are most commendable for their Christian and unbiassed spirit. And we are not astonished that Dr. Fredet has his name taken up by the Irish University, proud that America has made therein such an inroad upon the abridged histories heretofore existing in the Protestant style of Anglo-Saxonism."

The Metropolitan says: "The style is veritably charming by its simplicity, and by the quiet love of his subject which the reverend author constantly displays. This interest felt by himself is naturally infused into the narrative, so that it is no wonder it becomes, however familiar, however concisely expressed, invested with a pleasing freshness in his hands. It is the language of a talented and successful teacher, who relates to his class the great events of time, succinctly but graphically, without bombast, yet in a lively and picturesque manner. It is thus that history should be written for youth. Of the more substantial merits of Fredet, at this day it is superfluous to speak. We have but one fault to find with his histories, and some may consider it a merit—they are too brief."

Father Oswald, a genuine Catholic story, 18mo, cloth, 50.....cl. gt. edg. 75

Fenêlon on the Education of a Daughter, 18mo, cl. 50.....cl. gt. edg. 75

"Nothing can be of greater importance to parents than to learn the difficult art of successfully training the youthful mind, and of giving to the female children under their charge that physical and moral education which will fit them to be useful members of society, and to fulfil the great end for which they were placed in this world. The vast majority of parents are but too lamentably ignorant of their duties in this respect, and the consequences of it are but too keenly felt even by themselves, though at a period when it is too late to repair the effects of their culpable inattention. The work before us is a manual of excellent instructions on this all-important subject, and every family should be provided with a copy of it." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

cloth, gilt edges 38.....im. tur., gilt ed. 75.....turkey, sup. ex. 1 00

"Of the many admirable works written by the celebrated author, this is, perhaps, the most generally useful, as it is unquestionably the most practical. With a noble sublimity in its devotion, and an affecting unction in its piety, it unites a charming attraction in its style, and a beautiful simplicity in its details, equally adapted to every sex, age, state, or condition of life, interior or exterior. It is from the pen of an author who was deeply imbued with the spirit of God, and whose lessons cannot fail to be an effectual safeguard against the dangers and temptations of the world. Whoever enters with proper dispositions this spiritual garden, or wanders along the quiet vale to which the author of this little book invites him, must necessarily imbibe the rich and delightful fragrance of those heavenly virtues, which form the excellence and perfection of the Christian character."

Life of St. Alphonsus Maria de Liguori, Bishop of St. Agatha of the Goths, and Founder of the Congregation of the Missionary Priests of the Most Holy Redeemer. Compiled from the published Memoirs of the Saint. By one of the Redemptorist Fathers. Embellished with a fine steel Portrait of the illustrious saint.....12mo, cloth 1 25.....cloth, gt. ed. and sides 2 00

Another edition, printed on large, fine paper, suitable for libraries.....8vo, sheep 2 25

Extracts from the Preface.—"The compiler long since noticed with regret, that there was no Life of St. Alphonsus published in the English language which adequately set forth the merits of that illustrious Saint, and displayed his many claims to our admiration and respect. In order to supply this deficiency, he undertook, more than ten years ago, a translation of the Life of the Saint from the Italian; but various circumstances occurred to retard its completion. As soon, therefore, as his occupations permitted, he resumed his undertaking; but thinking that a compilation would answer his purpose better than the proposed translation, he was induced to change his original plan, and to prepare for publication the work which is now presented. While, however, he has attempted nothing beyond a mere compilation, care has been taken to unite completeness with brevity, and he believes that the portrait of St. Alphonsus which is given in the following pages, could not have been rendered more perfect and true otherwise than by the entire reproduction of the voluminous memoirs already published.

"There is no occasion to enlarge here upon the merits of the Saint. During a life time of ninety years, laboriously occupied in the service of God and in the salvation of souls, he exhibited continually such splendid examples of every virtue, that the mere narration of them will be at once his best panegyric, and the most persuasive exhortations to the imitation of his holiness."

Life of St. Vincent de Paul, Founder of the Congregation of the Missions, and of the Sisters of Charity.....cloth extra 50.....cloth, gilt edges 75

"This volume is neatly executed, and well deserves all the typographical excellence that can be bestowed upon it. It is one of those books which may be said to contain the quintessence of all that is admirable in the practical influence of our faith, and to place it before the reader in a form equally interesting and instructive. Few biographies of the saints could be found to possess a greater interest than that of St. Vincent of Paul; none could be more practically useful. His life was so unequivocally and so copiously fruitful in every species of good works, that it has been eulogized even by Protestant pens. The volume which has just appeared should for this reason be introduced into every Catholic family." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

Life of St. Patrick, Apostle of Ireland—to which are added the Lives of St. Bridget, Virgin and Abbess, and St. Columba, Abbot and Apostle of the Northern Picts. Embellished with a fine Portrait.....12mo, cloth 50

"There is no department in Irish history which, for the Irish reader, should possess more true interest than the ecclesiastical annals of his country. They are almost the only record over which he may pore with unmixed satisfaction and unalloyed national pride. As with Italy, so also with Ireland, the Catholic religion has been the only unity which for centuries she possessed—the only unpurchased and unpurchasable body which has survived the fiery ordeal of persecution and misery through which the country has passed. The history of the Irish Church, and consequently the biography of those of her sons who were most eminent for their piety, has ever been a favorite study of the youth of Ireland, and to no more useful branch could they apply. In this country, where so many of our fellow countrymen have found a home and a free altar, every work which in any way illustrates the history of their fatherland must prove invaluable. Hence, we hail with pleasure a new edition of this useful work—the Life of the great Apostle of Ireland, of St. Bridget, and St. Columba. It entirely refutes the calumnies of such writers as Cambrensis, Jocelin, and others." Truth Teller.

Life of Christ, by St. Bonaventure—to which are added the Devotion to the Three Hours' Agony of our Lord on the Cross, and the Life of the glorious St. Joseph.....18mo, cloth 50.....cloth, gilt edges 75

The merits of this standard work are so well known in the Catholic community, as worthy of the eminent sanctity of its author, and as a vast source of edification to the pious reader, that any commendatory remarks would be superfluous.

Life of St. Stanislaus Kostka, of the Society of Jesus, Patron of Novices. 18mo, cloth.....38.....cloth, gilt edges 63

'This is one of those works which do more for the maintenance of Christian piety among the practical advocates of religion than any other class of books, even those of a spiritual character. The Life of Saint Stanislaus is a valuable addition to our hagiological literature and should be extensively circulated, particularly among the junior portion of the community, who will discover in his heroic examples an accomplished model for imitation." *U. THE PEOPLE'S EDITION OF LINGARD'S ENGLAND.

Lingard's History of England, abridged, with a continuation from 1688 to 1854. By JAMES BURKE, Esq., Barrister at Law. With a Memoir of Dr. Lingard, and Marginal Notes, by M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Embellished with a fine steel Portrait of Dr. Lingard. 1 vol. 8vo, cloth 2 00.....library style 2 50

This highly important work is comprised in a beautiful octavo volume of nearly 700 pages; it is printed and bound in the best manner, and may justly be considered one of the cheapest books published.

We believe that it will be at once conceded, that at no period has it been of more importance than at the present to place before the American public a true and impartial history of England. No apology need therefore be made for the publication of an abridgment of Dr. Lingard's History of England, at a price that will at once place it within the reach of all classes.

Although Lingard's England has been nearly half a century before the public, not one fact stated by him has been proved to be erroneous, while the critics of all creeds have joined in expressing their approbation of his great work. In style without a superior, in truthfulness without an equal, Lingard stands before the historic student as the model of what an historian should be. Having thus spoken of the style of Lingard, it is right to add that the student will find that the ipsissima verba of the great Catholic historian of England have been religiously preserved in the Abridgment. Of the continuation we shall merely say that it has been written by an author who has been long and favorably known in literature. The publishers therefore feel confident that Mr. Burke will be found to have written in strict accordance with the spirit which dictated the great work of the historian whose pages he has followed. The sketch of the British Constitution, the abstract of the geography of England in Saxon times, the list of eminent natives, and the marginal notes, will add much to the interest of the work, and will be found useful to the reader, by way of reference.

Lingard's History and Antiquities of the Anglo-Saxon Church.....8vo, cloth 1 50

"Whatever concerns the origin, or is connected with the early history of the Saxon conquerors of England, cannot be devoid of interest for their descendants, however separated by place from the scenes in which they acted such prominent parts. The Antiquities, too, of the Anglo-Saxon Church will be found a most important and useful branch of study for the general scholar; and almost an indispensable acquisition for the theological student; as many of the controversies which, unfortunately, divide the Christian world to this day, have either direct reference to the doctrines and the discipline of the early Anglo-Saxon Church, or derive considerable light from a knowledge of its principles and institutions."

Lawrence; or, The Little Sailor. Translated from the French. 16mo, with 8 tinted illustrations.....cl. 38.....cl. gt. edg. and sides 63

"We cordially thank the publishers, Messrs. Murphy & Co., of Baltimore, for introducing to our young friends this cheap, interesting, beautifully illustrated, and truly Catholic story. The 'moral which it points' is confidence in God and his Blessed Mother. Would that we had more such stories to put into the hands of our little ones." London Lamp.

Lazarine; or, Duty, once understood, Religiously Fulfilled. Translated from the French.....18mo, cloth 50.....cloth, gilt edges 75

"We have seldom read a more interesting tale than is contained in this book. It is precisely a novel of that sort which is wanted for the entertainment and instruction of youth." Metropolitan.

Lorenzo; or, The Empire of Religion, 32mo, cl. 25.....cloth, gt. edges 38

Extract from the Preface.—"The Author of this little book, who, in embracing the Catholic religion, comprehended full well its grandeur and sublimity, and how it inspires generous devotedness and heroic actions, has given in his work a free scope to the ardor of his imagination, and to the liveliness of his thoughts and sentiments; their beauty, nobleness and generosity cannot fail to touch the heart, and to show that the most extraordinary actions may appear natural when inspired by Christian charity."

Milner's End of Religious Controversy, in a Friendly Correspondence between a Religious Society of Protestants and a Catholic Divine. By the Right Rev. John Milner.....12mo, paper 25.....half bound 38.....cloth 50

The character of this book being so well established, as the very best controversial work in the English language, we deem it sufficient to add, that this edition is printed from large type, on good paper; and for the purpose of securing it the most extensive circulation, the price has been reduced to the lowest manufacturing cost.

Manual of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Second enlarged and revised edition, with appropriate hymns set to music, 32mo, cloth 25...cloth, gilt edges 38

CONTENTS.—Diploma of the Sodality; Indulgences of the Sodality; General Rules of the Sodality; Office of the Blessed Virgin; Office for the Dead; Rules of the Sodality; Method of Mental Prayer; Plenary Indulgence, &c.; Litany of the B. V. M. in Latin; do. do. in English; Occasional Prayers; Mode of applying for Affiliation to Head-Sodality; Formula of reception into the Sodality of the Holy Infant Jesus; and the Sodality of the Holy Angels."

"An excellent Manual of devotional exercises is here presented to the public, containing the various offices composed by the Church to honor the Virgin Mary, with appropriate Litanies, and Hymns set to Music. It will be found useful in our colleges, and in fact wherever the children of Mary congregate to honor her. Its charming simplicity and the fervent spirit of devotion which characterize its pages, form not the least commendable feature in the compilation of prayers."

On Fashions. Translated from the French.....16mo, flexible cloth 13

"This is a small book, but it has a great spirit, and is one which we recommend all parents to read and study, and all fashionable people to commit to memory. It is painful to reflect how many souls are ruined by what passes for fashionable dress, or what is more properly denominated undress."
Brownson's Rev.

Paganism in Education. By the Abbé Gaume.....12mo, cloth 75

Pauline Seward, a Tale of Real Life, 12mo, cl. 1 00.....cl. gt. edg. 1 50

"No prose writer of America has yet, to our knowledge, penned a more graceful or more unaffected tale than this."
London Sun.

Short and Familiar Answers to the Objections most Commonly urged against Religion. From the French of L'Abbe de Segur, formerly Chaplain of the Military Prison of Paris.....18mo, cloth 38

"There reigns in all the book," says the Bibliographie Catholique, "a delicious simplicity of unction; whoever opens it, wishes to continue its perusal, and its charming pages shed a soft light which scatters shadows, causes difficulties to vanish, destroys prejudices, restores rectitude to the judgment, to truth its place, to religion its benefits and its splendor. Nothing can be more simply written, to be sure, but also nothing can be more touching, more natural, more loyal, more straightforward, more persuasive. It is a discourse without pompous preparation, but full of fascination." The book has had an immense success in France: one hundred thousand copies are said to have been sold in a few months.

St. Liguori on the Religious State.—Duties and Advantages of the Religious State; or Lesser Works of St. Alphonsus relating to the Religious State. Translated from the Italian by a Priest of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer. This little work forms a complete Treatise on the "Vocation to the Religious State."....18mo, cl. 50.....cl. gt. edg. and sides 75

"We have perused this little work with no little amount of pleasure and edification. As a means of ascertaining one's vocation in life, it is invaluable to youth. Age, too, may meditate on its words and precepts with benefit. We would advise every parent to purchase this little work and present it to their children, when about to choose a pathway through the thickets and morasses of life. The choice of a state of life is most important, as on it hangs our small pittance of happiness on this side of the grave, and our eternal welfare beyond it. True, indeed, are the words of the Scripture: 'Unusquisque proprium donum habet a Deo.'"

Spiritual Combat—to which is added Peace of the Soul, Happiness of the Heart, &c., 32mo, flexible cloth, 19; cloth, 25; cloth, gilt edges, 38: roan, stamped sides 38.....imitation gilt edges 50.....turkey, super extra 1 25

Extracts from the Preface.—"This little treatise comprehends, in a concise manner, the whole system of a Devout Life, gathered from the maxims of the Gospel, particularly from those which regard humility and self-denial.

"Among an infinity of encomiums which might be cited in its commendation, let it suffice to say that one of the greatest Saints these later ages have produced, St. Francis of Sales, for upwards of twenty years carried this book in his pocket, and never failed reading some pages of it every day; he called it his Director, and recommended it to all those who consulted him in the great affair of salvation. And though that excellent book, the Imitation of Christ, like this, tends to unite the soul entirely to God, yet St. Francis gave the preference to the SPIRITUAL COMBAT, for this reason, because the latter reduces its maxims to practice; whereas the former contains, indeed, abundance of choice sentiments, but does not point out the immediate application of them."

Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius.—Translated from the authorized Latin, with extracts from the literal version, and notes of the Rev. Father Rothaan, Father-General of the Company of Jesus, by Charles Seager, M. A. To which is prefixed a Preface by Cardinal Wiseman.....cap. 8vo, cloth 63

THE PICTORIAL CATHOLIC NEW TESTAMENT.

Embellished with about 150 Fine Illustrations.

The New Testament of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, translated from the Latin Vulgate, and diligently compared with the original Greek. Newly revised and corrected, with annotations explanatory of the most difficult passages. Published under the editorial supervision of the Most Rev. Archbishop Hughes, embellished with nearly 150 Fine Illustrations, in the best style of the art.....8vo, embossed cloth 2 50.....emb. cl. gt. edg. and sides 3 00

The Publishers have the pleasure to announce that they have purchased this edition of the Catholic New Testament from the original projector, Mr. Hewet, whose successful experience of many years, in embellishing books, gives them great confidence in assuring the public that this work is far superior to any other Catholic pictorial publication heretofore issued from the American Press. Of the various books which are capable of illustrative embellishment, none seem more appropriately adapted to this object. To the Bible, pictorial art is indebted for its noblest inspirations: its highest achievements have been wrought in the service of the sanctuary. The numerous illustrations, embodying all the most prominent subjects in the New Testament, are copied from some of the finest specimens of the ancient and modern schools of art—thus making this work a complete gallery of scriptural subjects—besides which, there are marginal arabesque ornaments, adapted to each page; and also several hundred ornamental initial letters; one of which embellishes the head of each chapter.

The name of the very learned divine under whose supervision the work has been issued, is an ample guarantee for the correctness of the text—and the approbations of the Most Rev. Archbishop and Rt. Rev. Bishops, so freely extended, give full assurance that this edition is one well worthy of most liberal encouragement of the Catholics, as the Most Beautifully Illustrated Catholic Work ever issued in the United States.

That the Catholic community may judge of the lively interest manifested by many of the Catholic hierarchy in behalf of this work, we subjoin the following

APPROBATIONS.

Baltimore, December 14th, 1847.

My Dear Sir:—You have my cheerful approbation of your proposed edition of the New Testament, about to be published under the direction of the Right Rev. Bishop of New York.

Your very faithful servant in Christ, † SAMUEL, Archbishop of Baltimore.

Mr. H. W. Hewet, New York.

Dear Sir:—The purpose which you have made known to me, of publishing a pictorial and illuminated edition of the Catholic New Testament, is one which meets my entire approbation. Knowing the superior advantages of your establishment in executing such a work, with appropriate embellishments, I cheerfully recommend to the patronage of the Catholic public the enterprise in which you are engaged. The expenditure on your part in accomplishing it must necessarily be large, and yet I cannot allow myself to doubt of your being sustained by the community at large, and more especially the Catholic portion of it. No work of equal artistical beauty has, as yet, been published in this country; while, on the other hand, the cheapness at which you furnish it to subscribers, will bring it within the means of almost every individual. Your generous purpose of appropriating one-fourth of the profits to charitable purposes, to be applied as I may judge best, is a sufficient proof of your earnestness and disinterestedness in the undertaking, which a corresponding liberality on the part of the Catholic community themselves will, I trust, render eminently successful.

I remain, very sincerely, your obedient servant, † JOHN HUGHES, Bishop of New York.

New York, Feast of St. Thomas, Apostle.

Mr. Hewet being about to undertake the publication of an edition of the New Testament, with Illustrations, with the sanction of the Bishop of New York, I cheerfully concur in recommending it to the faithful of this diocess. Given under my hand, this 27th day of November, 1847.

† FRANCIS PATRICK KENRICK, Bishop of Philadelphia.

My Dear Sir:—It is with a great pleasure that I see your Illustrated edition of the Catholic New Testament about to be published, and I cheerfully recommend it to the faithful of this diocess.

Cleveland, July 29th, 1848. † AMEDEUS, Bishop of Cleveland.

My Dear Sir:—I have read your prospectus of an Illuminated Testament, which you propose publishing under the editorial supervision of the Right Rev. Bishop of New York; I cannot but approve the undertaking, and I will cheerfully recommend it to the faithful of this diocess.

I remain, most sincerely, your obedient servant, † ANT., Bishop of New Orleans.

New Orleans, August 4th, 1848.

Dear Sir:—I am highly pleased with your very laudable undertaking,—"an edition of the Illustrated Catholic New Testament,"—and trust your enterprise will meet with the encouragement which it so well merits. I shall subscribe to it, and will endeavor to induce others to do the same.

Very truly, your servant in Christ, † IGUS. AL. REYNOLDS, Bishop of Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., August 12th, 1848.

Dear Sir:—The names of the Archbishop of Baltimore, and of the Bishops of New York and Philadelphia, are such a recommendation to your Illustrated Testament as to render any other unnecessary. With them I heartily join in their expression of approbation.

Very respectfully and sincerely yours, † RICHARD VINCENT, Bishop of Richmond.

THE PICTORIAL NEW TESTAMENT.—OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From a large number of highly complimentary notices of the Press, we select the following, as embodying the spirit of others:—

"We must recommend our readers to examine this volume; we have never seen an American publication at once so artistically and tastefully got up; in fact, it is a regular chef d'œuvre in its way. It is unnecessary to say that the work is published under proper approbation. The publication, in such highly ornamental editions, of the sacred volume is sure evidence of the good taste of our fellow Catholics in the United States." Toronto Catholic Citizen.

"We have rarely seen a work that pleased us more, or which for the beauty and elegance of its illustrations is so creditable to the publishers. Every page is profusely covered with these illustrations, and from the style in which they have been got up, the outlay must have been very large. Every Catholic who wishes to have one of the best and most elegant editions of the inspired writings on his table should procure the Illustrated New Testament. The work has been got up under the sanction of the illustrious Archbishop of New York, and we presume this affords a sufficient guarantee of the accuracy of the translation." Halifax Catholic.

"This edition of the New Testament filled with illustrations, nearly all of which are creditable and some really beautiful, is a proof that we take some interest in the sacred volume. But this method of showing love to the Scriptures, and attracting the popular mind to their perusal, is, indeed, peculiarly Catholic; all Europe, the walls of churches, of convents, nay, of palaces and the very bridges and the public ways, being adorned with the testimonials of it. This edition of the New Testament, from its possessing in its degree the same charm, is especially suited to inspire the love of Holy Scripture and of sacred art, above all, in the young, and our humble opinion here is corroborated by the numerous high recommendations prefixed to the work." Metropolitan.

The Power of the Pope in the Middle Ages; or, Historical Researches into the Origin of the Temporal Sovereignty of the Holy See, and on the Constitutional Law of the Middle Ages relative to the Deposition of Sovereigns, preceded by an Introduction respecting the Honours and Temporal Prerogatives accorded to Religion and its Ministers by Ancient Nations, particularly under the first Christian Emperors. By M. Gosselin, Director of the Seminary of St. Sulpice, Paris. Translated by the Rev. Matthew Kelly, Professor of French and Belles-Lettres, St. Patrick's College, Maynooth.....2 vols., 8vo, cloth 3 75

"Perhaps no work could be more opportunely presented to the English and American public than this. The temporal power of the Popes during the Middle Ages has been so intimately blended with the public law and acts of the civilized world, as to form an inseparable part of its history; and no student of either the period referred to, or of that of the present time, who closes his books without viewing, through a correct medium, that history, from Rome as the stand-point and centre of influences which have swayed movements of the most vital importance, can ever appreciate those momentous questions upon which the peace, and, it may be, the salvation of the world, has so often, and may yet again, depend. The English and American publishers, therefore, do well to furnish us with such books. It is the duty, and let it be the care of all Christians, who can do so, to disseminate them, that a too long abused public may be set right upon what so intimately concerns their present and their everlasting peace." Catholic Weekly Instructor.

The Spæwife, or the Queen's Secret. A Tale of the Times of Queen Elizabeth, by Paul Peppergrass, Esq., author of Shandy Maguire; with 6 fine illustrations, by Rowse. 2 vols. 12mo., cloth, gilt backs..... 1 50

The publishers have the pleasure to announce that this work has already met with an extensive sale, and has been received with universal favor by the press and the public throughout the country. In England it has been most favorably received, and is destined, according to the statements of the English press, to become a standard popular work.

The learned Dr. BROWNSON, in noticing this work, says: "The work itself is one of high pretensions as an historical novel, and has been elaborated with great care and pains, by an author who is already advantageously known to our public, and from whom we have much to expect. It has been favorably received, generally commended by the Catholic press, and men whose literary tastes and judgments we are bound to respect have pronounced it a masterpiece of its kind. It is written with ability, and is certainly a very interesting production."

The London Catholic Standard says; "'The Spæwife' is the production of the author of the work 'Shandy Maguire.' It is an historical novel of the time and reign of Queen Elizabeth, and portrays the character of that great enemy of Catholicity in the most masterly manner. The narrative is vigorous, full of romantic incident, and the persecution of the helpless, unoffending Catholics told with a pen of fire. It will be read with interest, and we have no doubt will soon become a popular and standard work."

The London Rambler, in noticing this work, says: "When we add that the book is from the same pen as 'Shandy Maguire,' they will know that there can be no lack of interest either in the subject or in the mode of handling it."

"In this work there are some scenes which we venture to say are unequalled, since the days of Gerald Griffin, by any Catholic writer of fiction. We refer, as a proof of this, to that noble scene in the hiding place of the recusants—'Whinstone Hollow'—where Alice Wentworth meets with a disguised uncle in one of the proscribed priests so common then in England. For dramatic power, we have not seen its equal in many a day." Catholic Miscellany.

"The book, as the author tells us in his preface, is 'neither religious nor controversial, but a plain story for plain people,—not in the least dangerous to faith or morals.' It is much more than this, however. It is a highly entertaining and well-written tale. We heartily recommend the book to our readers as instructive and entertaining. Historical tales of this character do real good; and the talented author has put the Catholic public under fresh obligations to him by his just-completed work." Shepherd of the Valley.

The Jew of Verona. An Historical Tale of the Italian Revolutions of 1846-9. 2 vols., 12 mo, cloth..... 2 00

The Publishers feel great pleasure in announcing the unprecedented sale of this work, and invite attention to the following brief extracts from Notices of the English and American press, as the very best evidence of its extraordinary merits:

"We confess we are somewhat surprised that the publication of this extraordinary work in an English garb has been hitherto untried in this country, and that such an enterprise should have been reserved for the American press. All we shall at present say of it is, that a more readable book we never perused. Every page abounds with matter that seizes upon the faculties and excites every variety of sensation of which the human system is susceptible. We say without hesitation that a more extraordinary romance—viewing it merely as a work of the imagination—never was indited by a writer of fiction. The 'Jew of Verona' transcends the finest works of our greatest modern English novelists as far as the marvels of fact eclipse the most astounding creations of the imagination; and its production by the pen of a priest is perhaps the best reply that need be given to the stupid assertion of fanatical prejudice, that the Catholic religion cramps the intellect and enslaves the soul. . . . We know of no English writer who has displayed the variety of genius that distinguishes this work of Father Bresciani's. It displays a wonderful combination of the best and rarest of other men's greatest faculties; and whether in the orgies of the bacchanalian blasphemers, or the council of the conspirators, or the dungeon of the despairing assassin, or the battle-field, the descriptive powers of the author are as grand as comprehensive, and throw around his picture a spell which is either thrilling, captivating, or horrifying, as the subjects vary, and the truth is placed before the mind by the powerful pencil of the painter. Shakspeare presents us with no character so damnably wicked as Babette; indeed the whole of that part of the work which is devoted to an elucidation of the infernal workings of the secret societies is replete with fearful interest." London Catholic Standard.

The Dublin Tablet says: "The Jew of Verona, as most of our readers are aware, is a romance by an illustrious Italian Jesuit, Father Bresciani. It has attracted more attention than any similar work since the Promessi Spost, and while it probably equals that exquisite story, it far surpasses it in the absorbing interest of its incidents."

"This is an exceedingly clever historical novel, written to expose the designs, operations, and characters of the Revolutionary party in Italy from 1846 to 1849. Every Catholic should read it, and so discover of what stuff the Mazzini party really are made of." London Lamp.

"The facts contained in it are of peculiar interest just now, as giving an insight into the murderous character of the European secret societies, whose ramifications in America are showing by their plots something of their capacity for evil. As a tale, it cannot fail to interest—while the facts are undoubtedly of the highest importance to all Catholics of these times." Catholic Telegraph.

"With a skill of combination which proves him to be possessed of the highest order of talent, the author has so intermingled narration with dialogue, description of scenery with the portraiture of character, as to invest his work with all the charms of an interesting romance, and to make the statement of real facts seem stranger than fiction. We earnestly recommend a careful perusal of this work to the attention of our readers." Metropolitan.

"This little book is one that all may read with pleasure and profit. Parent and child will alike be touched by the useful lessons it contains, which are conveyed with a delicacy and feeling which constitute its peculiar charm. If instead of the trash with which our country is flooded in the shape of cheap reading, the public taste would turn to such works as the 'Catholic Bride,' we might soon look for a visible improvement in the moral and intellectual tone of communities, and a higher standard of social refinement. The work deserves encouragement, as well for the very neat style in which it is presented to the reader, as for the more cogent reason that it is a valuable acquisition to our language, and a 'precious pearl' among the 'treasures of American Catholic literature.' In giving us these interesting letters in an English dress, the reverend translator has added another to the many obligations of gratitude which the American Catholics already owe him." *U. S. Cath. The Poor Man's Catechism; or, The Christian Doctrine Explained.

"This work was called the Poor Man's Catechism, we presume, because the author intended it principally for the use of the less educated portion of society, and for this reason conveyed his instruction in an easy and familiar style. But this feature of the book does not prevent it from being equally adapted to all classes of persons, and its circulation among the rich and the poor, the learned and the unlearned, as an excellent exposition of the Catholic faith, is a proof of what we here assert. The present edition has been issued in a very good style, and possesses, independently of its intrinsic worth, a quality which will render it as much the poor man's catechism as that of the more wealthy; it is the excellent quality of cheapness which sometimes even the rich themselves do not disregard. The very low price at which it is offered will place this admirable work in the hands of all."

In preparing the present edition for the press, no pains have been spared to render it in every way worthy of patronage. The text was carefully examined by a reverend gentleman, eminently qualified. The printing and binding are in a style of neatness corresponding with the present highly improved state of the art. The whole is comprised in a neat volume of about 550 pages, and may justly be considered the neatest, cheapest and most convenient edition of this excellent work that has ever been issued from the press in this country. It is to be hoped, that these will be sufficient inducements for all to supply themselves with the work, pronounced by Fontanelle the best that ever came from the pen of man—the Bible being of divine origin.

The Oriental Pearl. A Catholic Tale, by Mrs. Anna H. Dorsey. 32mo. cloth..... 25

"This is one of the most beautiful and touching stories we ever read. We recommend it confidently to our readers." Godey's Lady's Book.

The Bible Question Fairly Tested—containing the Use of the Bible, by Fenélon, with Fletcher's illustrations—the celebrated Pastoral charge of the Archbishop of Tours, on the authority of the Church to interpret the Scriptures—Protestant evidences of Catholicity, by Dr. Julius V. Höninghaus.....18mo, cloth 38

We have here collected into one volume three of the most useful essays that could be consulted with a view to discover the leading and specific differences between the Catholic and Protestant systems, and the respective grounds on which they are established. The abuse of the written word of God, and the want of acquaintance with the rational mode of applying it to the ends of religion, are the radical causes of Protestant hostility to the Catholic church; and under these circumstances the volume before us recommends itself with peculiar force to the patronage of the community at large; to the Protestant, who is bound to hear before he condemns, and to the Catholic, who should be prepared at all times with the necessary armor for the defence of his principles. Among the works which treat of the proper use of the Bible, of the necessity of a living witness in matters of faith, and of the sad consequences of private judgment, this holds a conspicuous rank, not merely on account of the eminent worth of its contents, but also by its very convenient form and moderate price, which place it within the reach of every class of readers." *U. The Catholic Keepsake, edited by Professor Walter; an elegant gift-book, suitable for all seasons.....cloth, extra gilt edges 1 50

"It gives us infinite pleasure to commend to the public in general, and to Catholics in particular, this agreeable volume. We hail it with especial gratification, as the first undertaking of the kind originated in this country by Catholic enterprise. Catholics have long felt the want of an annual of this description, and they will find themselves in future at no loss for a literary douceur for their friends and children. The matter of this volume is excellent, and in general unexceptionable. This work comes to us with the distinguished approbation of the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Philadelphia, a circumstance which will entitle it to far more favor than any thing we could urge in its behalf."

Travels of an Irish Gentleman in Search of a Religion, by Thos. Moore, Esq. 12mo, cloth..... 75

The name of the distinguished author may be deemed a sufficient voucher for the excellence of this work, which he has dedicated to the people of Ireland, as a defence of their national faith. It is well known in the Catholic world, as combining more of wit, style, various and happy illustration, interest of narrative, and withal, a greater store of learning, than most controversial works of the same class.

The History of the Reformation in England and Ireland; showing how that event impoverished the main body of the people in those countries. By William Cobbett. Two volumes.....bound in 1 vol., 12mo, cloth 75

☞ The second volume contains a list of the priories, nunneries, abbeys, hospitals, and other religious foundations siezed on, or alienated, by the "Protestant Reformation," Sovereigns and Parliaments.

"Though the Reformation was very tragical in its consequences, its pretensions, as an improvement of religion, have justly been considered in the light of a comedy. Especially in England does this view of the subject present itself to the reader of history, and Cobbett, in his quaint, popular, matter-of-fact style, has invested it with a degree of interest which it would not possess in a graver and more polished form. As he relates facts which the best historians confirm, his statements will always be received as authoritative. The present edition of his history is neatly printed, and offered at a very moderate price, circumstances which, in addition to its intrinsic worth, insure it a ready and extensive circulation."

Willitoft; or, The Days of James the First, a Catholic Tale, by James McSherry, Esq.....12mo, cloth 75

To the Catholics of England this little book is dedicated by an American, to remind them of the constancy of their forefathers in the sufferings which they endured for their faith, and to warn their persecutors how vain and impotent must always be the efforts of those who "are found even to fight against God."

"This is a very pretty and interesting Catholic story, not at all wanting in talent or scenic effect. It portrays the persecutions inflicted on Catholics in England at that period. The Catholic priest, the Catholic family, and the concomitants of its associations and persecutions, are drawn with a good deal of sympathetic feeling. This is a story of merit, and of a moral tone which we like and greatly commend. We hope the author may be encouraged by an extensive sale." Freeman's Journal.

Dielman's Mass, for Three Voices, with an accompaniment for the organ..... 1 50

"We are much pleased to announce the appearance of this composition from the pen of Henry Dielman, Musical Doctor, a gentleman endowed with the highest order of genius in his particular sphere, and possessing rare accomplishments as an artist. Few of Professor Dielman's compositions have as yet been published, and it will therefore be gratifying to the lovers of the art, and to the friends of sacred song in particular, to learn that our musical literature has been enriched by a mass from so gifted a composer. It is in the key of F; is designed for three voices, a soprano, alto, and bass; is of very moderate length, and combines simplicity of notation with beauty of melody; so that it is adapted to any choir. A Veni Creator has been included in the work, with an organ accompaniment for the whole chant. A mass of this description was a great desideratum among us, for there are very few indeed which unite all the above-mentioned characteristics. The mass before us, though intended chiefly for choirs of modest pretensions, which are by far the most numerous, will be very acceptable in a higher sphere; for, while the whole composition evinces beauty, originality, and the German solidity of thought, there are some passages in it worthy of a Haydn, a Mozart, or a Beethoven." Metropolitan.

"This is a new edition of the small Ritual which was published several years ago, in virtue of a decree to that effect of the 3d Provincial Council of Baltimore. The principal improvements that we have noticed in this edition is its containing in English, French, and German those passages in the administration of the sacraments which it is desirable to express in the vernacular tongue, and the special directions in the rubrics for baptizing more than one person at once. The prayers for the recommendation of a soul departing have also been added, in Latin and English, to this edition. In the typographical execution of the work there has been a considerable change for the better. The type is large and clear, and much more convenient for use, than the small character of the former edition. The rubrical directions also are printed in red ink, and by this distinction from the black letter of the prayers, they impart to the work a truly Catholic appearance; and if we did not know where it had been published, we would suppose that it had been issued from one of the great Catholic depôts of Rome, Lyons, Paris, or Malines. It is a beautifully executed volume." Catholic Mirror.

The Boston Pilot says: "These acceptable additions to our stock of Catholic books came from the press of Murphy, of Baltimore. It is useless, now-a-days, to say that his publications are well got up, for everybody knows that they are. Any house might be proud of the appearance of these books.

"The first is an elaborate work, published by order of the Council of Baltimore, and it is a complete manual for the master of ceremonies, and for learners. Every priest should have it. An explanation of the ceremonies, by Bishop England, is prefixed to the work. The manual, being a translation of Baldeschi's great work, is of authority. Bishop Rosati's name is sufficient to guarantee a good translation. This book was written for ecclesiastics, but it is also adapted to the use of all persons who wish to study the ceremonies of the Church, or to follow them minutely on festival days.

"The second book is one which was compiled for small churches, where there is only one priest, who nevertheless, performs the functions of all the festivals. This statement shows the value of the book to all pastors who serve churches singly. This work is also a translation from Baldeschi, and it was published by order of the Council; it is therefore standard authority."

At the instance of several of the Prelates of the late National Council, Murphy & Co. have made an arrangement with Mr. Hanicq, the eminent Catholic Publisher of Mechlin, by which they will keep a constant supply of the "RITUALE ROMANUM" entire, as approved by Benedict XIV. This edition is printed on fine paper, from a clear, bold type, in red and black; it contains the Musical Notes for several Antiphons, Psalms, and Hymns adapted to the more solemn offices. It appears most desirable that every church be furnished with a copy, which the American publishers are prepared to supply at a very low price. The size is such as missionaries might, without inconvenience, carry on their missions.

BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Without exception this is by far the best Catholic Prayer Book in our language. It was originally prepared for the use of the Sisters of Charity; and in adapting it for general use, such additions as the WAY OF THE CROSS, the prayers of BONA MORS, MEDITATIONS FOR EVERY DAY IN THE MONTH, the SCAPULAR, LIVING ROSARY, MONTH OF MARY, &c., give it that standard value that will make this the most popular of all our excellent prayer books." Pittsburg Catholic.

"The work is neatly executed; and for intrinsic merit, as a manual and collection of devotions, we would give it the preference over any other that we know in English. Our reasons are, its greater variety of exercises, and especially its large number of LITANIES." Freeman's Journal.

"The excellence of this prayer book consists in the accuracy which characterizes its various parts, and in the numerous prayers and instructions which have been introduced into it. It contains full explanations of all the principal observances of Catholic piety, and of several devotions which have never been published in any other English prayer book, for instance; the MONTH OF MARY, the LIVING ROSARY, the ARCH-CONFRATERNITY FOR THE CONVERSION OF SINNERS, RULE OF LIFE FOR A PIOUS CHRISTIAN, &c. The Prayers before and after Communion and Confession are very copious, and the Litanies are numerous. One of the most useful additions to the work is the Burial Service in Latin and English for children and adults, which will enable those who assist at that ceremony to follow the officiating clergyman. The Psalms and other devotions for the evening service of the church are arranged to suit the different festivals that occur during the year. In short this Manual may truly be said to be the most comprehensive book of the kind that has ever been issued from the press in this country. It is very handsomely executed, and is embellished with several fine Engravings. Let all purchase this book who wish to be provided with a complete manual of Catholic piety." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

"Mr. Murphy, of Baltimore, has just issued a new Catholic Prayer Book, which we pronounce, without fear of contradiction, to be the best which has yet come within our knowledge. It is beautifully got up—printed with new type, on excellent paper—illustrated with several fine engravings, and illuminated title—presentation plates, &c. and can be had in any kind of binding." Truth Teller.

"The publisher has placed the Catholics of the United States under an obligation in issuing this truly elegant and useful volume, which, it is to be hoped, they will repay by a liberal patronage for their mutual benefit." Baltimore Sun.

GERMAN SCHOOL BOOKS.

The following works have been prepared under the immediate superintendence of the Rev. Superiors of the Society of the Holy Redeemer, in Baltimore, with a view to their adaptation to the wants of the German Catholic schools of this country. Besides the superior manner in which they are produced, these books, both as regards contents and cheapness, excel any others of the kind published in this country.

KERNEY'S POPULAR SCHOOL BOOKS.

IN calling public attention to the following works by Mr. KERNEY, the publishers deem it unnecessary to enlarge on their respective merits. The author's experience as a teacher for a number of years, enabled him to acquire a practical knowledge of the wants of pupils in pursuing the different branches of learning. The very liberal patronage extended to them, and the favor with which they have been received, especially by many practical Teachers, and their immediate introduction into several of the principal institutions of learning in the country, is the best evidence of their practical utility.

A liberal discount to Booksellers, Teachers, &c., when purchased in quantities.

A Compendium of Ancient and Modern History, with QUESTIONS, adapted to the use of Schools and Academies; also an APPENDIX, containing the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, a Biographical Sketch of Eminent Personages, with a Chronological Table of Remarkable Events, Discoveries, Improvements, etc., from the Creation to the year 1850. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Tenth revised Edition ..... 12mo, hf. arabesque 75

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Compendium of History, by M. J. Kerney, has been in my possession several months, and, after a careful reading, I believe it to be a very useful book in the department of study to which it belongs. I take pleasure in recommending it to teachers.

J. N. M'JILTON, Chairman Central High School of Baltimore.

I have carefully examined "Kerney's Compendium of History," and "Kerney's Abridgment of Murray's English Grammar." I have the pleasure to inform you that they have both been introduced into the Public Schools in our city. I take great pleasure in recommending them to the attention of Teachers. J. F. CALLAN, Trustee Public School 2d., Washington, D.C.

"Kerney's Compendium of History" condenses much matter in a small compass; and, as a school book, is calculated to interest and please the student; while it makes him master of the principal and most important facts of Ancient and Modern History. To speak of its merits comparatively, I think it equal, if not superior, to any of its kind within my knowledge. JOS. H. CLARK, A.M.

Having carefully perused the "Compendium of Ancient and Modern History," by M. J. Kerney, I feel no hesitation in stating it to be, in my opinion, one of the best arranged works for the use of schools and academies that I have seen. JAMES SHANLEY, 59 Conway street, Balt.

EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Our leisure has not served us to enter into a very critical examination of Mr. Kerney's volume: we have looked through it with some attention, and must confess that we have been favorably impressed with its merits. In the History, more especially, where it is impossible to avoid the relation of facts touching various religious creeds, the compiler seems to have scrupulously refrained from any remark that could arouse sectarian prejudice—a fault in which too many of those who have given their labors to the compilation of school histories have been prone to indulge."

National Intelligencer.

"This very useful work was compiled for the use of schools and academies, and fully meets the wants it was intended to supply; we therefore shall not only adopt it in the schools under our own care, but recommend it as much as we can to others." Pittsburg Catholic.

"We confess ourselves well pleased with this volume, and believe it is destined to find favor in the sphere for which the author has designed it. Its style is didactic and terse, and while agreeable to the cultivated intellect, is adapted to the humblest comprehension. There is one characteristic of the work which pleases us above all others, and that is the studied care with which the author avoids all allusions and comments that might be in the slightest degree wounding to the religious sensibilities of members of any creed. This is a great desideratum in books designed for schools, as the evil of sectarianism, so manifest in most of our elementary class books, has been long and loudly complained of. We cannot but hope that this work will be acceptable to our citizens, because of its fitness for the objects for which the author designed it, because of its impartial character, and because it is the production of a worthy and intelligent member of our own community."

U. S. Catholic Magazine.

"It is a work containing much useful information, and, as a school book, and for general historical reference, it will be found invaluable." Baltimore American.

"A cursory examination of this volume has led us to form a very favorable opinion of its merits as a school book." Catholic Herald.

"We noticed some months ago the first edition of this work, and are much gratified to find, from the speedy appearance of the second, that our anticipations of its complete success were not vain. We not only cheerfully, but earnestly recommend it to the favorable notice of tutors and directors of schools and academies." St. Louis News-Letter.

"As an elementary treatise, this work will, we should suppose, be, and deservedly so, a favorite in our schools. The appendix of biographical notices of prominent individuals is an original and desirable addition to the book." Lutheran Observer.

"It fills a place long vacant in our school books. Its style is good, plain, and easy; it is well condensed, and the narrative correct and justly sustained." Fred. Exam.

"Mr. Kerney has done good service to the cause of education and general intelligence in preparing this valuable work." Odd Fellows' Mirror.

Murphy & Co.'s Standard School Books.

The First Class Book of History, designed for pupils commencing the Study of History; with QUESTIONS, adapted to the use of Academies and Schools. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Eighth revised edition 25

At the earnest request of many who used the author's Compendium of Ancient and Modern History, he compiled the above work. It is chiefly designed for pupils about to enter upon a course of historical study. In the arrangement of the work, and in the general matter of contents, the author has pursued that course which his long experience in teaching has pointed out as the best to facilitate the progress of the pupil in acquiring a knowledge of history.

As the history of our own country possesses peculiar attractions, he has placed the history of the United States first in the order of arrangement, so that it may first claim the attention of the young. This is succeeded by an interesting account of the most important events in the history of England, France, Ireland, and Italy, together with an interesting view of the Middle Ages, the Crusades, and Monastic Institutions.

The work is embellished with a number of Engravings, and has questions at the bottom of each page to facilitate the labor both of the teacher and pupils.

Catechism of the History of the United States; with a Chronological Table of American History, from its Discovery in 1492, to the year 1854. Illustrated with Engravings. Revised and enlarged Edition. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. 24mo, paper 13

The peculiar merits of this little History are to be found in the accuracy of its details, and in the adaptation of its style and arrangement to the capacity of that class of learners for which it was designed. The favor it has been received with, and its extensive circulation, are the best comments on its merits—nearly 15,000 copies having been disposed of within two years. The present edition has been carefully revised and enlarged; and in order to render the work more attractive, a number of appropriate and instructive engravings have been introduced. These improvements add much to its merits, and render it far superior to any work of the kind now before the public.

"This is likely to prove a popular book for primary history classes in our schools. It is well arranged, compact, and comprehensive, and cannot be too highly praised." Detroit Vindicator.

"This little work is well calculated to give the learner a succinct knowledge of the leading events in the history of the American Republic, from its first discovery down to the present year. It is admirably adapted for the use of schools." Halifax Catholic.

A Catechism of Scripture History, compiled by the Sisters of Mercy for the use of the children attending their schools. Revised and corrected by M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Second American, from the last London Edition . . . . 18mo, hf. cloth 50

"The preface to this work informs us that it was originally compiled for the use of the pupils attending the schools of the Sisters of Mercy in the city of Limerick, Ireland. It has been revised by Mr. M. J. Kerney, and a valuable appendix added, containing some pages of extracts from the prophets, with the evidence from the New Testament of the fulfillment of the predictions given, placed in juxtaposition with the prophetic sentences. It is an admirable book for schools, and calculated to give a far more vivid and lasting knowledge of sacred history than could be obtained from years of desultory and mechanical 'Bible-reading.'" Detroit Vindicator.

"This excellent work is now used in nearly all Catholic institutions throughout England and Ireland, and has also acquired an extensive circulation throughout the neighboring republic.

"The object of the Catechism, according to the preface 'is to render children early acquainted with the truthful and interesting events recorded in the sacred Scriptures; to familiarize them with the prophecies relating to the coming of the Messiah, and lead them to regard the Old Testament as a figure and a foreshadowing of the New.'

"The present edition has been much improved, the questions to the answers being made more concise, so as to admit of their being easily committed to memory. An appendix has also been added, containing extracts from the Prophets, Scripture texts, and short sketches of the lives of the Apostles and Evangelists. The Chronological Table, which has been carefully revised and considerably enlarged, fixes the dates of the most remarkable events recorded in the Sacred Writings.

"We hope soon to see the work introduced into all Catholic Schools in the British Provinces, and were its merits fully known we are pretty certain it would meet with a circulation similar to that which it has acquired in England and the United States." Halifax Catholic.

"This little school-book, compiled by the Sisters of Mercy, and revised by M. J. Kerney, fills a want which has existed too long. The importance of an exact history of the principal events related in the Bible, is one which all will acknowledge, and the friends of Catholic education are under special obligations to the compilers, as also to the reviser and publisher of this work." South. Journal.

"Of the merits of the book itself, it would be superfluous to speak, but we may observe that the labors of the American editor have added very considerably to its value." Metropolitan.

☞ The foregoing works, which form a complete series of School Histories, the publishers are happy to state, have met with very liberal patronage.

KERNEY'S MURRAY'S GRAMMAR.

An Abridgment of Murray's Grammar and Exercises, designed for the use of Academies and Schools; with an Appendix, containing Rules for Writing with Perspicuity and Accuracy: also a Treatise on Epistolary Composition. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. ..... 18mo, lif. bd. 15

This Grammar is used in the Public Schools of Baltimore, and several of the principal schools and academies throughout the country.

In point of arrangement, this work is superior to any other Abridgment of Murray's Grammar that has yet appeared before the public. It combines the Grammar and Exercise, by adapting Exercises to every chapter and section throughout the work, so that the pupil may have, at every stage of his progress, a practical illustration of the portion under his immediate study. The present edition has been carefully revised by the author, and many valuable improvements made in the work. A Treatise on Epistolary Composition has been added, containing directions for writing Letters, Notes, Cards, &c., with a variety of examples of the same.

EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Mr. Kerney's Abridgment of it is just what it professes to be, and not a new superstructure upon an old foundation. Those who think Murray's the best of all grammars, therefore, will not hesitate much to think this the best of all abridgments." National Intelligencer.

"This abbreviation of the large and unwieldy volume of the Patriarch of Grammarians has been effected without the omission of any important matter, and is presented to the public in a neat and convenient form. It must find favor in schools." Baltimore Patriot.

"We most cheerfully recommend this Grammar to schools." St. Louis News-Letter.

"This is an excellent abridgment of Murray, long a favorite in schools. Fred. Examiner.

"On a cursory examination, it appears to be well adapted to the purposes for which it was designed, and worthy to be extensively introduced into schools and academies." Baltimore Clipper.

"We are very much pleased with this abridgment, and think the improvements Mr. Kerney has made admirably calculated to accelerate the progress of the learner, and to lessen the labor of the teacher. We feel great pleasure in commending the work to the favorable notice and patronage of teachers of youth." Odd Fellows' Mirror.

"This popular little work seems to contend for the palm of usefulness with Mr. Chandler's grammar, which we noticed a few months ago. The Presentation Brothers, who conduct St. Paul's School in this city, and who are good practical judges, as well as excellent teachers, prefer this abridgment, especially for the junior classes." Pittsburg Catholic.

"This little work appears to be exceedingly well suited to the use of the scholar who is about entering upon the study of the English language. It will, no doubt, prove an aid to the tutor, and, by its simplicity and explanatory style, be of great advantage to the pupil." Baltimore American.

"The general arrangement of Murray's Grammar is admitted to be the best extant. Mr. Kerney has presented all that is truly valuable in any abridgment of Murray's that we have seen, and has made several valuable suggestions to instructors. The book cannot fail to meet with success among intelligent teachers." Methodist Protestant.

"We take particular pleasure in recommending this abridgment to the public. The notes and observations taken from the original are copious and well selected. In point of arrangement, it is superior to any other abridgment of Murray's Grammar. Besides embracing in a narrow compass all that is important or essential in the original grammar and exercise, this abridgment contains in its appendix several additional matters which will be found highly interesting and useful to the learner; such as the Art of Reasoning, Oratory, Elliptical Phrases, Popular Latin Phrases, with a literal English Translation." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

MURRAY'S GRAMMARS, &c.

Murray's English Grammar, adapted to the different classes of learners, with an APPENDIX, containing rules and observations for assisting the more advanced students to write with perspicuity and accuracy. By LINDLEY MURRAY. 12mo, half bound 20

In presenting a new edition of Murray's Grammar, which is universally considered the best extant, we deem it sufficient to state, that the present edition is printed from an entirely new set of plates, and that it has been carefully revised, and free from many of the inaccuracies and blemishes which are to be found in other editions, printed from old stereotype plates. This, together with the very low price affixed to it, are the only claims urged in favor of this edition.

An Abridgment of Murray's English Grammar, with an APPENDIX, containing Exercises, in Orthography, in Parsing, in Syntax, and in Punctuation. Designed for the younger classes of learners ..... 18mo, half bound 13

This little Abridgment contains, in a compact and cheap form, a brief outline of the elementary principles of grammar, and is well calculated to impart to children the rules and definitions of the study, without over-burdening their minds.

KERNEY'S ARITHMETICS.

The Columbian Arithmetic, designed for the use of Academies and Schools. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Sixth improved edition..... 38

This work possesses merits of a superior nature in that department of science to which it belongs. It is a book of practical instruction; one in which the science of figures is thoroughly explained and clearly elucidated. The examples for practice are generally such as the pupil will meet in the various business transactions of life. The arrangement of the work is entirely progressive, all questions being solved by rules previously explained.

Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic, designed for the use of Academies and Schools. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Sixth edition..... 13

This little work is designed as an introduction to the former, and is intended for children about to commence the study of Arithmetic. The first principles of the science are familiarly explained in the form of question and answer, and the pupils are conducted in the study as far as the end of compound numbers. It is replete with practical examples, adapted to the capacity of that class of learners for which it is designed, and it also contains all the Tables.

In calling public attention to the foregoing works, the publishers take great pleasure in stating that they have already passed through several large editions, which is the most conclusive evidence of the high estimation in which they are held by the instructors of youth, as far as they are known. The present editions have been carefully revised and corrected by the author, and no pains will be spared to render them, at all times, deserving of the high reputation they have already acquired.

The publishers are fully aware of the prejudices existing among many teachers in favor of old works on Arithmetic; hence the great difficulty of introducing new ones, however meritorious; from such they earnestly solicit a careful examination of these works—and respectfully refer them to the following testimonials of their merits from practical teachers.

Alexandria, Va., November 18th, 1849.

An examination of the "Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney, has convinced us of its sterling utility, and we shall accordingly make arrangements for its immediate introduction into our school, (numbering, at present, eighty pupils.) We believe it to be second to none extant, and would, therefore, recommend it to all teachers of Academies, &c. L. WHITTLESEY & SON.

I have examined the "Columbian Arithmetic," and "Introduction" to it, by M. J. Kerney, and consider them excellent books; they are judiciously arranged, and practical in their application. The rules are plain, sufficiently concise, and well adapted to the comprehension of young persons. The explanation of the theory of Proportion is simple, perspicuous, and accurate. We intend to introduce those books into our school. JOHN SLATTERY, Principal Washington Seminary.
Number of pupils about 300.

I have examined with much care the "Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney. It appears to me to be a work of considerable merit, and is better calculated for schools of the United States, and for counting-houses, than any other book on the subject that I have yet seen. The general arrangement is systematic, and according to the affinities of different rules. Under the impression that it is an improvement upon every other work of the kind now before the public, I will immediately adopt it in my school, numbering at present about ninety pupils.
Washington, Nov. 13, 1849. S. B. RITTENHOUSE, Principal Washington Institute.

As an evidence of the high opinion I entertain of the "Columbian Arithmetic," I have superseded the use of Davies', by its immediate introduction. F. KNIGHTON, Alexandria Institute.

The "Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic" is so admirably adapted to its purpose, that we have introduced it in the place of others in this seminary. Number of pupils, over one hundred.
McLeod's Seminary, Washington. J. O. WILSON, L. H. CHURCHILL, Associate Principals.

I have examined the Arithmetics by M. J. Kerney, and unhesitatingly give them the preference over all the various works of the kind which I have met with. Mrs. J. McLEOD, Select School.

I believe that the Columbian series of Arithmetics, by M. J. Kerney, better calculated to assist the pupil in that branch of science, than any other. A. W. HALL, Alexandria, Va.

I am much pleased with Kerney's Arithmetics, and think them much better adapted to the use of pupils generally, than any others I have examined. RICHARD L. CARNE, JR.
St. John's Academy, Alexandria, Va., November 14th, 1849.

I am much pleased with the Arithmetics by M. J. Kerney, and shall introduce them in my school, believing them to be better calculated to facilitate the progress of the pupil in that branch of science, than any other book on that subject.
Georgetown, November 13th, 1849. J. R. COMPTON.

I have examined Kerney's "Columbian Arithmetic," and I consider it such a one as has been much wanted in schools. I decidedly prefer it to any heretofore used, and shall introduce it into my school. M. R. SHYNE, Navy Yard Academy, Washington.

I have examined the "Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney, and have adopted it in preference to others. I shall also use the "Columbian Arithmetic" in my more advanced classes. Boarding and Day School of the Misses HAWLEY, Washington, D. C.

I have examined, as far as my leisure would permit, the "Columbian Arithmetic," and am much pleased with many features of the work. I have introduced it into my school.

FREDET'S UNIVERSAL HISTORIES, &c.

The distinguished and wide-spread reputation of the author as an historian and Professor of History in St. Mary's College for the last twenty years;—the universal favor with which these works have been received, and their immediate introduction into many of the principal literary institutions in the United States, precludes the necessity of giving many of the numerous complimentary and flattering testimonials that have been so freely extended to them, both in this country, and in England, where they are extensively used.

Ancient History: from the dispersion of the Sons of Noe, to the Battle of Actium, and the change of the Roman Republic into an Empire. By PETER FREDET, D. D., Professor of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Fourth edition, carefully revised and enlarged 12mo 88

Modern History: from the coming of Christ, and the change of the Roman Republic into an Empire, to the year of our Lord, 1854. By PETER FREDET, D. D., Professor of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Tenth enlarged and improved edition 12mo. 88

New and Improved Editions, carefully revised and corrected by the Author.

These two volumes form a COMPLETE COURSE OF HISTORY, or a continuous chain of Historical Events, from the CREATION OF THE WORLD TO THE YEAR 1854.

The publishers are happy to announce that they have just issued new, enlarged, and improved editions of the above works, in uniform style. Each volume contains upwards of five hundred pages, and may justly be considered the cheapest, most authentic, and reliable histories published.

The London Catholic Standard says: "These two excellent manuals of history have a wide and increasing circulation in America, and are everywhere held in the highest esteem. The compiler, Dr. Fredet, has achieved a task of no ordinary difficulty, in compressing so much recondite matter into so small a space; in leaving untold nothing that was of note of the immense and varied annals of the world. No college, school, or library ought to be without these excellent works."

The Dublin Telegraph says: "Fredet's Histories have been adopted, as a class-book, by the Irish Catholic University; and we entertain no doubt, that they will soon supersede, even in other establishments, those miserable compilations which wilful perverters of truth have long palmed upon the public—both Catholic and Protestant—as histories and abridgments of history."

The Dublin Tablet says: "These two volumes are plain, copious, and useful summaries of history, and the number of editions through which they have passed attest their popularity."

The Catholic Instructor says: "We hope these Histories will soon find their way into every literary institution among us, in order that the young may learn the past from pure and uncorrupted sources."

The Catholic Sentinel says: "These beautiful treatises are quite deserving of the patronage which they obtain. They are most commendable for their Christian and unbiassed spirit. And we are not astonished that Dr. Fredet has his name taken up by the Irish University, proud that America has made therein such an inroad upon the abridged histories heretofore existing."

The Metropolitan says: "The style is veritably charming by its simplicity, and by the quiet love of his subject which the reverend author constantly displays. It is the language of a talented successful teacher, who relates to the class the great events of time, succinctly but graphically, without bombast, yet in a lively and picturesque manner. It is thus that history should be written for youth."

Lingard's England Abridged, for the Use of Schools.

An Abridgment of the History of England. By JOHN LINGARD, D.D. With a continuation from 1688 to the reign of Queen Victoria, by JAMES BURKE, Esq., A.B. With Marginal Notes, adapted to the use of schools in the United States, by M. J. KERNEY, A. M. ..... 12mo, half arabesque 1 00

An abridgment of Dr. Lingard's great work, adapted to the use of schools, has been long and anxiously looked for in this country. The publishers take great pleasure in inviting the earnest attention of the conductors of schools, and others interested in the cause of education, to this edition.

Although Lingard's England has been nearly half a century before the public, not one fact stated by him has been proved to be erroneous, while the critics of all creeds have joined in expressing their approbation of his great work. In style without a superior, in truthfulness without an equal, Lingard stands before the historic student as the model of what an historian should be. Having thus spoken of the style of Lingard, it is right to add that the student will find that the ipsissima verba of the great Catholic historian of England have been religiously preserved in the Abridgment. Of the continuation we shall merely say that it has been written by an author who has been long and favorably known in literature. The publishers therefore feel confident that Mr. Burke will be found to have written in strict accordance with the spirit which dictated the great work of the historian whose pages he has followed. The sketch of the British Constitution, the abstract of the geography of England in Saxon times, the list of eminent natives, and the marginal notes, will add much to the interest of the work, and will be found useful by way of reference.

IRVING'S SERIES OF SCHOOL CATECHISMS, IN TWELVE PARTS.

Revised by M. J. Kerney, A. M.

THE long-established reputation of IRVING'S CATECHISMS, and the very extensive circulation which they have had, not only in England, but also in this country, is the best proof of their utility. The plan of his works is the very best that could be adopted. The catechetical form of instruction is now admitt[illegible]e most [illegible]rienced teachers, to be the best adapted to the nature and capacity of y[illegible] which children [illegible]ll acquire a knowledge of a science in less time than by any other.

Murphy & Co., having become the publishers of this standard and highly popular series of Catechisms, wish to inform the public that they have issued entirely new editions, with all new discoveries and modern improvements in each branch, under the careful supervision of M. J. KERNEY, Esq., who has prepared for the series a CATECHISM OF THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES—an entirely new work.

The following constitute the Series:

Astronomy: containing the Motions, Magnitude, Periods, Distances, and other Phenomena of the Heavenly Bodies, founded on the laws of Gravitation. With engraved Illustrations 13

This little volume possesses the peculiar merit of reducing to the comprehension of children the principles of a difficult, but, at the same time, a most interesting science. It explains the solar system, the courses and the revolutions of the planets, eclipses, the theory of tides, and many other interesting astronomical principles.

Botany: containing a Description of the most familiar and interesting Plants, arranged according to the Linnæan System, with an APPENDIX on the formation of an Herbarium. With engraved Illustrations 13

This popular little work is intended for children who are about to enter on the study of the interesting science of Botany. The plan of the work is admirably adapted to that class of learners for which it is designed. It presents to the mind of the pupil, in an easy and attractive style, the various beauties of the science, and the many advantages to be derived from its study.

Practical Chemistry: being a Familiar Introduction to that interesting Science —with an APPENDIX, containing many safe, easy, and pleasing Experiments. With engraved Illustrations 13

This little treatise is admirably adapted for those who are about to enter on the study of Chemistry, being a familiar introduction to that science. The grand and leading principles of chemical knowledge are explained on a plan that will be found to be both interesting and instructive. Though originally designed for the young, it will be found to contain lessons that may be read with pleasure and profit by the more advanced in years.

Mythology: being a Compendious History of the Heathen Gods, Goddesses, and Heroes: designed chiefly as an Introduction to the Study of the Ancient Classics. With engraved Illustrations 13

To the English scholar this work will prove highly interesting; but to the classical student it will be found a most desirable compendium. It embraces all that is interesting or important in the subject of which it treats; while, at the same time, the brevity and clearness of its style render it preferable to other works of the same kind which are of much greater dimensions.

Classical Biography: containing an Account of the Lives of the most Celebrated Characters among the Ancient Greeks and Romans. With engraved Illustrations... 13

To the classical student, in particular, the above named work will be found to possess peculiar merits. It presents, in a small compass, the most interesting events in the lives of those whose names have cast a lustre over the historic pages of Greece and Rome.

History of the United States: with a Chronological Table of American History, from its discovery in 1492, to the year 1854 13

This valuable little work comprises within a small compass all the most important and interesting events in the history of the United States, from the discovery of America to the present time. The arrangement and style are admirably adapted to the capacity of children about to commence the study of history. It is sufficiently comprehensive for that class of learners for which it is designed. From its instructive pages the child will learn to revere the names and imitate the actions of those illustrious men of America who have gone before us in the path of usefulness and of fame.

Grecian History: from the Earliest Times to the Period when Greece became a Roman Province. With engraved Illustrations 13

Roman History: containing a concise Account of the most Striking Events, from the Foundation of the City to the Fall of the Western Empire. With engraved Illustrations 13

These two works contain all the most important and interesting events in the history of Greece and Rome. As introductory works, to be placed in the hands of children, they will be found to possess peculiar merits. The arrangement and style are happily adapted to that class of learners for which they are designed.

Catechism of Sacred History: Abridged for the use of Schools, translated from the French, by a Friend of Youth: designed to accompany Irving's Series of Catechisms 13

Murphy & Co.'s Standard School Books.

History of England: containing the most Striking Events from the Earliest Period to the Present Time 13

This work comprises, in a few pages, the most important events in the history of England, from a period prior to the invasion of the Romans to the present time. The present edition has been carefully revised and corrected; every thing reflecting on the American character has been erased, and every thing of a sectarian nature has been removed.

Jewish Antiquities: containing an Account of the Classes, Institutions, Rites, Ceremonies, Manners, Customs, &c., of the Ancient Jews. With engraved Illustrations 13

Grecian Antiquities: being an Account of the Religion, Government, Judicial Proceedings, Military and Naval Affairs, Dress, Food, Baths, Exercises, Marriages, Funerals, Coins, Weights, Measures, &c., of the Greeks—to which is prefixed a Description of the Cities of Athens and Sparta. With engraved Illustrations 13

Roman Antiquities; or, An Account of the Religion, Civil Government, Military and Naval Affairs, Games, Names, Coins, Weights and Measures, Dress, Food, Exercises, Baths, Domestic Employments, Marriages, Funerals, and other Customs and Ceremonies of the Roman People; with a Description of the Public Buildings of the city of Rome. With engraved Illustrations 13

The above works are highly interesting in themselves, and may be read with pleasure and profit by every member of the community. But for the classical student they possess particular attractions. For his benefit they were chiefly intended, and years of experience prove that they are peculiarly adapted to the end for which they were designed. A familiarity with the laws, manners, and customs of the ancient nations will often render clear and explicit the most obscure passages, so frequently met with in the authors of antiquity.

CLASSICAL BOOKS, &c.

In calling attention to the following Works, it is deemed it sufficient to state, that the present editions have been issued under the careful supervision of the eminent Professors of St. Mary's College, Baltimore, and may justly be considered the best and cheapest editions published.

Epitome Historiæ Sacræ Auctore, L'homond, edito Nova Prosodiæ, signes vocumque interpretatione adornata 30

As an elementary work, Historiæ Sacræ is beyond exceptions. The easy arrangements of its style in the beginning, and the gradual introduction of the Latin construction, relieve the pupil of much embarrassment and labor, and tend in a material degree to facilitate his advancement.

This possesses advantages over any previous edition. The vocabulary has been carefully revised, and the work has received such improvements as greatly enhance its merits.

Phædri Augusti Liberti Fabularum Æsopium. Libri Quinque 30

A new edition, carefully revised and greatly improved.

This little work has long been held in high estimation in our colleges and schools. The many moral and interesting lessons it contains render it a text-book peculiarly adapted to the young; and, indeed, no work could be better designed to initiate the pupil into the study of Latin poetry.

De Viris Illustribus Urbis Romæ, A Romulo ad Augustum, Auctore L'homond, in Universitate, Parisiensi Professore Emerito 38

This work possesses the rare quality of being admirably adapted to the capacity of those commencing the study of the Latin language, without deviating from the purity of the Latin style. The materials of which it is compiled are most interesting and instructive in their nature, thus affording the pupil the double advantage of acquiring a knowledge of the Latin tongue, and, at the same time, of storing his mind with historical facts.

This edition has been lately revised, and put into a neat, convenient form. These improvements, it is believed, will add to its merits, and will tend to advance the pupil in his study.

Fables Choisies de la Fontaine, Nouvelle Edition 63

Few works have elicited more general admiration, or have been more generally used in schools, than the Fables of La Fontaine. For the pupil engaged in the study of the French language they possess peculiar advantages. Many beautiful and moral lessons are inculcated in a style at once easy and attractive, while, at the same time, a taste for poetical composition is cultivated.

This edition has been carefully revised, and contains much desirable improvement.

Ruddiman's Rudiments of the Latin Tongue; or a Plain and Easy Introduction to Latin Grammar: wherein the principles of the language are methodically digested, both in the English and Latin. With useful Notes and Observations. Thirtieth Edition, Corrected and Improved. By Wm. Mann, M. A. ..... 12mo, half arab. 38

The cheapest and best Latin grammar published.

Elementos de Sicologio, Elements of Pyschology 75

Pizarro's Dialogues. Select Original Dialogues, or Spanish and English Conversations: followed by a collection of pieces in prose and verse—adapted to the use of Spanish classes in schools and academies. By J. A. Pizarro, Professor of the Spanish Language in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Third edition, improved and enlarged by the author 12mo 75

This new edition of a very popular work, by one of the most distinguished instructors in the country, is greatly improved, and particularly adapted to the present style of teaching and self-improvement. The prior editions have become established as standard in some of the best institutions in the United States, and the present doubles its advantages.

SESTINI'S ALGEBRA.

Elementary Algebra. By B. Sestini, S. J., author of Analytical Geometry, Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy in Georgetown College.....12mo 50

The main object of this treatise is to render the science of Algebra intelligible to pupils whose minds are yet unaccustomed to such studies. The beginner will here be furnished with such proofs as are suited to his capacity; examples will afford new light to what might be otherwise obscure; with regard to the operations founded on higher principles, he will, for the present, content himself with merely practical rules, exemplified in the same manner. With a mind thus gradually led on to strict mathematical discussion, he may then resume his course with profit, by the aid of a treatise now in preparation, which is intended as a sequel to this, and, by more exact and thorough investigation, complete his study of Algebra.

BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"This work recommends itself to favor by the admirable order of its parts, and the conciseness and clearness with which its principles are expounded. One needs but open the book to perceive that the author has brought to the execution of his task a ripened judgment and well-tried experience. He is not a compiler—his work has the rare merit of originality, and every student of Algebra will thank him for having given in a few pages what has usually occupied a large volume, and for having rendered intelligible what has often proved an enigma to many." Metropolitan.

"This book might very properly be called "Algebra without a master." One very important improvement that the author has made upon all our text-books, and which deserves to be mentioned, is this, that he keeps monomials and polynomials distinct, and explains and applies to them separately the various rules as laid down in his Algebra. The work only wants to be known, in order to be universally approved." Western Tablet.

"We feel much pleasure in recommending it as containing nearly all necessary to be known on the subject of which it treats. It is eminently adapted for the use of young persons who wish to acquire a knowledge of the difficult science of Algebra." Halifax Catholic.

"To persons commencing the study of Algebra, we cheerfully recommend Mr. Sestini's work, as one well calculated to smooth the difficulties which beginners have to overcome in their first attempts to master that science." Pittsburg Catholic.

"As a rudimental book it will be found eminently useful in schools and colleges." Det. Vindicator.

"The author is well known as a man of great ability, and his work cannot fail to be of good service in schools." Buffalo Sentinel.

A Treatise on Algebra, by B. Sestini, S. J., author of "Elementary Algebra," "Analytical Geometry," &c 12mo 75

"We have had occasion before to speak of the works of Professor Sestini, and the commendation we then bestowed upon them we have no hesitation in repeating now on this new work, which has issued from his indefatigable pen. The best praise, however, in these matters, is experience, and that this is in his favor is evident from the necessity of publishing a second edition of his Elementary Algebra. This shows that he has the proper manner of communicating knowledge on that abstruse study, and should be an 'a priori' recommendation to this larger treatise on the same subject. As far as we are capable of judging, for Algebra is not altogether a favorite with us, and we do not like to meddle with it much, we think this treatise will be very acceptable, not only to the student of mathematics, for whom it was ostensibly written, but to the scientific reader generally. It is as clear and concise as the nature of such works permit, and seems to embrace every thing necessary to a full knowledge of Algebra. But let the author himself speak. 'The treatise is divided into two parts, the first of which contains Algebraical operations, with several questions and doctrines connected with them, so that each section may prove complete in its own subject, and the inconvenience of turning elsewhere to speak of matter left unfinished before, may be avoided . . . . . The second contains the most indispensable theories of equations, proportions, and progressions, logarithms and some few principles on the series. The doctrine of equations has been treated more copiously than the others, not so much on account of its importance, as because it is well adapted to give an idea of algebraic analysis, and thus prepare the mind of the student, who would afterwards apply himself to higher studies.'"—Metropolitan.

Rudiments of the Greek Language, arranged for the Students of Loyola College, Baltimore,—upon the basis of Wettenhall. 2d Ed.....12mo. 50

The Baltimore Patriot says:—"Nothing can be in worse taste than to put into the hands of a pupil just commencing the study of a language, a ponderous book containing a vast quantity of matter which he is expected to commit upon the first perusal. It tends to beget habits of negligence and slovenly haste which never leave him, or else to discourage him completely from attempting to master so intricate a subject. A compact hand-book, on the contrary, containing nothing that is not to be studied, presents at once to the pupil a definite limit to his labors, and marks out precisely what he has to study. The volume before us is a compact treatise upon the grammar of the Greek language, and supplies the student with all the grammatical knowledge he requires in order to begin the study of the Greek classics. It contains not only the necessary information on the subject of etymology and syntax, but also a sufficient account of the dialects, and a chapter on the digamma. It is emphatically multum in parvo."

MURPHY & CO'S LIST OF

NEW BOOKS & NEW EDITIONS

PUBLISHED IN 1855.

ARCHBISHOP KENRICK'S NEW WORKS.

The Primacy of the Apostolic See Vindicated. Fourth Revised and Enlarged Edition. By the Most Rev. FRANCIS PATRICK KENRICK, Archbishop of Baltimore. Embellished with a Portrait of his Holiness, Pius IX.....8vo. embossed cloth 1 50
Library style, marbled edges.....2 00

In announcing a new edition of this highly important work, which is universally acknowledged the best vindication of the Primacy, and the most triumphant answer to the entire Protestant statement ever written in the English language, the publishers deem it sufficient to state, that three large editions have been sold in a few years, and that the fourth has been carefully revised and enlarged.

A Vindication of the Catholic Church, in a series of Letters to the Rt. Rev. JOHN HENRY HOPKINS, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Vermont. By FRANCIS PATRICK KENRICK, Archbishop of Baltimore.....12mo. cloth 75

"Tacere ultra non oportet, ne jam non verecundiæ, sed diffidentiæ esse incipiat quod tacemus, et dum criminationes falsas contemnimus refutare, videamur crimin agnoscere.—S. Cyprian L. ad Demetrianum.

 The publishers have the pleasure of announcing, that these works have already met with a large sale and the most flattering notices of the press. The following are selected as embodying the spirit of other notices:

The Richmond Enquirer says:—"We have read no book on either side of the controversy between the Catholic and Protestant Churches in which copiousness of learning, attractiveness of style, and fairness of temper, are more conspicuously displayed than in these two works from the pen of the Archbishop of Baltimore. They betray nothing of the habitual truculence of theological controversy; and although they may not convince the judgment of the Protestant, they will not fail to gratify his taste and instruct his understanding. They abound especially in quotations from the Fathers, and independently of their effect in a polemical view, they are valuable for the light they throw on many obscure passages in the early history of Christianity. In the first, the author expounds the authority and illustrates the moral and intellectual influence of the Papal See; in the second, he undertakes to refute the various objections of Protestant writers against the Catholic Church. The two books present the whole argument in support of the Catholic faith."

The Boston Transcript says:—"In such times as those, when popular passion is appealed to and stimulated against the claims and the influence of the Papal Church, it is no more than fair that respectful attention should be given to the defences of their communion that are put forth from the Catholic side. The first is an ample treatise from Archbishop Kenrick, of Baltimore. It is very broad in its plan and elaborate in its execution. Under three great heads of the Spiritual Supremacy, the Secular Relations, and the Literary and Moral Influence of the Roman See, it presents the spiritual evidence, the testimony of the Fathers, and the voice of civilization, in favor of the rightful primacy of the Bishop of Rome. All we have to say, in the way of criticism, is, that the work is able and well worth the careful study of any man who is willing to know both sides of the great discussion that agitates Christendom.

"The second volume is from the same author. This work is much smaller, more sketchy, more spicy, and more readable. It deals plainly, and in controversial form, with those doctrines of the Catholic Church which are most offensive to the religious sensibilities of Protestants—Indulgences, Purgatory, Penance, Relics, Images and Transubstantiation. A man soon sees, in reading this book, that, in a controversy between Episcopacy and Papacy there are 'blows to take as well as blows to give.'"

Cheap and Uniform Editions of

FATHER FABER'S POPULAR DEVOTIONAL WORKS,

The only Editions published with the "Sanction and Corrections" of the Author, and with the Approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore.

The unprecedented popularity of FATHER FABER'S WORKS, not only in England and this country, but throughout the continent of Europe, where they have been translated into various languages, has induced the publishers to issue cheap and uniform editions, printed from new type, on fine paper, at such a price as will at once place them within the reach of all classes. They are, without exception, the most popular devotional works published in the present century.

All for Jesus; or, the Easy Ways of Divine Love. By the Rev. F. W. FABER, D.D.....16mo. cloth 50 cloth, gilt edges 75.....cloth, full gilt edges and sides....1 00

The Detroit Vindicator says:—"It is the sweetest, most devout, most interesting, most soul-stirring book we ever read. Besides the inimitable imitation of Christ, we have no hesitation in agreeing with the opinions of many, that Father Faber is the best of Catholic Devotional Writers in the English language."

Growth in Holiness; or, the Progress of the Spiritual Life. By the Rev. F. W. FABER, D.D.....16mo. cloth 50
cloth, gilt edges 75.....cloth, full gilt edges and sides...1 00

The Philadelphia Catholic Instructor says:—"To those who have read Father Faber's 'All for Jesus,' it were a work of supererogation to say one word of praise in behalf of his new work. A spirit of religious unction breathes through every page of the book, charming us by its beauty, edifying us by its holiness, and kindling in our cold hearts a spirit of love by its charity."

The Boston Pilot says:—"We do not hesitate to call this book one of the most extraordinary ones ever written on the spiritual life. It is a complete system of spirituality for common life. It appeals to every one: the learned will find in it that which will kindle new life in their souls; the humble and less accomplished will find in it their directions for the voyage of life, unembarrassed by anything beyond their comprehension. It is written in a style which unites the poetic fervor and unction of St. Bernard and St. Bonaventura with the practical good sense of St. Francis of Sales."

The Leader, St. Louis, says:—"It is the most solid, unexaggerated and practical work which has proceeded from the pen of the gifted author."

The Toronto Catholic Citizen says:—"The high auspices under which this new devotional work is presented to the Catholic world would alone be sufficient to call attention to its publication, but when we recollect that it comes from the pen of the author of 'All for Jesus,' we deem further comment uncalled for."

The Metropolitan says:—"To say that we are satisfied, delighted with this little work of Father Faber's, would be to say too little. The very wants, under which we labored for a long time, and which we doubt not left a void in many a Catholic heart besides our own, are here amply repaired. No Catholic, in our humble opinion, should be without a copy of 'Growth in Holiness:' which next to Thomas à Kempis and the Spiritual Combat, should always claim a portion of his study."

The Catholic Telegraph says:—"This is a rare and racy work—rare in its purity and elegance of style, and racy in all that is enthralling and elevating in the spiritual life. To know this work, and duly to appreciate it, is to become a practical follower of the Lord Jesus; in fact, eulogy would be feeble in delineating the countless charms of this great book. It enlightens the instructed, and invigorates the weary; it strengthens the weak, arouses the torpid, encourages the desponding, and convinces the wavering. In a word, it banishes all fear from the trusting heart of faith, and gives rise to a holy and heaven-born hope, founded upon the promises of Him whose words are eternal life."

The Dublin Tablet says:—"A sound sense and a practical character pervades every page of it to a degree seldom equalled and hardly ever surpassed. It is a most valuable addition to our collection of ascetical works; it will take a prominent place among the foremost class of them, and it will keep that place."

The London Catholic Standard says:—"This very remarkable work appears likely to do more for the cause of the Church, than any which has been published in England within our memory."

Murphy & Co. Publishers, Baltimore.

Murphy & Co.'s Standard Catholic Books.

The Blessed Sacrament; or, the Works and Ways of God. Companion to "All for Jesus." By the Rev. F. W. FABER, D.D.....16mo. cloth 50 cloth, gilt edges, 75.....cloth, full gilt edges and sides 1 00

The Catholic Weekly Instructor says:—"Father Faber had already immortalized himself by his previous works, 'All for Jesus' and 'Growth in Holiness.' In his new book he speaks to the heart of every truly devout and pious Catholic. The simplicity of undoubting faith marks every page, and the ardor of sincere charity emblazons every page. We cannot say too much in favor of this most admirable work; but with all the sincerity of those who feel for the salvation of immortal souls, we heartily recommend its introduction into every Catholic family. Murphy's edition has the approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore, as well as the sanction and corrections of the Rev. and venerable author."

The Catholic Sentinel says:—"Verily, no one can read Faber's works, without being made better, wiser, and more zealous than before."

The Dublin Review says:—"Father Faber's writings are amongst those most dearly and universally prized by Catholics."

The Metropolitan says:—"No Catholic publications, perhaps, in so short a period, ever met with a more extensive circulation, than the devotional works of Dr. Faber. His 'All for Jesus' has obtained a world-wide reputation. It has been published in various languages on the continent of Europe; in England and in this country, also, it has passed through numerous editions. His later publications, 'the Blessed Sacrament,' and 'Growth in Holiness,' have also met with a favorable reception; and we venture to predict that in time they will far exceed the unprecedented sale of 'All for Jesus.'"

The American Publishers to the Reader.—In presenting to the Catholics of America CHEAP and UNIFORM EDITIONS OF FATHER FABER'S Popular Devotional Works, the Publishers feel great pleasure in calling attention to the following Cards from the distinguished author, and to the Approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore. They express the venerable author's anxiety to guard the public against unauthorized editions.

FATHER FABER, to the Catholics of America.

"The Author is under great obligation to Messrs. MURPHY & Co., of Baltimore, in being able to bring out his Books and present them to his Catholic Brethren in America, under their auspices, through their well known and careful press. The kind indulgence and favorable reception which 'All for Jesus' and 'Growth in Holiness,' met with in America, made it a matter of no slight consequence to the Author that he should find publishers, whose name and standing would be a guarantee to him both against unauthorized alterations of his text and also against errors of the press, which are the more serious when the works in which they occur abound in theological expressions. Under these circumstances, and considering the grave character of any thing like inaccurate statement in matters of doctrine, the Author trusts that he may be allowed to say that no editions of his Works but those issued by Messrs. MURPHY & Co. have any sanction from him, or are in any way submitted to his corrections and revision.

"THE ORATORY, London, June 21, 1855. F. W. FABER."

"My dear Messrs. Murphy & Co.—It would be a great satisfaction to me if you would make known, in any way which seems best to you, to my American readers, that the more I feel the kind reception which my works have met with in the United States, the more anxious I am that my readers should know that YOU ALONE are authorized by me to PUBLISH MY WORKS, or receive from me any corrections. The theological character of my works makes me very anxious that this should be known; and, moreover, the expense to which you have gone so liberally, in order to ensure the advance sheets, demands the publication of this fact in justice to yourselves. Very truly, yours,

"THE ORATORY, London, July 19, 1855. F. W. FABER."

Approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore.

Having learned that the Rev. FREDERICK WILLIAM FABER, D. D., has authorized Messrs. John Murphy & Co., to republish his works, I cordially approve their republication, they being full of instruction, and calculated to promote piety. His recent work, styled "The Blessed Sacrament, or the Works and Ways of God," is, I doubt not, highly suited for this purpose. †FRANCIS PATRICK, Given at Baltimore, this 4th day of June, 1855. Archbishop of Baltimore.

Murphy & Co. Publishers, Baltimore.

The Studies and Teaching of the Society of Jesus, at the time of its suppression, 1750–1775. Translated from the French of M. L'Abbe Maynard, Honorary Canon of Poitiers, Prof. of Rhetoric at Pontleroy. 12mo. cloth 75

This is a Historical Work, and unveils the real secret of so much enmity to the Jesuits.

The Boston Pilot says:—"The translator, whoever he may be, deserves the thanks of every Catholic in the land, for placing within their reach this able defence of the Jesuits. We do not hesitate to pronounce it one of the most timely and interesting volumes that has been placed before the public for some time."

The Pittsburg Catholic says:—"This is the ablest defence of the Jesuits, as a learned body of men, that has ever come under our observation."

The Boston Transcript says:—"This volume contains the best defence of the Jesuits that we have seen."

The St. Louis Leader says:—"Every one who is competent to take an intelligent interest in one of the most attractive historical questions of the day, should read this learned and eloquent book."

The Boston Atlas says:—"We cannot but bear testimony to the calmness, fairness and vigor with which the writer devotes himself to his subject."

A NEW AND POPULAR HISTORICAL TALE,

BY A DISTINGUISHED AUTHOR.

Florine, Princess of Burgundy; a tale of the First Crusaders. By the Author of "Bertha, or the Pope and the Emperor," &c., &c.....12mo. cloth 75.....cloth, gilt edges 1 25

This work has met with a very rapid sale in England and this country; it has been translated and published in France; and is spoken of in the most flattering terms by the English and American Press.

The Dublin Review says:—"We will not attempt to forestall the pleasure of perusal by any analysis of this tale. We will only say that, in dramatic interest, in vividness of description, in vigorous delineation of character, in truth and delicacy of sentiment, above all, in genuine Catholic feeling, it is well worthy the high character of an author who has already deserved highly of Catholic literature."

The London edition of Brownson's Review, says:—"This is a most powerful tale, wherein, with what is fictitious is amalgamated so much fact and accuracy of detail as almost to force upon the reader a conviction of its reality."

The London Notes and Queries says:—"A tale of deep and abiding interest, and of much instruction."

The London Leader says:—"We commend admirers of stirring descriptions and good love passages to read the work."

Pictorial Bible Stories, for the Young. (From the Creation to the Death of St. Joseph.) Being the first portion of a complete Series of Pictorial Bible and Church-History Stories, on the model of the Popular Bible Stories of Canon Schmid. By the Rev. Henry Formby, Editor of the "Series of Hymns and Songs for Catholic Families and Schools." Published with the Approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore. Embellished with nearly Fifty highly finished Engravings and Vignettes, new and original designs, by the most eminent European Artists.....small 4to. cloth 75 cloth, gilt edges and sides,..... 1 00

The object of the foregoing Publication is to produce a Pictorial Reading Book which may serve the combined purpose of a Class Reading Book for Day and Sunday Schools, and a Picture Book of Religious History for the Family Circle. Pictures serve to fix events of history in the minds of the young in a manner the success of which no means of instruction is able to rival. The object aimed at, then, is to make the art of Wood Engraving and Printing render service to religious instruction in the same manner as it gives a charm to romances and other books.

The Dublin Telegraph says:—"This is an elegant, useful and most desirable publication which we cannot too forcibly recommend. It will become a book of pleasure to the young, who will, without being aware of it, be perfect adepts in ecclesiastical history."

The Boston Pilot says:—"We strongly recommend to parents the purchase of this Series of excellent books for their children."

LIGHT READING for YOUNG and OLD!

THE AMUSING LIBRARY,

A New Series of Original Tales, Translations, and Reprints of Popular Works, Neat, Cheap, and Attractive Volumes for Home, Railway, or Steamboat Travelling; also, for Presents, Premiums, &c.

The object contemplated by THE AMUSING LIBRARY is to provide a choice supply of Books of Light Reading, entirely free from objectionable matter, and which may be indiscriminately used by young and old. In the selection, great pains will be taken to admit no Work that is not in every respect adapted for the perusal of all who desire a sound and healthy imaginative literature, free from every thing immoral on the one hand, or controversial on the other. The volumes while issued at a price which bring them within the reach of all, yet possess sufficient attractions of typography and embellishment to fit them for the drawing-room table and for presents.

It is proposed to comprise a choice selection of the best of the imaginative writings of various countries. With original tales and reprints of home authors will be united the best fiction of other lands,—Belgian, French, German, Spanish, Italian, &c.; and as the scenes will be laid in different countries and at different periods, the volumes will not only furnish amusing reading, but will likewise convey, especially to the youthful reader, much historical and other information.

The Editors have much gratification in announcing that they have made an arrangement with the distinguished Belgian Novelist, M. HENRI CONSCIENCE, by which they will be enabled to include in the Library an authorized edition of all his works.

Just published in uniform vols. embellished with frontispiece and vignette title pages; price in extra cloth, gilt backs, 75 cts; in cloth, gilt edges and sides, $1.

The Curse of the Village, and The Happiness of Being Rich. Two Tales in one volume, embellished with a very neat Frontispiece.

From the Original Flemish of HENDRIK CONSCIENCE.

The London Athenæum says:—"These two tales by the favorite popular novelist of Belgium will do his reputation no disservice. The first may be called a temperance story, such as would delight the heart of Mr. Gough or Mr. Cruikshank."

The London Weekly Times says:—"The first of these tales is a vigorous description of the evils of drunkenness, and the whole story is touching in the extreme."

The Lion of Flanders; or, the Battle of the Golden Spurs. A Historical Romance of the Glorious Days of Flanders.

The Revue des deux Mondes says:—"This romance displays a talent full of vigor and skill. It is a masterpiece of art and power."

The Church of England Quarterly says:—"The Lion of Flanders at once stamped its writer as a man of mark. Having once taken up a volume of this stirring narrative, we found the greatest difficulty in laying it down; indeed, since the publication of the Waverly Novels, we have never been so absorbed by any work of fiction."

Veva; or, the War of the Peasants. A Historical Tale of the Eighteenth Century. With a Frontispiece and Vignette.

The Soirées Bruxelloises says:—"Whatever may be the value of the romances published this year, there is not one of them which comes near the 'War of the Peasants' of M. Hendrik Conscience. Every where the reader is under the influence of a powerful fascination, and his interest is most vividly excited."

NEARLY READY, uniform with the above,

Tales of Old Flanders: Count Hugo of Craenhove; Wooden Clara.

The Revue des Deux Mondes says:—"Nothing can be more admirable than the picture which this legend of Old Flanders presents. The poetry of its details, the delicacy of its sentiments, and the melancholy grace which pervades it, lend it a charm which is irresistible."

The Miser, and Ricketicketack.

"The success of Conscience's writings is a blessing and a boon. It is matter of congratulation that every one read, and wishes to read again, these books so tender so gentle, so simple, so familiar and touching, chosen friends and companions of every honest heart and of every cultivated mind."

The Popular Library

OF HISTORY, BIOGRAPHY, FICTION, and MISCELLANEOUS LITERATURE. A Series of Works by some of the most eminent writers of the day; Edited by Messrs. CAPES, NORTHCOTE, and THOMPSON.

The "POPULAR LIBRARY" is intended to supply a desideratum which has long been felt, by providing at a cheap rate a series of instructive and entertaining publications, suited for general use, written expressly for the purpose, and adapted in all respects to the circumstances of the present day. It is intended that the style of the work shall be such as to engage the attention of young and old, and of all classes of readers, while the subjects will be so varied as to render the series equally acceptable for Home use, Educational purposes, or railway reading.

The following are some of the subjects which it is proposed to include in the "Popular Library," though the volumes will not necessarily be issued in the order here given. A large portion of the Series will also be devoted to works of Fiction and Entertaining Literature generally, which will be interspersed with the more solid publications here named.

Fabiola; or the Church of the Catacombs.

By his Eminence CARDINAL WISEMAN.

Price.—Cloth, extra. 12mo., 400 pages, $ 75
Gilt edges, - - - 1 12

The Press of Europe and America is unanimous in praise of this work. We give a few extracts below:—

"Eminently popular and attractive in its character, 'Fabiola' is in many respects one of the most remarkable works in the whole range of Modern Fiction. The reader will recognise at once those characteristics which have ever sufficed to identify one illustrious pen."—Dublin Review.

"We rejoice in the publication of 'Fabiola,' as we conceive it the commencement of a new era in Catholic literature."—Telegraph.

"Worthy to stand among the highest in this kind of literature."—C. Standard.

"Were we to speak of 'Fabiola' in the strong terms our feelings would prompt, we should be deemed extravagant by those who have not read it. It is a most charming book, a truly popular work, and alike pleasing to the scholars and general reader."—Brownson's Review.

"A story of the early days of Christianity, by Cardinal Wiseman, is a sufficient notice to give of this volume, lately published in London, and re-published by the Sadlier's in a very neat and cheap volume."—N. Y. Freeman's Journal.

"As a series of beautifully wrought and instructive tableaux of Christian virtue and Christian heroism in the early ages, it has no equal in the English language."—American Celt.

"We think that all who read 'Fabiola' will consider it entirely successful. . . . . We must do the Messrs. Sadlier the justice to say, that the book is beautifully printed and illustrated, and that it is one of the cheapest books we have seen."—Boston Pilot.

"We would not deprive our readers of the pleasure that is in store for them in the perusal of 'Fabiola;' we will therefore refrain from any further extracts from this truly fascinating work. We know, in fact, no book which has, of late years, issued from the press, so worthy of the attention of the Catholic reader as 'Fabiola.' It is a most charming Catholic story, most exquisitely told."—True Witness (Montreal.)

"It is a beautiful production—the subject is as interesting, as is the ability of the author to treat of it unquestioned—and the tale itself one of the finest specimens of exquisite tenderness, lofty piety, great erudition, and vast and extended knowledge of the men and manners of antiquity, we have ever read."—Montreal Transcript.

"As a faithful picture of domestic life in the olden time of Roman splendor and prosperity, it far exceeds the Last days of Pompeii; and the scenes in the arena, where the blood of so many martyrs fertilized the soil wherein the seed of the Christian faith was fully planted, are highly dramatic, and worthy of any author we have ever read."—New York Citizen.

 This volume is in process of translation into the French, German, Italian, Flemish and Dutch language.

"Life of St. Francis of Rome, by Lady Georgiana Fullerton, together with some lesser sketches, is the second volume of the series, and one that will be read with delight by those whose faith is untarnished, and whose imagination desires to be fed by what is pure and holy. Those whom the Apocalypse describes "without," "those that serve idols, and every one that loveth and maketh a lie," or who feed their imaginations on what is of earth or of hell, had better not read the book for they will not find it to their taste."—N. Y. Freeman's Journal.

M. Dupin, President of the French Academy, remarked, when awarding her the prize for virtue:—

"But there remains a difficulty, which has doubtless suggested itself to the mind of each amongst you, how is it possible for Jeanne alone to provide the expenses of so many poor? What shall I reply to you? God is Almighty! Jeanne is indefatigable, Jeanne is eloquent, Jeanne has prayers, Jeanne has tears, Jeanne has strength to work, Jeanne has her basket, which she carries untiringly upon her arm, and which she always takes home filled. Saintly woman, the Academy deposits in this basket the utmost placed at its disposal, decreeing you a prize of 3,000 francs."

"This is another of the Popular Library that the Sadliers are doing such good service by re-publishing in this country. At the earnest advice of a gifted friend, whose opinion has every weight with us, we publish entire the preface to this volume by Aubrey de Vere. It is one of the most interesting and valuable essays that has been given to the world for a long time. For the remaining contents of the book we must refer our readers to its own pages."—N. Y. Freeman's Journal.

5th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY SER.

The Witch of Milton Hill.

A Tale, by the Author of "Mount St. Lawrence," "Mary, Star of the Sea."

Price.—Cloth, extra. 12mo. 50 cents.
Gilt edges, - - 75 "

"The Tales of this Author are distinguished by a skill in the delineation of character, and life-like pictures of domestic society. The present, though bearing clear marks of the same hand, is more astory of movement and incident. It is in no sense a 'religious' novel and still less a controversial one. But the progress of the story is throughout made to depend upon the practical adoption or reception of certain principles of right and wrong, so that the 'poetical justice' awarded to every body in the end is not a mere chance consequence of circumstances, but the natural result of their character and conduct. This it is which gives their chief value to books of fiction as a means for influencing the reader's mind, and this it is which will make 'The Witch' a volume fit for general circulation to an extent which can be asked for few novels.....The story is worked out with considerable ingenuity and a rapid succession of events, increasing in interest as it proceeds.....'The Witch' is a very clever story, and will suit the young as well as the old."—Tablet.

11. Martyrdoms in China,
12. Father Thomas of Jesus.

Price.—Cloth, extra. 12mo. 50 cents.
Gilt edges, - - 75 "

"The record of the Martyrdom of the lovely Father Azevedo and his Companions, who suffered most of them in the bloom of their years, is one of the most delightful pictures of Christian heroism that ever came under our eyes.....Few will read the touching narrative of the Massacre of the Carmes without feeling their hearts melt.... We have seldom seen so much information within so short a compass on the state of religious belief in the Chinese Empire as is given in the introductory chapter to the account of the Chinese Martyrs..... ....We take leave of this most interesting and edifying work, and we recommend it most heartily to the Catholic reader who loves—and who does not?—to contemplate those pictures of heroism which the Church alone has fed and called forth."—Tablet.

7th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY SER.

Blakes and Flanagans.

A Tale of the Times, Illustrative of Irish Life in the United States. By Mrs. J. SADLIER, Author of "New Lights, or Life in Galway." "Willy Burke," "Alice Riordan," &c. 12mo., 400 pages.

Price.—Cloth, extra, 75 cents.
Gilt edges, $1 12 "

In a recent visit to Montreal, the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Charbonnell, preaching on the education of children, paid the following high compliment to our Tale—"THE BLAKES AND FLANAGANS"—which turns mainly on that topic. His Lordship remarked:—

"On coming to town I called at a Bookstore to purchase a number of copies to bring with me to Quebec, but found that it was not yet printed in book-form. It is now being published in the AMERICAN CELT, and I would like to see it circulated by the hundred thousand."

"This compliment coming from the Bishop of Toronto, cannot be but highly valued by the gifted writer, Mrs. Sadlier.

"We cannot forbear assuring the Authoress, contemporaneous with announcement, and thus publicly, that her story has been read with the liveliest interest by our readers, and that it has elicited the most earnest expressions of respect for herself from persons distinguished in every walk of life.

"Before parting with our favorite contributor, let us add the following opinion recently expressed to us by a gifted Western clergyman! 'Mrs. Sadlier's story,' he said, 'has done more to bring home to the hearts of parents the importance of Catholic education, than any other, and all other advocacy combined.' This is extreme praise, but we will say, not undeserved."—American Celt.

"The style is excellent, thoroughly natural and unaffected, the narrative flowing, the conversations full of vivacity, and the characters well sustained. .....We cannot but wish it the widest circulation that a book can have."—St. Louis Leader.

8th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY SER.

The Life and Times of St. Bernard.

Translated from the French of M. L'Abbe Ratisbonne. With a Preface by Henry Edward Manning, D. D., and a Portrait. 1 vol., 12mo., 500 pages.

Price.—Cloth, extra, $1 00.
Gilt edges, 1 50.

"St. Bernard was so eminently the saint of his age, that it would be impossible to write his life without surrounding it with an extensive history of the period in which he lived, and over which he may be truly said, to have ruled. The Abbé Ratisbonne has, with this view, very ably and judiciously interwoven with the personal narrative and description of the saint, the chief contemporaneous events and characters of the time.

"There seems to have been in this one mind an inexhaustible abundance, variety, and versatility of gifts. Without ever ceasing to be the holy and mortified religious, St. Bernard appears to be the ruling will of his time. He stands forth as pastor, preacher, mystical writer, controversialist, reformer, pacificator, mediator, arbiter, diplomatist, and statesman. He appears in the schools, at the altar, in the preacher's chair, in councils of the Church, in councils of the State, amid the factions of cities, the negotiations of princes, and the contests of anti-popes. And whence came this wondrous power of dealing with affairs and with men? Not from the training and schooling of this world, but from the instincts, simplicity, and penetration of a mind profoundly immersed in God, and from a will of which the fervour and singleness of aim were supernatural."—Extracts from Preface.

9th VOL. POPULAR LIBRARY SER.

The Life and Victories of the Early Martyrs.

By Mrs. Hope. Written for the Oratorian's Schools of our Lady's Compassion. 1 vol., 12mo., 400 pages.

Price.—Cloth, extra. $ 75.
Gilt edges, 1 12.

"The interesting Tale of 'Fabiola' has made most readers familiar with the sufferings of the Early Martyrs, and desirous to know more of their history, and of the Victories which they achieved over the world. Every age, every clime, has its martyrs, for it is a distinctive mark of the Catholic Church, that the race of martyrs never dies out. And since her earliest times, a single generation has not passed away without some of her children shedding their blood for the name of Jesus. Other religious bodies may have had a few individuals here and there and at distant intervals, who have died for their opinions. But it is in the Catholic Church alone the spirit of martyrdom has ever been alive. Nor is it difficult to account for this, as the Catholic Church is the only true Church, the devil is ever ready to raise up persecutions against her, and as the Lord ever loves his spouse, the Church, he bestows upon her all graces, and among them the grace of martyrdom, with a more lavish hand than on others."—Extract from Introduction.

 Many of the above volumes, besides being suitable for Lending Libraries and Presents, will be useful as Reading Books in Schools, for which purpose a large allowance is made.

A MONUMENT TO THE GLORY OF MARY.

NEW AND ELEGANT ILLUSTRATED WORK!

Published with the Approbation of the MOST REV. JOHN HUGHES, D. D.,

ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

Life of the Blessed Virgin Mary,

MOTHER OF GOD;

With the HISTORY OF THE DEVOTION TO HER; Completed by the Traditions of the East, the Writings of Fathers, and Private History of the Jews. By the ABBE ORSINI. To which are added the MEDITATIONS ON THE LITANY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN. By the ABBE EDONARD BARTHE. Translated from the French, by MRS. J. SADLIER.

This magnificent work of the Abbé Orsini was recommended to me by those whose judgment carries weight in such matters, as the fullest and most compendious Life of the Mother of God, seeing that it does not break off, as most others do, at the close of her mortal life, but follows the course of the universal devotion wherewith the Church has honoured, and does still honour, this Queen of angels and of men. It shows how from age to age that devotion has grown and prospered coequal with Catholicity, and records the shrines and churches erected in every land under her invocation. It embodies the Eastern traditions concerning her, with the conclusive testimony of the Fathers; the little which is related of her in Scripture being but a faint sketch of her life.

There has been an abridgment of the first volume published in Dublin and republished here: but, as all the second volume was left out, the work in question is a small one, and has consequently, no interference with this. The second volume is, indeed, the most interesting, as it contains the Rise and Progress of the Devotion to the Blessed Virgin, and I trust it will be found a valuable acquisition to our Catholic literature. It is a labor of love for a Catholic to celebrate the praises and publish the renown of our most dear Mother, and my only regret is that the translation of this work has not fallen into better hands. Such as it is, however, it is done with the pure intention of honouring the glorious Virgin, who obtains for every one of us so many and so great blessings, and of inspiring the heart of every reader with love and gratitude to her.—Translator's Preface.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We cordially congratulate the Catholics of the United States on the appearance of a work at once so important and interesting as Father De Ligny's Life of Christ. It is already widely known and appreciated on the continent of Europe, where it has long been prized as one of the most useful of devotional works. Mrs. Sadlier, to whom the Catholics of the United States are already much indebted for her valuable contributions to our Catholic literature, has rendered Father De Ligny's work into our tongue with singular felicity, and a nice regard to the original text. The work is superbly printed, and appears in parts, at the very low price of twenty-five cents per number. The steel engravings are done in the best style of the art, and are after designs by Rubens, Vandyke, De Caisne, Scheffer, and other eminent masters of the old school. We know no Catholic publication of more general utility, and really so cheap. It has already attained a wide circulation in Europe, and we doubt not but that it will be soon found in every Catholic home in the new world."—American Celt.

EXTRACT FROM THE AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

"I respectfully lay this humble volume at the feet of the Venerable Prelates and Clergy of the United States, not as worthy of their patronage, or even of their notice, but as a mark of filial reverence and submission, and of profound and lively gratitude for their kind encouragement, and generous and uniform support of my humble labours in the cause of Catholic truth.

"I would also inscribe it to my Protestant countrymen. They will find in it many reasons why I have ceased to be a Protestant, but none I hope, for believing that I have lost any of my former interest in them, or that their welfare here or hereafter is less dear to me than ever it was. My sympathies with my fellow-men, which, perhaps, are livelier and deeper than some suppose, have been quickened and expanded, not deadened and contracted, by my conversion to Catholicity. I have said nothing in the following pages in wrath; I have spoken only in love.

"Placing this volume, though all unworthy, with devout gratitude and tender love, under the protection of our Blessed Lady, as I do myself and all my interests, I send it forth to the public, hoping that it may contain a fit word fitly spoken for some earnest mind struggling to emancipate itself from error, and to burst into 'the glorious liberty of the children of God.'

SUPERB NEW EDITIONS OF THE HOLY BIBLE.

From the Versions of Douay and Rheims, translated from the Latin Vulgate, and diligently compared with the Hebrew, Greek, and other editions in various languages. Published with the Approbation of the Most Rev. JOHN HUGHES, D. D., Archbishop of New York.

The Old Testament was first published by the English college at Douay, A. D. 1609; and the New Testament by the English college at Rheims, A. D. 1582. The paper is excellent, the type is large and beautiful, and it is the only new copy of the sacred volume published in this country. The proof sheets of this work have been read several times with the greatest care, and we are happy to inform those interested that a single error has not been detected, either by the Rev. clergy or editors who have examined the work. It is not necessary to enter into detail; suffice it to say, that this edition has the Table of References, Annotations, Historical and Chronological Indexes of the Old and New Testament, Table of Controversial References, comprising the scriptural texts applicable to all the principal controverted points, Table of Epistles and Gospels for all the Sundays and holydays throughout the year, and all the other tables usually contained in the sacred volume. The ILLUSTRATIONS, Twenty-six in number, several of which have been executed in London, are superior to any thing of the kind executed in this country. It has four Family Records, executed expressly for this work; and as regards the "getting up" of the work, it cannot be surpassed. In order to make this edition more valuable, it has appended to it Ward's Errata, revised and corrected from the last London Edition, to which are added the celebrated Preface by the Rev. Doctor Lingard, in answer to Ryan's Analysis; and a Vindication by the Right Rev. Dr. Milner in answer to Grier's Reply. This is very valuable to Protestants as well as Catholics, and to all those who wish carefully to examine and compare the Catholic and Protestant editions of the Bible."

Printed on the finest paper, with rules, and bound in Turkey, super extra, with rich ornamental gilding, and emblematical designs expressly executed for this work, also treble gilt clasps, morocco joints and corresponding panels, beautifully embellished after the antique style, altogether a most gorgeous Book, and well suited for a Marriage, Christmas, or Family present.

It also possesses these two advantages over all other Bibles published in the United States: first, that the print is considerably larger, and secondly, that the binding is more durable. Pope and Maguire's Discussion.

Perhaps no discussion ever excited so much attention as this. Rev. Mr. Pope was an itinerant controversialist, who went about challenging the priests to come forth and defend the doctrines of their Church,—the Rev. Mr. Maguire accepted the challenge. Up to that time his name was scarcely known beyond the precincts of his parish, (which was situated in the mountains of Leitrim,) but after the discussion, "Father Maguire" became the most popular Priest in Ireland. Pope retired from the contest conscious of defeat, for he never challenged any more priests.

Doctrinal and Scriptural Catechism.

By the Rev. Pere Collot, Doctor of the Sorbonne. Translated from the French, by Mrs. J. Sadlier. For the use of the Brothers of the Christian Schools.

It is admirably adapted for adults requiring instruction as well as for children. The answers are all so condensed that they are easily committed to memory; and there is not a single point connected with religion, either of doctrine, discipline, or ceremonial, that is not fully explained.

An Elementary History of the United STATES. By JOHN G. SHEA.

16mo. Half Roan, 25 cents.

Many books of the kind are already before the public, not a few on the same topic as this. It was, however, thought that something might be done to avoid the faults of tone or matter in some and of manner in others.

According to the rule laid down in the best Continental works on Education, the answer is always given in full explicit terms, repeating and never supposing the question. In this way the child learns and retains in its memory complete sentences, comprising each a fact worthy of recollection, and not a detached date or name. In teaching, this should also be insisted upon, and when the class begins to compose, the advantage acquired by learning to speak complete sentences, will be evinced perhaps more strikingly than in any other way.

From the plan thus adopted this little book may be read continuously from first to last, omitting the questions, and will in this way serve as a primary reader.

The Prayers, Litanies, &c., &c., have been collated with the Latin originals, wherever such works were known to exist. The English version of the Psalms here given, has been constructed by a comparison of the authorized Douay text (to which in substance it adheres), with the several other versions which from time to time have been sanctioned for the purpose of devotions. New and Complete Missal,

IN LATIN AND ENGLISH, with all the New Offices and the Proper of Ireland, Scotland, and the Jesuits. With engravings, and printed throughout in red and black.

This volume is a marvel of typography, and supplies a desideratum which had long been felt, viz.—an edition of the Missal for the use of the laity, with every Office for the whole year in full, clearly arranged, printed in a distinct type, and in the smallest possible compass.—The volume is 6 inches by 3½ in size, one inch thick, and weighs only 16 ozs.; by post, 16 cents. Among other characteristics of this edition, for which see the preface, a new and useful arrangement has been adopted with regard to the Epistles and Gospels. Many of these, as is well known, are used for various Masses, and in other Missals have to be sought for in different parts of the book, often causing much trouble and confusion. In the present edition all the lessons are printed together in their proper order in the second part of the volume; so that where the reference to the Epistle and Gospel is given in the Mass for the day, the reader knows at once to turn for them to the end of the book. The whole body of Scripture contained in the Missal is thus also thrown together under one view, with a table showing the occasion on which each passage is used.

English morocco, gilt edges, $2 00.
English calf, antique edges, $2 50.
Morocco, extra, $3 00.
Beveled, flexible, red and black, $4 00.
With Clasps and Guards, $5 00.

The Way to Heaven.

A SELECT MANUAL OF PRAYERS for Daily Use, Compiled from approved Sources, with the Approbation of Most Rev. JOHN HUGHES, D. D., Archbishop of New York.

This Manual is intended as a companion to the more complete books of devotion already existing, and is compiled upon a plan which, it is hoped, will render it generally acceptable. Such a book as "The Golden Manual," or "Garden of the Soul," comprising forms of Devotions for every occasion, as well as instructions and explanations, is of course, an indispensable companion for the devout Catholic. But, besides this, most persons feel the want of a small compact Manual, containing a selection simply of such devotions as are most frequently required. This and the larger work together, will thus be found to supply all that is generally needed, for the purposes whether of public or private devotion. And each can be used according as circumstances suggest. This Manual, as well as its more complete companion, contains it will be seen, a large number of prayers to which indulgences are attached. Such are, for the sake of convenience, distinguished by an asterisk. A more convenient arrangement has been adopted for the Ordinary of the Holy Mass, Devotions at Mass, Mass for the Dead, and Vespers. New translations of the following Devotions, now published for the first time in English, are also inserted. Way of saying the Rosary with the Beads, four different ways are given. Visits to the Most Holy Sacrament, Mysteries of the Sacred Infancy, Dwellings in the Sacred Heart of Jesus, Seven Words of Jesus on the Cross, Little Rosary of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, Rosary of the Immaculate Conception, Rosary of the Seven Dolours of our Blessed Lady, Sorrows and Joys of St. Joseph, Devotions to St. Philip Neri, with a number of others.

We send this little book before the public, with the assurance that no expence has been spared to make it, with the exception of the Golden Manual, the most complete Manual published in this country.

WORKS ON IRELAND.

P. 50 cts.

THE

Ancient and Modern.

Taken from the most authentic records, and dedicated to the Irish Brigade, by the ABBE MACGEOGHEGAN. Translated from the French by PATRICK O'KELLY, ESQ., with four fine Steel Engravings. This important national history is printed in clear type, on fine paper, with marginal lines, and has been most favorably reviewed by the American and European Press.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Our citizens have now a most favorable opportunity of supplying themselves with the best History of Ireland extant. There are several works devoted to the subject, but some are corrupt, others bigoted, many incomplete and inaccurate. We may say of Keating, Leland, Plowden, Taylor, Moore, Smiles, &c., that their histories are defective or incomplete. Common consent seems to have fixed upon the work of the Abbé MacGeoghegan as the best. The author was chaplain of the illustrious 'Irish Brigade,' a patriotic son of Ireland, and an accomplished scholar of polished and unusual acquirements. He had the best opportunities and full leisure in the French capital for the formation of his history. It is considered a work most faithful and honest, accurate in detail, liberal, patriotic, and high-toned in sentiment, and more complete than any other History of Ireland that we possess."—Freeman's Journal.

The late lamented Thomas Davis, in an Essay on Irish History, speaks of this work as follows:—

"Well, as to this National History—L'Abbé MacGeoghegan published a history of Ireland in French, in 3 vols., quarto, dedicated to the Irish Brigade. Writing in France, he was free from English censorship—writing for 'The Brigade,' he avoided the impudence of Huguenot historians. The sneers of the Deist, Voltaire, and the lies of the Catholic Cambrensis, receive a sharp chastisement in his preface, and a full answer in his text. He was a man of the most varied acquirements, and an elegant writer. For the student of Irish History it is the best book in the world. He is graphic, easy, and Irish. He is not a bigot, but apparently a genuine Catholic. His information as to the number of troops and other facts of our Irish Battles, is superior to any other general Historian, and they who know it well need not blush, as most Irishmen must now, at their ignorance of Irish History."

The Rise and Fall of the Irish Nation.

THE RISE AND FALL OF THE IRISH NATION, by Sir JONAH BARRINGTON, one of his Majesty's counsel at law, judge of the high court of admiralty of Ireland, and member of the late Irish parliament for the cities of Tuam and Clogher. The work contains much valuable information and interesting matter never before published, sketches of the leading members of both sides who figured so conspicuously during that memorable epoch of Irish history. It also contains the red and black list, showing the bribery and corruption by which the Union was carried. The work is a handsome royal 12mo. volume of 472 pages, beautifully printed on fine paper, with portraits of the Author, Fitzgerald, Curran, Grattan, and other distinguished personages on both sides, in all 29 miniature portraits on Steel.

The above work is admitted by competent judges, to be one of the most beautiful productions of the day. It was sold in Dublin, when first published, at $10. Such is its intrinsic merits, that it has been admitted by the Superintendants of Public Schools, into the District School Libraries of the various States. No Irishman, who is desirous of becoming acquainted with that epoch of his country's history—the rise of the volunteers—the declaration of rights—and the debates connected with that tyrannous act, the Legislative Union; should fail to possess a copy of this admirable work.

Imitation Morocco, embossed, comb edges, full gilt back, $1.50.
Full muslin, embossed, gilt back, $1.
Sheep, lettered, $1.

"'The Rise and Fall of the Irish Nation,' is one of the most picturesque and eloquent books in the whole range of our language. Its sketches of political scenes and characters, are, without comparison, the most life-like we know. It is a treasure of a book; one we would not exchange for any ten National books we have."—American Celt.

Valentine McClutchy.

VALENTINE McCLUTCHY, the Irish Agent; the Chronicles of Castle Cumber; together with the Pious Aspirations, Permissions, and other Sanctified Privileges of Solomon McSlime, a Religious Attorney. By WILLIAM CARLETON.

In this work Mr. Carleton has depicted the wrongs and sufferings of his countrymen—their patience and forbearance under their sufferings. And in the character of Valentine McClutchy, he shows the villany practised by the agents of absentee landlords, upon those tenants who are so unfortunate as to hold lands from them.

And as a specimen of a religious Attorney, we would challenge creation to produce a more correct picture than that drawn by Carleton of Solomon McSlime. We venture to say that there is not an Irishman, who would read ten pages of the work, that would be without it for ten times the cost.—Full muslin, embossed, gilt back, 75 cents.

Half roan, embossed, 50 cents.

NEW YORK.

COPY OF A LETTER,

Accompanying a Gold Medal sent by the Holy Father,

TO EDWARD DUNIGAN & BROTHER.

Most worthy and respected Gentlemen:

Some books, which, as it appeared by your most courteous letter, you wished to offer to our most holy Lord Pope Pius IX., have been lately handed to him. This act on your part could not but please his Holiness, and the zeal you constantly show by the publication of works in defence and protection of the cause of the Catholic Religion, gives him great joy.

The Sovereign Pontiff, therefore, with great pleasure encourages you in your course by this letter, and returns you his thanks for the gift which you offer.

I am, moreover, ordered to transmit a gold medal, which the same benign Pontiff sends, impressed with his august effigy, and with it, as a pledge of his paternal and especial affection towards you, his Apostolic blessing, which, as an auspice of all heavenly good, he lovingly grants you with the most sincere affection of his heart.

I have only to profess my respects to you, Gentlemen, on whom I earnestly implore all that is saving and propitious from our Lord.

Gentlemen,

Your most humble and obedient Servant,

DOMINIC FIORAMONTI,

ARCHBISHOP OF QUEBEC.

"I return you thanks for your splendid edition of the Bible with Haydock's notes. I am happy to find that you have completed your arduous undertaking, and trust that a rapid sale will reward your noble enterprise.

"✠ Richard Vincent,

"The correctness of the edition of which yours is a reprint, and the value of the notes attached to it, are facts which need not now be proved, for they are well known to all who read the Holy Scriptures in English. The testimony of the Most Rev. Archbishop of New York, prefixed to your edition, furnishes sufficient evidence of the accuracy and faithfulness with which you have performed your part in its reproduction. If, however, you think that my approval may be of any benefit, you are free to make use of it.

"Yours respectfully,

"✠ John B. Fitzpatrick,
Bp. of Boston."

✠ "Anthony,
"Bishop of Chicago."

"The recommendation of the distinguished Bishop Hughes, and the little I have read of the notes, are more than sufficient to induce me to be a patron of your important and useful new edition of Haydock's Bible. I highly approve your bold and holy work. God will reward you.

"✠ Joseph Cretin,
"Bish. of St. Paul."

The Mission Book.

A Manual of Instruction and Prayer, adapted to preserve the Fruit of the Mission. Drawn chiefly from the Works of St. Alphonsus Liguori, published under the direction of the Fathers of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer.

Besides being a manual to revive and renew the good effects of the mission, this Prayer-book contains all the necessary and general devotions; namely, Morning and Night Prayers, Prayers for Mass, Vespers, and Benediction, and an excellent preparation for Confession and Communion. It embraces, too, all the particular devotions in most common use among Catholics, and other very useful and animating devotions, such as the Visits to the Most Blessed Sacrament of the Altar, and to the Blessed Virgin Mary. Besides these it contains wholesome reflections for daily or frequent meditation, which will prove a powerful means to maintain all in the fear of mortal sin, the desire of a holy life, and the practice of every virtue. Compiled by such practical directors, the work must needs be suited to the time and country, and as it is drawn mainly from the writings of St. Alphonsus Liguori, it is useless to say that it is replete with unction and tender piety.

Lyra Catholica,

The most comprehensive and elegant Catholic Hymn-book printed in the English language.

This unique work is the only collection of Catholic Hymns and Devotional Poetry in the English language. It is not only a work of devotion, but one for general perusal. It comprises all the hymns of the Roman Breviary, all the hymns and sequences of the Missal, with a selection from the Breviary of Paris and Cluny, and from the Italian "Raccolta." Of these pieces, every one is newly translated by Mr. Caswell, and probably more than half of them appear in English for the first time, from his hand. Altogether, his version combines, in a very high degree, elegance, vigor, and poetical fire of thought and diction, with the still more important requisites of fidelity to the lofty religious spirit of his originals, and a most exact transfusion of their Catholic faith, fervent piety, and doctrinal integrity, and is a most valuable addition to our devotional literature.

The second part comprises a selection of Hymns and Anthems, for particular occasions of devotion, from various approved sources, viz: Archbishop Hughes, Faber, Pise, and others of the highest genius.

The third part is devoted to sacred poetry, of a less strictly devotional cast, from the compositions of writers of the most unquestioned Catholicity, genuine piety and pure morality.

NOTICES.

It is, above all, fully and fearlessly Catholic in its spirit, in its tone, in its imagery, and in its language. And, in addition to these negative, but very important excellencies, its positive merits, in a literary point of view, are of the very highest order.—Dublin Review.

As a composition, it is one of the most perfect specimens of translation in the English language, and so excellently adapted to devotional purposes.—London Tablet.

III.—CATECHETICAL WORKS.

PUBLISHED UNDER THE APPROBATION OF

THE MOST REV. JOHN HUGHES, D. D.,

ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

The Doctrinal Catechism.

Being a new and enlarged edition of Scheffmacher's Controversial Catechism,

By the Rev. Stephen Keenan.

No controversial work is more popular in Europe, than Scheffmacher's Catechism, the master-piece of the celebrated Jesuit. A translation was much needed, but in adapting it to English readers, the Rev. Mr. Keenan has made such improvements and additions, in order to suit it to our times, that it may justly be considered a new work. In the present shape it is invaluable. It discusses every point.

Being in the form of question and answer, the best ever discovered for conveying instruction, solving objections, and expounding truths, it is peculiarly adapted for general circulation.

NOTICES.

It is well calculated for giving the inquirer an insight into the tenets and practices of the true Church.—U. S. Catholic Magazine.

It is an epitome of Controversy, in which the various controverted points are examined with great learning and judgment. It bears the impress of deep research, and shows how much the author has mastered the subject which he handles.—London Tablet.

The Controversial Catechism is a masterly instance of special pleading, and is admirably fitted both to strengthen the attachment of Catholics to their own creed, and to bring over to that mode of thinking no inconsiderable number of those who, calling themselves Protestants, are yet but partially informed as to the reason of their hope.—Macphail's Ecclesiastical Magazine.

The Poor Man's Catechism; Or, the Christian Doctrine Explained, with short Admonitions.

By the Rev. John A. Mannock, O. S. B.

No commendation is needed of this well-known and highly approved Catechism. The multiplied editions of it wherever English is spoken, are a sure index of its worth. As is well known, it is not merely a Catechism, but a book of excellent instructions and exhortations on the various points.

Price—Paper, 19 cents.
" Cloth, 37 "

Notices.

"The Poor Man's Catechism is a standing monument of Mannock's skill and ability. It is one of the best works in our Catholic library."—Dublin Review.

"The Poor Man's Catechism stamps Mannock's name with immortality. Few works are more read and very few have done so much sterling good."—Dolman's Magazine.

"It is written in a simple and familiar style, well suited to the capacities of those for whom it is especially intended; but containing at the same time a fund of instruction which even the most intelligent might apply with advantage."—Memoir of Father Mannock.

"This work was called the Poor Man's Catechism, we presume, because the author intended it principally for the less educated portion of society, and for this reason conveyed his instruction in an easy and familiar style. But this feature of the book does not prevent its being equally adapted to all classes of persons, as an excellent exposition of the Catholic faith."—U. S. Catholic Magazine.

"An excellent book, fit for rich men as well as poor. It is, however, we observe, very suitable for those who cannot afford many books, as it contains a great deal of instruction in a very little space and with a surprising simplicity of language."—Leader.

THE EIGHTH EDITION OF

Kirwin Unmasked.

A Review of Kirwin, in Six Letters.

Addressed to the Rev. Nicholas Murray, D. D., of Elizabethtown,

By the Most Rev. John Hughes, D. D.,

ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

These letters appeared originally in the New York Freeman's Journal, and are now republished in book form.

They are marked by all the clearness of language, felicity of illustration, and closeness of logic, which invariably characterize the productions of the distinguished author, and possess the additional merit of treating the subject in the most easy and familiar style. It is admirably adapted for circulation among all who lack either the time or inclination for reading more extensive volumes.

Price—6¼ cents, or 50 cents per dozen.

NOTICES.

In these letters the Rev. Nicholas Murray is exhibited to the public in a very unenviable light, and is lashed with the power and sarcasm which he well deserves.—United States Catholic Magazine.

It is probable that Mr. Murray designed to get into a religious controversy with Bishop Hughes, and from being thus made the champion of his own portion of Protestants, to elevate himself by the controversy. The American Bossuet had already annihilated the best champions of the Protestant cause, and could not well stoop to argument on religious matters with one such as these valuable letters show Mr. Murray to have been.—Truth Teller.

Brooksiana; or, the Controversy between Senator Brooks and Archbishop Hughes, Growing out of the recently enacted Church Property Bill, with an introduction by the Most Rev. Archbishop of New York.

Notices.

"The controversy growing out of the Church Property Bill in this State possesses more than a transitory interest. * * * * Let no one imagine that this a war against Archbishop Hughes; it is a crusade against theCatholic Church."—Citizen.

"The right of every citizen to possess his own property to the full, that is with the right of alienation to any other citizen, and for any purpose—the right of religious communities to regulate their own organization and to hold property honestly obtained for religious purposes—the usurpation of the State in confiscating to itself and giving it to corporations—the spirit of this legislation, aggressive against a single sect and too cowardly to name it—the permanence of written consitutions were all involved in the question."—*Albany Eve. Eucharistica; or, A Series of Pieces,

Original and Translated, on the Most Holy and Adorable Sacrament of the Eucharist.

By the Most Rev. Wm. Walsh, D. D.

The Blessed Sacrament, the keystone of Catholic faith and worship, is no less the source of true piety. A Eucharistic Manual, whence we may from day to day draw new motives of fervor, cannot but be most acceptable, when we reflect that the Visits of St. Liguori is almost the only one accessible to English readers.

The name of the Metropolitan of Halifax is such a guarantee of the present work, that no encomium is needed.

It is both doctrinal and devotional, and contains many articles of exceeding value. Here in a small compass the Catholic will find treatises on the Real Presence, the Adoration of the Eucharist, the Mass, the Altar, the Sacred Heart, Corpus Christi and its procession. In addition to this, we have Bourdaloue's Instruction on Communion, and Bossuet's Instructions for First Communion, with a Memorial to preserve its fruits; and besides all this, devotions and pious readings for the time of approaching the Holy Sacrament.

In this excellent selection of devotions are the Eucharistic Week, the Rosary of the Blessed Sacrament, Prayers for Mass, the Litany, Psalms and Hymns adapted to those happy moments, or to times devoted to the honor of the Sacrament.

Price—One vol., neat cloth, 63 cents.

The Practice of Christian and Religious Perfection.

By Alphonsus Rodriguez,

OF THE SOCIETY OF JESUS.

This invaluable work, the treasure of Seminaries, and religious houses of every order, so justly styled the "daily bread" of the novice in the ways of perfection, is not less valuable for every Christian family. It is written with a knowledge of the heart, an unction and power rarely equalled. The Saints of the later centuries have been lavish of praises on the work of Rodriguez. St. Francis de Sales and St. Alphonsus Liguori, those consummate masters of the Spiritual life, are alone sufficient to stamp it with the seal of worth. 3 volumes, 8vo.

Price—$2 50.

NOTICES.

The present edition, the only one now published in this country or in England, is by far more accurate and convenient in form than any which preceded it.—Dublin Tablet.

There is nothing to compare with it in its kind in the English language. This complete edition, brought out by Dunigan & Brother, is in their usual style of excellent typography, and deserves the wide circulation we expect it to receive.—Freeman's Journal.

In its present cheap and convenient form, it will be hailed as a valuable accession to an increasing stock of Catholic works published here.—Truth Teller.

These volumes are not only most creditable to the publishers, for their elegant and convenient shape, but are indispensable in a Christian library.—Western Tablet.

Life of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of God:

Taken from the Traditions of the East, the Manners of the Israelites, and the Writings of the Holy Fathers. From the French of M. L'Abbe Orsini,

By the Rev. Patrick Power, D. D.

This translation from the French of the Abbe Orsini, who collected his facts from traditions of the East, the manners of the Israelites, and the Writings of the Holy Fathers, is written in a peculiarly graceful and felicitous style. The most prominent events in the life of the Blessed Virgin; her seclusion in the gorgeous temple of Solomon; her laborious life in the picturesque village of Nazareth; her sufferings on Calvary; her wanderings with St. John, and death at Ephesus, are brought before the mind with more than the vividness of painting. 16mo.

History of the Life and Institute of St. Ignatius Loyola,

FOUNDER OF THE SOCIETY OF JESUS.

Translated from the Italian of Bartoli,

By Madame Calderon de la Barca,

Price—English cloth, . . . $2 25

The works of Bartoli have long been esteemed as classics in Italy, for the beauty of their style and the genius of the author. His Life of St. Ignatius is not a mere biography of the Saint: it is a full history of his order, in its foundation, rise, spirit, and progress. It is, therefore, an historical work of rare value, presenting to Catholic readers, we may say, the only accessible account of the rise and institute of the Society of Jesus. The translator is one well known to the American public, no less for her literary talents, than for her many amiable qualities.

Notices of the Press.

"An excellent version of this narrative of the life of the energetic founder of the Society of Jesus."—Literary Gazette.

"The history of Ignatius and his wonderful order is told with great simplicity and eloquence in these volumes."—Daily News.

"At the present moment, when the evils and the danger of Jesuitism are so loudly descanted upon by a certain faction of our free and enlightened fellow-citizens, would it not be well to fall back upon first principles and study in these volumes the purport, the significance, and power of the Society which Ignatius organized?"—U. S. Review.

"Few writers of the Italian language have equalled Father Bartoli in classical purity and beauty of style. This biography of the founder of the Society of Jesus charms and interests, while it edifies and instructs the reader."—Brownson's Review.

"The publication of this work fills a space which has been left too long unoccupied in the Catholic Literature of America."—Catholic Mirror.

By John Gilmary Shea,

Author of the "Discovery and Exploration of the Mississippi," &c. &c. 1 vol. small 8vo., 6 steel plates and 4 other illustrations.

No American Catholic work has received higher commendation than this exceedingly valuable history of the Catholic Missions; and the publishers, anxious to make it a standard work, have spared no expense to make it one of the handsomest books in the market.

Price—English cloth, . . $1 75

NOTICES.

"This most interesting and eloquently written volume, is a valuable contribution to our literature, and will be read with interest and gratitude by every Catholic in the United States, who can read our mother tongue."—Brownson's Review.

"It is not a barren list of tribes and missionaries; it is a work full of interest, pathos and edification. Now, fortunately, we have a household book, which will make the names of our early missionaries familiar to every Catholic family."—Metropolitan.

"This volume is one of the noblest and most praiseworthy contributions to Catholic literature that has appeared in our days in any language. There is no man so well fitted to be the historiographer of the Catholic Missions in America as John Gilmary Shea. . . . We say then, and wish it remembered and repeated, that this volume is one that every Catholic on the American Continent, who reads English ought to buy."—Freeman's Journal.

"This book is, in our humble judgment, the most valuable which has ever appeared from the American Catholic press."—American Celt.

THE MOST REV. JOHN HUGHES, D. D.,

ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

Home Library.

Thornberry Abbey; a Tale of the Times.

"Thornberry Abbey" is addressed especially to the most striking phase of modern religious controversy. High Church and Low, Puseyites and Evangelicals, and all the workings and results of the present remarkable movement, which divides and must destroy Anglican Protestantism, supply a subject of the utmost interest. The process by which the principal characters are conducted, some to the truth, others confirmed in error, is delineated with a force of style scarcely surpassed in any other similar work.

Price—Cloth, gilt back, . . 0 38

NOTICES.

"It is one of the best little works, treating important matters in a popular manner, we have recently met. It is written with fair artistic skill, the characters are well sustained, and the controversy is managed with adroitness, delicacy, and success."—Brownson's Quarterly Review.

"It is a beautiful and interesting Catholic story."—Freeman's Journal.

"The tale is well conceived, and written with those graces of style which must certainly be interesting to the reader—but what is far more valuable, is full of instruction."—Catholic Magazine.

"A beautifully printed little volume, containing a tale written with considerable force and power of description, and intending to set off the claims of the Roman Catholic Church to the pure succession, in opposition to those of the Church of England. The three parties, Romanist, Puseyite, and Low Church or Evangelical, are each represented; and the object seems to be to show that the Puseyites have gone so far as to be enemies with themselves, if they do not go the whole figure."—American Review, Oct., 1846.

Fashion is a Domestic Story, marked in a high degree by the auther's peculiar humor, pathos, and power of description.

Little Frank; or, A Painter's Progress: and What a Mother can Endure.

From the Flemish of HENDRIK CONSCIENCE. 1 vol. 18mo., profusely illustrated.

"Frank, or a Painter's Progress," the first of his Tales, is also one of his most interesting and effective. The story is simple and touching, and abounds in lessons of the domestic virtues. Has the merit of being the actual history of the early struggles of one of the first of living Belgian artists.

"What a Mother can Endure," is a shorter story, with a beautiful and striking moral, and contains passages of social suffering and patience hardly surpassed by any modern work of fiction.

NOTICE.

These charming Tales of Hendrik Conscience which are now for the first time presented to the American public, are deservedly famous all over Modern Europe. His Tales of Domestic Life have long enjoyed the same rank in Belgian Literature which those of Miss Edgeworth have among English readers, with this favorable difference, that his productions are distinctly Christian in their morality.

The Practical Spelling Book.

By Charles James Cannon.

This book is unhesitatingly offered as the best speller published, not only for fineness of paper and clearness of type, but for the admirable manner in which the lessons are graduated so as to overcome all the various difficulties. Teachers who have used it, agree that it renders the progress of the learner sure and rapid, while the beautiful maxims of St. Vincent of Paul, and St. Philip Neri, form admirable little reliefs from the monotony of spelling.

12mo. half bound, 168 pages. Price—12½ cents.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Mr. Cannon has produced the most systematic and excellent manual that we are acquainted with for teaching the rudiments of the English language. He begins with some explanatory remarks on the different sounds of the Vowels, Consonants, &c., and their value in various positions. He then proceeds to give lessons, commencing with the letters of the alphabet and extending to words of the greatest length; but the arrangement is such as to lead the pupil gradually step by step in the knowledge of Spelling and Reading—each particular sound of the Vowels and Consonants, together with the Diphthongs and Triphthongs, has a lesson for its illustration; and at the head of each lesson this sound is stated, in order to bring it more forcibly to the reader's attention. Another excellent feature is, that every page contains one or more instructive sentences, intended not only to serve as lessons in reading, but to instil virtuous impressions into the minds of youth.

We have not seen any elementary work which struck us as so admirably adapted to the purpose of giving children a thorough understanding of the nature and rules of language, as this PRACTICAL SPELLING BOOK; for truly practical it is. It does not attempt to follow the modern fashion of seeking "The Royal Road to Knowledge," but aims to give the child a thorough understanding of ideas, rather than merely to learn words by rote. We strongly commend it to the examination of teachers and those interested in the education of youth.—Rahway Advocate.

Lessons for Young Learners. Nos. 1 & 2.

To supply a want long felt and acknowledged—the want of School Books of a national character and a true Catholic Spirit—the subscribers have been urged to the present undertaking; and intend, under the above title, to publish a series of works designed for elementary instruction. Of this series, No. 1 and No. 2 are now ready; and in these it will be perceived that, while great pains have been taken to assist the learner in his attempts at mastering the rudiments of knowledge, the compiler, who is a Catholic gentleman of many years' experience in teaching, has endeavored to sow in the young mind the seeds of religion, which, it is hoped, will one day produce an abundant harvest of Christian virtues, without which all knowledge would be in vain.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

There was long a want seriously felt in the Catholic community in consequence of the difficulty, we may say impossibility, of placing in the hands of Catholic children any school-book in general use, entirely free from attacks on their religion and insults to their faith. The above books, containing reading and spelling lessons, are of an Educational Series intended to supply this want; and as parents must provide school-books for their children, it becomes a duty to give the preference to those especially provided for them; and in doing so nothing is lost, but much gained: for, apart from other considerations, and viewed only as school-books, these are inferior to none, and far superior to the majority now in use.—Pittsburg Catholic.

These two books of Lessons for Young Learners are not only admirably adapted for their purpose, as books of elementary instruction, by their good system, clear rules, and gradual progress from the easy to the difficult, but they are invaluable for their Catholic tendency—Prayers, Passages of Scripture, Portions of Bible History, narrated in a way to suit the capacity of children. Exquisite Hymns, Wood-cuts that combine good taste with piety, all conspire to impress strongly upon the young mind veneration for their religion.—Charleston Mercury.

We take pleasure in recommending them to the favorable attention of those who preside over schools and academies. The arrangement is of a very practical character, and thoroughly Catholic—precisely the book needed for the instruction of Catholic children, and to make elementary education truly Christian in character.—Catholic Mirror.

History of the Bible.

By the Right Rev. Dr. Challoner, D. D.

This work, like all Bishop Challoner's writings, is remarkable for clearness of style, vividness of expression, and that exactness of arrangement so admirably calculated to facilitate the instruction of youth, and which renders this the best History of the Bible for the use of schools extant. 18mo.

Outlines of History.

For the use of Schools and Academies.

By Pierce C. Grace, Esq.

This book has been selected and adopted by the Christian Brothers, as the most fit and useful history for the instruction of their pupils; and although compiled in America, has been republished and introduced into many of the Catholic Schools in England and Ireland, and the publishers are confident that it will be found superior to most of the books now in use; for while in simplicity of arrangement and conciseness of expression it is hardly inferior to any book of the kind in the English language, the Catholic spirit which pervades the whole prevents those contradictions between the facts stated, and the strange opinions they are made to support, so apparent in most of the histories intended for the use of Schools. 18mo.

A School History of the United States,

From the earliest period to the present time. By JOHN G. SHEA, "Author of the Discovery of the Mississippi," "History of the Catholic Missions," etc.

This new and Enlarged School History is a sequel to Mr. SHEA's Catechism of the History of the United States, and will form an excellent reading book for Catholic Schools, while the questions at the bottom of each page fit it admirably for a Class-book.

From his known merits as a historian, and his experience as a teacher, the publishers confidently offer it, not only as the cheapest, but also as the best and most reliable History of the United States in the market. 1 vol. 12mo. 288 pages. Price—31 cents.

Approbations.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE, Sept. 2, 1855.

"Your School History is another proof that you will not confine yourself to a barren criticism on the dearth of Catholic literature; but that you will do a manly part in remedying the evil by your fruitful pen. Your history will be introduced into the College, and will have, we trust, the influence the good desire for studious youth.

Yours truly,

CHAS. H. STONESTREET, S. J.,
(Provincial of the Jesuits of Maryland.)

MOUNT ST. VINCENT, Sept., 1855.

SISTER WM. ANNA, (Superior.)

QUEBEC, Sept. 2, 1855.

"Your History of the United States will be of great use not only among you, but also in Canada for our Catholic Schools. It is a work that deserves encouragement, and I am sure that it will have a great circulation among us. It has the advantage of being short and concise, while at the same time it gives extensive historical information as to North America, not to be found in many larger works treating of the same subject. Truth is there, and that is the greatest merit in an historical work.

J. B. FERLAND,
(Université Laval, Quebec.)

"I thank you for your little History of the United States. It is a charming book. I like much all I have read of it; if it cannot become a class-book here, it will be an excellent reading book."

Approbations of Shea's School History of the United States.

As a whole, I regard your School History of the United States as an excellent compilation, and one which, with a little revision, will be well adapted to our schools. You certainly deserve credit for your effort to get up suitable school books. I hope you may meet with proper encouragement.
